Appraisal to settle fate of village parcel

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Tempers began to flare at the Antioch Village Board meeting as the members attempted to find the best way to value a small 20-foot-wide piece of property on Zelinger Lane. The promises of a prior village administration increased the board's difficulty.

The property is adjacent to other property owned by the village. Initially, the board had intended to post a legal notice to accept bids for the small parcel.

"I don't think this is an appropriate way to sell this property," said Trustee Don Amundsen. "We are talking about giving property away to one individual."

At this time, the small lot has a paved driveway on it, built by the adjoining land owner. Permission to place the driveway on village property was granted by a previous village board on May 11, 1973. Prior to that time, a plan to extend Zelinger Road had been considered.

To complicate matters more, the adjacent property owners have told village officials there had been promises made to them by a previous administration that they would be able to purchase the property. However, the sale never took place. Now, the homeowners are having difficulties selling their property.

"There was no prior promise by the administration," Amundsen told the board. "God help us," Amundsen said, if the village was required to "make See PARCEL page A10

Schools weigh appeal vs. letting voters decide

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Millburn School District 24 Board of Education members are weighing costs of an appeal of the decision to put the Lake Villa unit school district on the ballot.

"This is the biggest decision any school board will have to face," Millburn Board Member Robert Bard said.

The board members are pondering an appeal to the circuit court of a ruling by Illinois State Superintendent of Schools Joseph Spagnolo which would allow the unit district question on the April ballot. The schools have 35 days to file an appeal.

At this time it is not known if Antioch's District 34 or Antioch Community High School would join in an appeal of the decision. See VOTERS page A10

Halloween to be held on Halloween; it's official

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Village Board, in a lengthy discussion regarding the Antioch "official" trick-or-treat hours, has approved Oct. 31. The vote was unanimous; Halloween will be on Halloween.

"I'd like to see it on Halloween," said Trustee Dorothy Larson, "because it is tradition."

The board considered making the official haunting hours on Sunday, instead of the traditional Oct. 31 so that more people could be home. However, trustees were concerned that young people would be "dressing-up" on Monday for school parties and would go out for their treats regardless of what the board decided.

"They will be out anyway, no matter what we say," said Trustee Don Amundsen rather fatalistically.

"I would have recommended Sunday," said Trustee Mabel Lou Weber, "but if the schools are going to have their pageants and the kids will be dressed up."

And so, this year, Halloween will be on Halloween.

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School, after a six-day count, has 1,798 students registered this year. This is 40 students less than the predicted 1,838.

Last year's August count was 1,781, which then dropped to 1,728 by November 1993. According to the Citizens' Advisory Council Report, the capacity of the school is approximately 1,600 students and the capacity is decreased as students increase the number of courses they take.

Enrollment estimates are made from information taken from the feeder schools. Feeder schools for ACHS include Emmons School, Grass Lake School, Antioch Upper Grade School, Millburn School, and Lake Villa Intermediate School.

School district officials make many decisions based on enrollment estimates including the amount of supplies to order, the number of teachers on staff, class scheduling, and even tax increase referendums.

In the 1995-96 school year,

ACHS is expecting the student body to rise to 1,916. For '96-'97 that number is estimated to be 1,877 and in '97-'98 it is expected to reach 1,996. Approximately 2,032 students are estimated for school year 1998-1999.

However, these numbers are expected to be even higher if Abbott Laboratories begins to build at the Routes 173 and 45 location within 10 years. "If Abbott builds before these dates," said Business Manager Bill Ahlers, "these numbers are wrong."

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School students have once again scored over both the state and national average on the ACT Assessment. The test is offered several times a year and used both as a measurement tool for high schools and an admission requirement to many colleges.

The test is comprised of four parts: English, mathematics, reading, and science reasoning. The analysis of the scores are broken into two segments. One category includes students who have completed the recommended college preparatory course or core students. The other segment includes students not in the college preparatory program or noncore students. The average score of both groups for ACHS students this year is 21.7, up from 20.3. The state average is 21.1.

This year 218 ACHS graduates took the test, which is an increase of eight students over last year. While the test is designed for students completing college preparatory classes, 113 of the 218 taking the test this year did not enroll in the preparatory program.

Core students had a decrease in both their English and scientific reasoning scores. The average score for core students dipped .4 points in English and .2 in scientific reasoning. Neither drops are significant.

On the other hand, non core students enjoyed across-the-board increases. The highest increase in scores over last year was 1 full point in the reading and scientific reasoning portion of the test. Non core students also enjoyed a .8 increase in mathematics and .6 increase in English.

Waterway moving sandbar

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

An underwater sandbar island on the Fox River near the town of Island Lake is moving west.

Fox Waterway Agency officials are becoming concerned with the gravel/sand island which is nearly smack-dab in the center of the river, under Rte. 176 known as "Burton's Bridge."

During the boating season, buoys from both the State and the Agency are set up in the water, warning boaters to go around the dangerous site.

Karen Kabbes, executive director of the Agency said boats can easily get stuck in the sandbar which causes a jarring halt to travels.

The Agency discussed hiring a contractor to remove the island, but the cost was estimated at $200,000.

The Agency is looking at using their hydraulic dredge to excavate the sandbar. Permits from the State will be needed, explained Kabbes.

Buoys from the Agency are still up at the site, but won't be for long, said Kabbes. As soon as the boating season comes to a halt, the buoys will be pulled.

McCameron to lead Park Department

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Interim parks director Cheryl McCameron (formerly Becker) has been named as the permanent director of the Antioch Parks Department. McCameron re-placed Carol Todd when Todd left the position to return to school full time.

"I am very excited," said McCameron. "I applied for the job three years ago when Carol got it. It is something I have been waiting for a long time."

McCameron has a bachelor's degree in Recreation and Park Administration from Illinois State University. Before acting as interim director, she taught eighth grade at Immaculate Conception School, substituted for CCD teachers at St. Peter School, coached girls basketball, and worked in a summer camp for children from disadvantaged homes.

A lifelong resident of Antioch,

McCameron is very familiar with the parks of Antioch. The duties of the park director include acting as a liaison between the Park Board and the Antioch Village Board.

McCameron will also be preparing the Village of Antioch newsletter, which includes a community calendar along with information about town events. Of course, her duties also include supervision of park programs.

This year, several new programs have been added. Aikido, a Japanese martial arts discipline program, is available for residents 14 years and over. For younger residents, the Young Rembrandts Program has been added. It features creative drawing for the 3 and older crowd. Also new this year are line and ballroom dancing.

McCameron's permanent position was approved by the Parks Board Aug. 17.

Negotiations continue for Sun Lake ballfields

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Lake Villa Village Board is continuing negotiations with the Lake County Forest Preserve for baseball fields at the Sun Lake Forest Preserve.

At the last committee meeting, the board was finalizing revisions for Village Attorney John Mullen to present to the full board of the Forest Preserve. A main concern is the length of time the village could lease the site from the Forest Preserve.

Trustees agreed to ask for a 20-year lease with an option for another 20 years.

The site is located on Grass Lake Road between Deep Lake Road and Rte. 83. The field site would be on 15-acre parcel.

According to Steve Messerli, executive director of the Forest Preserve, the village needs to provide answers for concerns such as sewer, maintenance and time period of the lease. He also has said some members of the Forest Preserve question if active recreational fields should be a permitted use in a Forest Preserve.

A 1991 agreement, which allowed the Forest Preserve to take possession of the site, called for a place designated for playing fields. Since then Lake Villa Township Baseball officials were spinning their wheels until the Lake Villa Village Board agreed to take over negotiations and sign with the Forest Preserve.

Lake Villa Township Baseball League has more than 650 players, most of them from the township. Some players are coming from Antioch, Grant and Warren Townships as well.

"We feel they liked the concept," Mayor Frank Loffredo said of Forest Preserve officials. Some questions by the finance committee have to be addressed."

Mullen will give Lake Villa's draft of an intergovernmental agreement to the Forest Preserve attorney for review and possible changes.

There hasn't been a meeting scheduled with the full Forest Preserve Board.

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The delay in the Lake Villa unit school district vote, which will not be on the ballot until April, leaves Antioch Community High School in a difficult place. The school board of ACHS has yet to receive any definite information regarding financial impact of a yes vote by residents of the unit school.

While it is known that if voters approve the new district for Lake Villa residents, assets from affected districts will need to be divided, it is ultimately up to Regional Superintendent Ed Gonwa how the division will take place. School board members of ACHS have been unsuccessful in obtaining information regarding how the division will impact the school.

Board Member Phillip Delaney explained to other board members he tried to get information from the state but was told it was not available. The lack of information also makes the high school's search for a new superintendent more difficult. Without vital financial information, it is harder to find a superintendent because school officials do not know what kind of school district the high school will be.

"If there is a secret formula, it truly is a secret formula," Delaney said of the division of assets calculations.

"Gonwa will make agreements that are fair and equitable," said Board Member Joanne Osmond, who is also on the Committee of Ten, which is the group organizing the unit school movement. "The groups will need to work together. The final decisions will be Ed Gonwa's."

Osmond's position on both the Committee of Ten and the ACHS Board of Education is also causing concern amongst the board. Board President Laurel Dahl told the board parents are making comments regarding Osmond's dual roles. She said she had received some comments suggesting a conflict of interest and confronted Osmond directly.

"What side of the table are you going to be on?" Osmond was asked by Dahl. Osmond reassured the board she was on the side of ACHS. She also told Dahl she felt her position on the board was vital for the representation of students from Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

Board members were upset that the unit school question was delayed until April. Osmond assured the board the Committee of Ten followed guideline instructions to the letter and that they had been given incorrect information. She told the board the delay was through no fault of the committee.

"We were given guidelines, which we followed," explained Osmond. "The state gave us incorrect information. There is nothing that we can do."

According to Osmond, the problem was with the Lake County Board of Elections. She told the school board that the committee had spent hours with election officials in an attempt to waive filing requirements for potential unit school board members. The committee and election officials were unable to reach a compromise.

Despite the upcoming issue, the ACHS School Board felt it would be impossible to delay any of their decisions until the unit school vote took place. "We are getting down to it," said Dahl. "The school has to go forward. We cannot continue to wait."

And so, the board will continue its search for a new superintendent and has decided to put another referendum on the ballot this November. At this time, it is hard to gauge how the education referendum question will be dealt with by voters.

Many Antioch residents are still reeling from the increased assessments that were mailed out in August. A petition drive is underway to challenge these numbers. Voters negatively affected by the rise in assessments may reject a tax increase fearing a substantial increase in taxes as a result of the assessments alone.

Also, it is unknown how Lake Villa and Lindenhurst residents will react to the referendum. While normally, these areas have been staunch supporters of past referendums, the upcoming unit school question may cause them to reject a referendum at this time. Another problem may be voter confusion between the two issues.

Last November, when the unit school was first discussed, some voters became confused when only an education referendum appeared on the ballot. Now that the State Superintendent has approved the issue to be taken to the voters, it is reasonable to expect additional confusion.

BRIEFS

Gang awareness

Sergeant Andy Jones, a six-year veteran of the Lindenhurst Police Department will make a presentation on gang awareness and prevention at the general membership meeting of the Sequoit Pride, Monday, Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at Antioch Community High School in the Commons. All interested community members, adults as well as adolescents, are invited to attend. Admission is free, refreshments will be served, and entertainment will be provided by the Antioch Community High School Choir. Opportunity will be provided to join Sequoit Pride.

Enrichment program

Applications have been sent home to parents of students at St. Peter School for their free enrichment program. This program, sponsored by the St. Peter Family Association has a calendar full of interesting projects. The program will be held on Wednesdays, after school. Parents will need to make arrangements to pick up their children after the program because there will not be a bus.

ACHS Board meeting

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education will meet on Thursday, Sept. 15. The meeting will be held in the school's board room and begins at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

St. Peter's School Board

The St. Peter's School Board meeting will be held Thursday, Sept. 8 at 7:30 in the Family Room. Parents are invited to attend.

Hearing and vision testing

Students at St. Peter School will be under going hearing and vision testing on Sept. 22. Progress notices will also be sent home on that date.

Police Beat

LAKE VILLA

Caught with marijuana

A 15-year-old youth from Allendale was arrested, on Sept. 1, for possession of marijuana. A teacher saw him hiding the drugs under his pocket. Police took what appeared to be marijuana and arrested him.

Sleeping suspects caught

Alfred Lambert, 57, and Catherine Falls, 60, no addresses, on Aug. 31, were arrested for theft warrants. Someone called from Lakeview Terrace Apartments when he saw two strange people sleeping in the parking lot. Police found they had warrants and transported them to Lake County Jail.

LINDENHURST

Cyclist injured and arrested

David Stratenmeyer, 33, Lake Villa, on Sept. 1, was arrested for reckless driving, driving with a suspended license and driving without a motorcycle license. The officer was dispatched to Grass Lake Road near the McDonald Woods Forest Preserve for an accident. The officer saw Stratenmeyer with facial injuries. Witnesses said he passed another car at a high rate of speed and lost control of the motorcycle and put it in the ditch.

Man uncooperative with police

Christopher Winckel, 20, 575 Dunham, Gurnee, on Sept. 4, was arrested for resisting arrest and public intoxication. The officer had talked with Winckel earlier in the day. At night he saw Winckel in the Linden Plaza parking lot and Winckel reportedly said he drank a 12-pack of beer. While the officer was giving him a ride to the pay phone Winckel reportedly became verbally abusive. The officer took him to the police department where Winckel tried to run away from the officer who restrained him.

Caught drinking and driving

Frank Swan, 31, 19 Matts Road, Fox Lake, on Aug. 31, was arrested for driving under the influence, driving with a suspended license and open transportation of alcohol. Swan was stopped after the officer saw him driving erratically on Rte. 132 near Munn Road. The officer saw an open can of beer in the car. Swan refused to take a breath test.

FOX LAKE

Theft of tire cover

Police reported on Sept. 3 an Antioch woman called and complained she was parked at the Ace Hardware parking lot on 10 E. Grand Ave. and when she returned to her vehicle, someone had stolen her canvas tire cover off the spare tire in the back. The Main St. resident owns a 1993 Chevrolet.

Lucky pilot causes stir at park

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

A very lucky pilot escaped, without injury, after an emergency landing of his homemade airplane in Chain O'Lakes State Park last week. James S. Hull, age 47, was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry by Spring Grove Emergency Services and released.

Hull, of McHenry, took off in his homemade single engine airplane from Westosha Airport in Willmot at 3:33 p.m. on Sept. 1. According to Department of Conservation Officer Rick Riedel, the plane's engine lost power when it reached 1,600 feet. "He then went to his glide speed and was unable to restart the engine," explained Riedel.

"He then prepared himself for an emergency landing in Chain O'Lakes State Park," said Riedel. "It was his best decision."

According to eye-witnesses, the plane flipped over during the emergency landing. The plane, while not equipped with a radio, did have an emergency transmitter. However, park and emergency personnel were on the scene immediately as a result of quick thinking witnesses.

Those first to the accident scene found Hull virtually uninjured, next to his overturned aircraft. Hull complained of back pain, and was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center for an examination.

"He was sitting," said Riedel of Hull. "He was conscious and alert."

According to Riedel, the plane was immediately removed from the park by FAA officials. They will be conducting an investigation of the incident. No significant damage was done to the park during the emergency landing, said Riedel.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Buying decisions limited

Editor:

Enter the new age workers buying fancy cars and luxury homes. America's demand side will hold up nicely. Scary, isn't it?

Now enter the for sale signs. As the retirees see real estate taxes rise, cat food on the shelf and with tears in their eyes, a decision to sell out has been made for them. A for sale sign goes up! The sign stays up, not due to a bad house, not due to a bad neighborhood or community, but due to real estate taxes being too high.

With taxes too high already and homes that can't sell due to too high real estate taxes, enter the seven school board members of Antioch's High School Dist. 117. These seven intellectual gurus make a snap decision, similar to a football quarterback's quick decisions.

On a vote of seven to zero, these gurus decide to put forth another education referendum to raise real estate taxes.

As you go to the polls this November, think about one thing. Some day you might want to sell your home, but who would buy it?

Special Day

On Sunday, Aug. 28, approximately twenty-five family members and friends gathered in the small banquet room at Hogan's Country Club Restaurant for a wedding shower for Carol Lasky. Her fiancé, John Greninger, was on hand to help Carol open and admire the many beautiful and useful gifts they received.

A delicious meal of chicken Wellington and all the trimmings was enjoyed by all. The following people were on hand to share this special day with Hanssen, Nancy Hanssen, Sophie Hanssen, Elaine Lasky, Melinda Sweeney, Gerri Henning, Annica Mikal, Lisa Reitmaier, Margaret Stein, Jeanette Yates, Chris Zalapi, Judy Cooper, Amy Greninger, Kari Greninger, Michelle Greninger, Irene Horvath, Irene McDunn, Liz Schmehl, Donna Hartigan and Barbara Lasky.

Even Petunia (Toonie) the cat was represented at the shower by sending along a beautiful crystal cat knic-knac for Carol and John. The happy couple will be united in marriage on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Special Good-bye

I get my material for this column anywhere and everywhere. I was recently watching Jay Leno. His 83-year-old dad had just died and he took about 15 minutes of show time to tell us about him. He obviously had a wonderful childhood under the love and guidance of this special Italian man. I was very moved by the eloquent way he bid farewell to his father in front of his large audience of viewers. I secretly thought and wondered if Jay ever expressed his love, gratitude and pride to his father before his death. Something tells me he did.

However, many of us have not and do not let our loved ones know how important and special they are to us. We just "assume" they know. My father, also a very special Italian man, will be dead twenty-three years this November. In the 30 years that he was my dad, I don't know that I ever told him I loved him. In all honesty I don't remember my dad verbally telling us that he loved us. However, we knew, I knew. We knew by all of his loving actions.

In looking back, I believe I was a good daughter and I would like to think that my actions also told him he was loved. Following Jay Leno's lead, and in memory of my dad's use to be September 15 birthday, just for the record, "I thank you for all you gave to me." In addition, I remind "all" of my loved ones how special and important they are to me and that I love them very much. Read on...

Continuing

As Jay Leno shared memories of his dad, he told of the first and last time he did something to make his father noticeably angry. The first time he pulled dad's wrong strings, Jay was only five years old.

This brought to mind a similar story involving my dad and I. Like Jay's dad, my father very rarely showed anger. He never spanked us and I don't even remember him raising his voice. When I was about four or five years old, I was playing in the living room when he came home from work. I had a little wood play table and chairs set up there in the corner. As he stood talking to my mother, he pulled one of the little chairs out and began to lower his frame onto it.

Suddenly it seemed like a great idea to pull the chair out from under him. To this day I do not know what possessed me to do such a thing. As his bottom got closer and closer to the chair, I scurried over and yanked it away. He landed on the floor with the loudest thump I ever heard. He looked at me and demanded "Why did you do that?" In my little child's voice I replied "I don't know" (I truly didn't). I may have been young, but something told me I was about to be killed by this gentle man I called daddy.

However, he never missed a beat and didn't even raise his voice when he said "Don't ever do that again. You could have hurt me," and I never did! Happy 94th birthday, daddy, wherever you are.

Fun summer

True to "my" rule, little seven-year-old Mandy Tomasello called me after seeing her name in my "Hometown Goodies" hello list. Mandy spent her summer playing, swimming in her pool, sunbathing on the pool deck and visiting with her good friend, Alyssa Anderson. She is very excited about being a big second grader because she really likes school and I might add, she is very smart.

She also thinks the school lunches are yummy with tacos and pizza being two of her favorite lunch choices. She also has fun playing with her silly dog "Sparky" who likes to jump up on their coffee table to get a better view of the household activities. Thanks for calling, Mandy. Please stop in one day at Camp Crayon to visit everyone and bring Alyssa with you.

The big one

Happy birthday to you, happy birthday to you, happy birthday dear Harry, happy birthday to you. I would like to extend a belated birthday wish to Harry Langenvis, who turned the big "50" on August 20. His delightful mother-in-law, Beulah "Buick" Raef, hosted a party in his honor, in her beautiful Antioch home.

About 30 family members and friends were on hand to help Harry celebrate in style. One of the highlights of the evening was the display of pictures throughout the house, showing Harry as a baby, a little boy, a teenager, etc. on through the years and to date. Congratulations, Harry, and many more happy and healthy years to come.

ACHS

The Third Annual Peddler's Alley Craft Show is once again being sponsored by the ACHS Student Assistance Program. The date of the show is Saturday, Oct. 8, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Spaces are 8 feet by 10 feet and prices are $35 with a table and $25 without. If you would like to display your wares at this well-attended craft show, call Robin at 395-6690 for an application and further information.

Did you buy your raffle ticket for the $225,000.00 home being raffled by ACHS Sequoit Pride? A maximum of 4,000 tickets will be sold. Tickets may be purchased from members of Sequoit Pride, all banks, and many local businesses in Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

All interested community members, adults, as well as youths, are invited to attend a Gang Awareness and Prevention Program at ACHS on Monday, Sept. 12, at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

Woman's club

Jean Droegkamp, President of the Antioch Woman's Club plans for a year of many activities. The Harvest Jubilee will be held at Maravella's on Friday, Nov. 18 and is sponsored by the Woman's Club and the Junior Woman's Club. The Literary Group will begin meeting on September 27 at 1 p.m. Also plans are underway for the possible formation of a bridge group.

More time

Thanks to Jim Beveridge, Superintendent of Grass Lake School, I recently read a short, approximately forty pages, book entitled "Prisoners of Time." It was a report from the National Education Commission on Time and Learning.

The pages contained much food for thought on the ways and means to improve our public schools as we know them today. In my opinion, this small book contained simple logic and common sense on how to improve the quality of education in our society.

The premise of the book was that due to many factors, schools are forced to offer more and more during the course of the school day and school year. Many things have changed the role schools play in our society. However, the one thing that has not changed is no additional time has been set aside to accomplish all of the tasks at hand.

In fact, as long ago as 1894, schools did not have the same demands on their time as they do today, not to mention the red tape. How can we expect our schools to properly educate our children, having to offer this, that, and the other thing, with not enough time to do so?

Perhaps the Antioch Library could secure a few copies or you can inquire at your local school, if they have some extra copies to share. In my opinion, reading this book was a definite eye opener and it offered a possible light at the end of the tunnel to make our modern schools all they can be.

Shop Antioch— The back to school battle

It's over. You've survived another year. Too soon to know if you've won the battle, or simply survived the war. Back to school—three words that may fill a mother's heart with dread, anticipation, and (yes, I'm going to say it) elation. Labor Day is behind us and the kids are back in the swing of things enjoying the three R's and acting like summer vacation never happened.

You can breathe easy now, but looking back over the past month... For the past month you've been struggling with the "getting ready for school" blues. Our children, who spent nine months of the school year waking up, dressing and breakfasting in time to catch the bus, spent the summer months blocking all thoughts pertaining to school from their minds. Wake up at 6 a.m.? Impossible. They don't remember ever having to do that before. Catch a bus at 7:15, in the morning! Unbelievable. Pure torture.

Three cheers to moms everywhere who managed, once again, to accomplish what seems to be an impossible task: School Supply Shopping. Yes, I mean you, all those people I saw standing in the school supply aisles clutching their supply list from school. If you didn't see the list in their hand you'd recognize them from the glazed look in their eye.

I had a list that suggested specific colors for two-pocket folders. A simple task you think? Wrong. This year the folder manufacturers of the world decided that the color orange was definitely out. Jewel tones and florescent were in. After visiting five shops, I had to give up on orange for an orange two-pocket folder, but that idea wasn't met with enthusiasm. (I'm sure someone reading this is smugly thinking, "I found an orange folder.") You were probably the mom who started the supply search early in August, unlike most of us who were scanning the bare shelves just days before school started.

Don't forget that desperate search you made for a six-pocket folder. Whaaaat? Is this a typo on the school list? What's a six-pocket folder? I must have said this out loud in one store, because immediately two ladies pounced on me and screamed, "Did you find it?" Sadly to say, my child had to start school without his six-pocket folder because none of the moms standing in the aisles that day were clever enough to know what it meant. (Tip of the Week: If you still don't know, I'll tell you. It's a six-pocket expandable file folder like you would use in a file drawer. At least, I think that's what it is.)

This year we completely skipped the week-long search for the perfect school lunch box. Each year previously we've spent days looking for the right lunch box that has enough compartments, freezer sections, and thermoses to suit NASA. We always end up with a great one (simply look for the most expensive), but then I spend nine months looking at it gathering dust on top of the refrigerator—my kids don't take cold lunches. So I was firm this year—no new lunch boxes—we have four at home with the price tags still on them.

If you have a child who started at Antioch Upper Grade this year, you've survived the gym uniform battle. Do you think children will ever realize that parents didn't make the rules of what is appropriate dress for gym class? The school spelled out, quite simply, in the supply list what the proper dress for gym is. If you asked, they gave names of two stores in town where you could find uniforms. But kids had choice of color: gray, green or gold. And they needed to have their names on each piece. Sound simple? Think again.

If your child is a normal child, that meant they had to try on each color to see which looked better. Having decided on the "best" color for them, they then needed to face the dilemma of what name to put on the uniform. "Name?" A simple last name would be great, but the kids didn't think that way. Maybe they should put their full name, or how about a nickname and their last name? When you finally gave up being the ideal mom and yelled, "just put your last name," you then faced a new problem—should you write it on with magic marker or have the letters heat pressed on? That little dilemma probably entailed several phone calls to your child's best friends to see what they were doing.

But now that's all behind you. You cheerfully wave goodbye to your child in the morning as the bus pulls away and, although it's Halloween costume for your child.

Senior Center keeps seniors active

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Senior Center has a number of vital programs and activities geared towards senior citizens. The Center is open to anyone 60 years young or over and all seniors are invited to drop in.

"They can use the center five days a week," said Dorothy Herman, a part-time senior aide. "We have a number of different programs and activities."

The Center is administered by Catholic Charities with the support of the United Way, federal funding, and fund-raising efforts. The building is owned and maintained by the Village of Antioch.

Nutritional services are provided by the Center. Hot lunch is served Monday through Friday at 11:45 a.m. for a suggested donation of $1.60. The Center has two part-time senior aides, and many of the programs are operated by senior volunteers.

Menu entrees include beef stew, fried chicken, turkey, roast pork and many other delicious treats. Each meal is nutritionally balanced and includes vegetables, fruit, and bread. Monthly menu's can be picked up at the Center.

For those seniors unable to get to the Center, there is also a Home Delivered Meals Program. Meals are delivered to eligible seniors at noon, five days a week by volunteers. For more information regarding the homebound program call 546-

Besides the nutritional programs, the Center has many other trips, programs, and activities. Health care professionals sometimes visit the center to provide seniors with important health information.

"We have had eye clinics and physical therapists come in," said Herman. "They offered free tests and information." Free blood pressure testing is held the last Monday of every month from 9 to 11 a.m. Flu shots are also offered during the year.

Bingo is held every Monday, beginning at 12:45 p.m. On Wednesday, line dancing is offered from 9 to 10 a.m. and activities all morning, and a sing-a-long at 10:30 a.m.

Various trips are featured from time to time. Contact Florence Fischer and Paul Howard for more information.

Card players will love the Center. Every week seniors can pick up a game of poker, bridge, as well as pinochle tournaments.

If you wish to become a member of the Center, a donation of $5 is requested. Members receive a monthly calendar and newsletter. While membership is encouraged, it is not required. "We use that money for so many things," said Herman.

The Antioch Senior Center is located at 817 Holbek Drive, right behind the Antioch Fire Department. It is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and parking is available. Coffee and toast are available for a small fee in the mornings.

Pine Hill Lakes development get additional extension

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The owner of Pine Hill Lakes development, NBD Bank, has received yet another extension to complete the public improvements at the site. The date has been extended to Oct. 3.

"The village has received a letter," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. He told the board that after a review of the ponds at the development, the work can proceed on the drain tiles and walking paths.

The work had been held up to determine whether extensive dredging would be necessary in the ponds. Drainage and walkway work could have been interrupted or destroyed if extensive work on the ponds had to be done.

"The conclusion is that the ponds are basically in good condition," said Oldenburger. He said that there was some siltation at the storm sewer outflows, but that this work is considered maintenance by the Army Corps of Engineers. "We've been assured by the Corps these matters are maintenance."

The work on the paths and drainage tiles have been held up for an long time. Apparently the development changed ownership, making it more difficult for village officials to oversee the work.

"We want them to do the work as soon as possible," said Mayor

Marilyn Shineflug when Village Attorney Ken Clark suggested a six-month extension. Village officials met with homeowners Tuesday to discuss the situation.

"There is no need for dredging," said Shineflug. "That issue (cleaning area near pipes) will not postpone the dates the other work can be done."

Parcel

good" on campaign promises.

However, Mayor Marilyn Shineflug felt quite differently. "I feel it is up to this board to stand behind what prior administrations have promised," she said. "Their driveway is already built. They are unable to sell their home. They were told it would be 'taken care of.'"

"I personally believe there were representations made," said Oldenburger. Amundsen, however, disagreed. "I don't think there were any valid representations made to those people," he said.

Amundsen was concerned that the only person to bid on the property will be the adjoining homeowner and that the bid would be too low. "We are talking about good sense and good business," Amundsen explained. "It is potentially part of our property. It is not an isolated piece."

The lot is a dedicated road that had never been built. Generally, when the village no longer wants a dedicated road, the property is split among other property owners.

In an effort to compromise, the board agreed to hire an appraiser to look at the property. The village-owned Oakwood Knolls lot will be valued as it stands and then to be valued with half of the lot in question, as though it was abandoned (without the blacktopping). In that way, the village should get a sense of what the property is worth and be able to judge bids.

According to ACHS's interim Superintendent Dr. Richard Kolze, "The board has not discussed (the issue)."

Antioch's District 34 Superintendent Daniel Burke anticipates the question will be on the agenda at his next school board meeting. When asked if the school will appeal, he said, "I can't answer that now. The school board meets on Sept. 20. It will be on the agenda."

Millburn board and audience members expressed several views in a wide-ranging, two-hour discussion Tuesday, but no action was taken. The board is expected to consider the pros and cons of an appeal or other options at the 7 p.m., Sept. 19, regular meeting.

"I have a concern of the cost of an appeal," Cindy Ross, Millburn board member, said. "I am trying desperately to save Millburn School."

Even if the board is rejected at the circuit court level, further appeals are possible, possibly to the Illinois State Supreme Court.

"It is up to the people to decide, right or wrong," Bard said.

At this time it is not known if Antioch's District 34 or Antioch Community High School will join in the appeal of the decision. According to ACHS's interim Superintendent Dr. Richard Kolze, "The board has not discussed (the issue)."

Antioch's District 34 Superintendent Daniel Burke anticipates the question will be on the agenda at his next school board meeting. When asked if the school will appeal, he said, "I can't answer that now. The school board meets on Sept. 20. It will be on the agenda."

Millburn Board member Malena Schroeder said the district should not "fear" putting the question to voters.

"It is clear to me you feel strongly about Millburn. That it is a school worth saving and demolishing it would not be a good thing. I hate to see you lose grasp of the reason you objected. There are options to what the Committee of 10 is seeking," Marie Lyons said.

Lyons said the school board should support the decision of Edward Gonwa, Lake County Regional Superintendent of Schools, against the unit district being put on the ballot.

"I would be offended if the board took action before letting the people vote," Paul Phillips of Lindenhurst said.

"The fear I have is it is a boundary change and it is unfair to people in areas that are not as populated. Not everyone has a fair chance. People in Lake Villa Township have a greater advantage in getting what they want," Ray Boller said.

School board and audience members expressed concern about "misinformation" in a campaign.

Steve Scott, a member of the Committee of Ten which organized the unit district effort, said a committee of board members from impacted school districts will work with Bill Thompson, former Lake County regional superintendent of schools, to divide Millburn's assets and provide accurate financial information. He said once the issue is on the ballot, the committee's work is essentially done.

"The board wants to be very credible to all the voters," Gene Gracey, board president, said.

Gracey said he is opposed to the court appeal.

"Voters will have a clear choice: a dual district or a unit district," Bard said.

A reason some board members are leery of an appeal is a referendum has been recommended by a planning committee. The group recommends an eight-classroom addition to accommodate growth.

"It is clear we will have to go to the public for a referendum at some time. We need to let the public sort through the issues of the unit school district. I am very pro-Millburn. I think we can make a strong case for Millburn," Gracey said.

Millburn has an enrollment of 425 students. If the school district is approved, only 50 students would be left, those living east of Route 45.

Grant golfers fall to Johnsburg

Turning in top scores for Johnsburg were T. J. Hurckes with a 40, Andy Skarbeck with a 41, Adam O'Sullivan with a 43 and Ryan Smith with a 44.

Grant's top four scores came from Rob Weger with a 41, Dave Martin with a 45, Ben Degner with a 46 and Nick Tripoli with a 47.

First-year Coach Mike Boyan said top two linkseters did not have top-form rounds.

"We're not going to beat a lot of teams when your scores are in the mid to upper 40s," Boyan said.

Grant's overall record fell to 1-2.

Grant faced Round Lake Thursday at Renwood Golf Course and will travel to Warren High's home course Friday.

Antioch kickers net 19 goals to take 1st tourney

Sequoit soccer opened the season with a bang, winning their first three games and capturing the Maine East Tournament.

Antioch opened the tournament with a 5-4 victory over Oak Park and then shutout Francis Parker 8-0 and Maine East 6-0 in the tournament finale.

"This year, everybody seems to know where each other is at on the field and where to go with the ball," said Coach Brad Wilson.

Scoring for Antioch in the Francis Parker contest was Brian Weeks (2), Jim Gosciniaik (2), Mike Miclea, Jeremy Schulz, John Zora and Kevin Erickson.

In the tournament title match against Maine East, Joe Earl scored twice and had three assists. Schulz, Zora, Dan Wright and Mike Tschanz each netted one for Antioch as well.

After a shaky first game against Oak Park, goalie Keith Jackson did not allow a goal in the final two games.

"After some defensive slips, he came back strong with two straight shutouts," Wilson said of his starting goal keeper.

He said the team still needs to work on its defense and field communication. "Offensively, well, we're not slacking there," Wilson said. The offense scored 19 times in three games.

After facing Carmel Thursday, the Sequoits were preparing for a weekend tournament at Rockford Boylan. Antioch faces Madison Memorial, Palatine Fremd and Batavia, one of the top five teams in the state.

"The competition is very stiff, so we're going to have our work cut out for us, but I think we're up to it," Wilson said.

Varsity does not play its first conference game until it faces Libertyville Sept. 22. Antioch shared the NSC title with Libertyville last year with Stevenson and has never beaten the Wildcats.

Wilson said Antioch was handed a raw deal with only six scheduled home games this year, but he hopes to change that for next year.

"This coming year, I'm going to sit down and be a part of the scheduling process, so we're not all over the place next year," Wilson said.

In the meantime, Antioch's first home game is at Polley Field Sept. 13 against Loves Park.

Sequoit offense shutout in 28-0 loss to 'Cats

Quarterback keeper to the left, QB keeper to the right, run and punt.

That was generally the scenario as the Sequoit offense could not cross the goal line in a 28-0 loss against Libertyville.

Antioch went without a first down until there was a little more than three minutes remaining in the third quarter.

"We didn't have anything—two first downs," said Sequoit Coach Del Pechauer.

Antioch's offensive woes began with the very first play from scrimmage, when Libertyville's Phil Tangorra pounced on a loose ball fumbled by Antioch QB Walter Martens.

"The opening fumble set the tone for the entire game," said Libertyville Coach Randy Kuceyeski. He credited a defensive game plan of blitzes and line movement for shutting down Antioch's power running game.

"Blitzes and pressure—I think we kept them off balance. I didn't expect to shut them out," Kuceyeski said.

Antioch's rushing attack was limited to 35 yards, while its passing game was held to 25 yards. Martens did complete three passes on eight tries for 25 yards. Two of those completions were to wide receiver Andy Davis when Antioch was able to string together its two first downs.

"They just out played us and out hustled us," said Pechauer.

Antioch's offensive highlight came when fullback Mike Mandro ran 77 yards for what appeared to be a TD, but it was wiped out due to an illegal motion penalty.

Antioch Defensive Coordinator Mike Gordy said the offense was not totally to blame for the lopsided defeat.

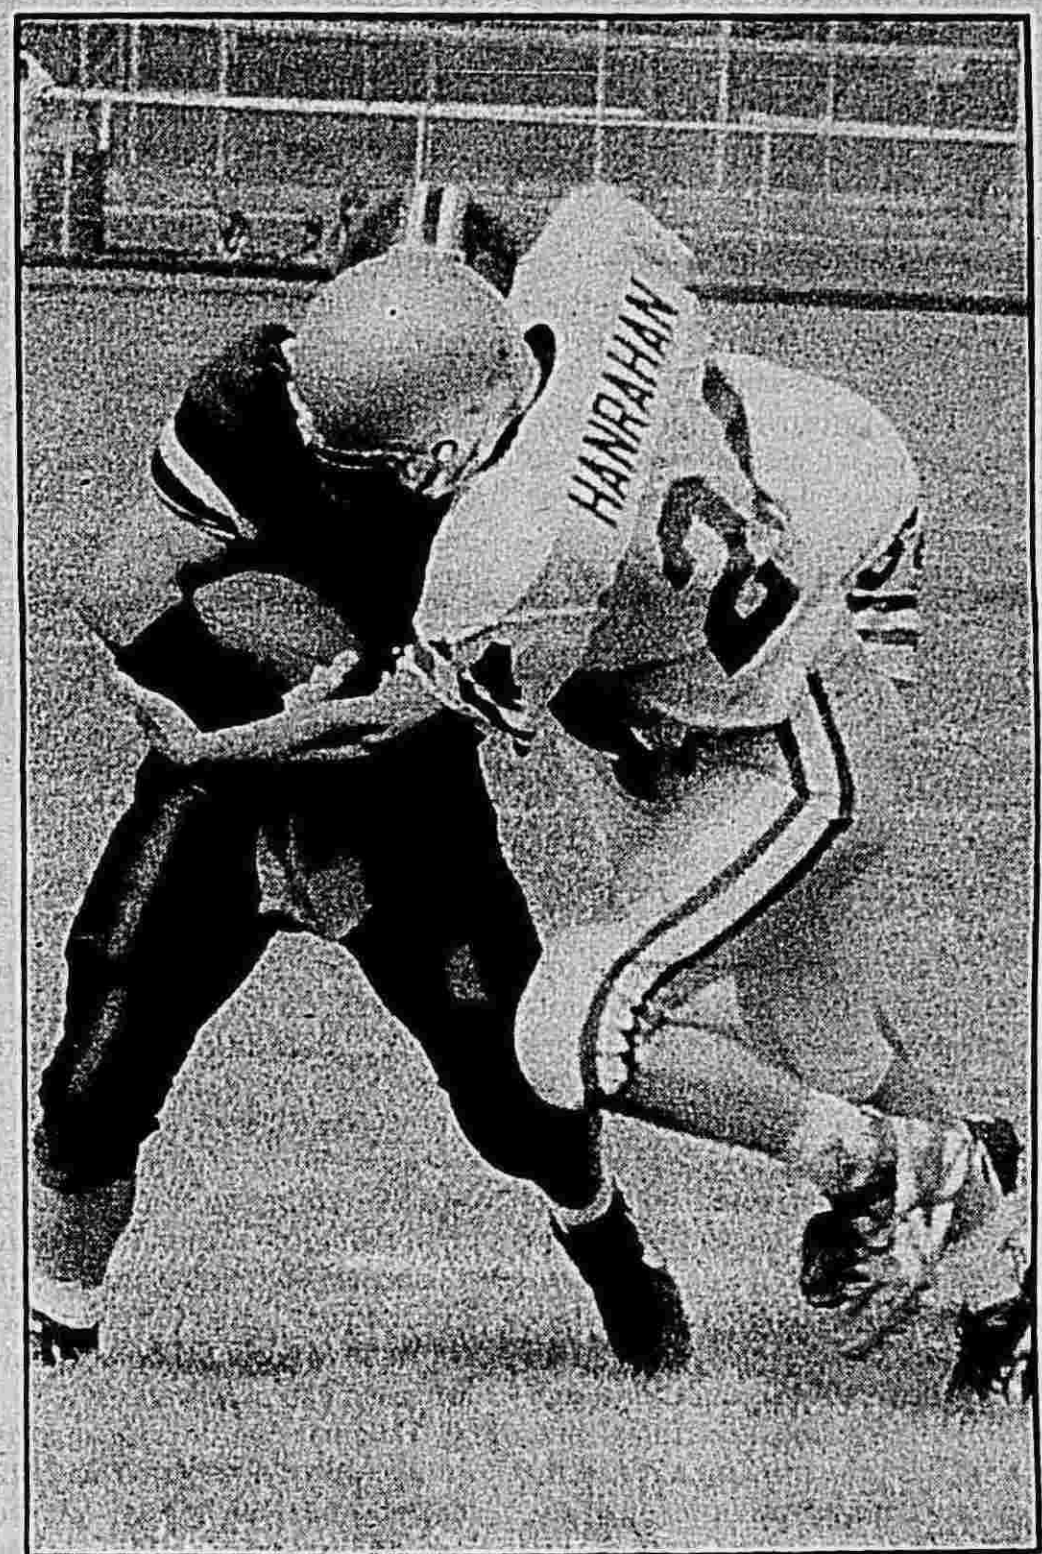

"We did some silly things," Gordy said.

Two first-half blunders included a 54-yd run by Libertyville's Kevin Dickson. A missed coverage assignment left a gaping hole down the middle for Dickson. Libertyville was also able to drive 65 yards for a TD with no time outs and 24 seconds left in the first half.

Antioch also missed starting defensive back Dan Newcomb, who pulled a hamstring during pre-game warm-ups.

Linebacker Rick Cerk, defensive ends John Migalla and Kurt Hintz, and linebacker Chad Molczan each wrapped up Libertyville QB Chris Fulbright for sacks, while defensive back Sean Hanrahan lead the Sequoits in tackles.

ACHS lady golfers win

The fast-improving Antioch Community High School girls' golf team picked up four wins last week.

The Lady Sequoits were victorious in scheduled meets with Harvard (244-286), Wheeling (230-268), Stevenson (230-258) and Woodstock, which only competed with a partial team. Antioch improved its record to 4-2.

Varsity scores versus Harvard: ACHS medalist Sarah Murphy, 56; Kelly Periman, 60; Sarah Rockow, 63; Lisa Murphy, 65; Angie Pederson, 69; and Marissa Blasko, 74.

Lady Sequoit-Varsity scores versus Wheeling and Stevenson: ACHS medalist Sarah Murphy, 56; Lisa Murphy, 57; Periman, 58; Blasko, 59; Rockow 64; and Pederson, 70.

The Junior-Varsity team improved their season record to 2-0 with a 296-301 win over Harvard. J.V. scores for the meet include: J.V. medalist Jessica Schmitt, 66; April Bolton, 74; Jessica Shore, 75; Krista Workman, 81; Crystal Davis, 82; and DeAnne Dalgaard, 85. Wheeling and Stevenson are not currently fielding J.V. teams.

Upcoming meets include Libertyville (away) on Sept. 9, and Glenbrook North and Glenbrook South (away) on Sept. 13, followed by the 12-team Barrington Invitational on Sept. 17.

Sequoit spikers eager for action

Antioch volleyball Coach Gwen Varney said her players are tired of beating up on each other in practice and are ready to play some games in their quest to the North Suburban crown.

The Sequoits are gearing up for their first conference game against Zion-Benton Friday night.

Volleyball fans will recognize eight returning players to the varsity squad this year including seniors Carrie Curtis, Katy Harney, Lindsay Hladnik, Tricia Keefe, and Stephanie Montgomery, and juniors Julie Case, Mary Ipsen and Erin O'Connell.

"Katy (Harney), Tricia (Keefe), and Carrie (Curtis) will be our three leaders on the floor," Varney said.

New to this team are juniors Jennifer Peterson and Melanie Rodgers, and sophomores Jeanna Miller and Carrie Gofron.

With five starting positions locked up, Varney said one more starting spot is still "up for grabs."

She said all her players are eager to play and work hard at practice. "It's hard to get them out of the gym," Varney said.

The Sequoits finished with a 24-9 record last year and are predicted to have another strong season this year, but Varney said Mundelein looks to be the team to beat in the NSC.

"They're very experienced, very deep and they make very few mistakes. That's the type of team a coach wants to have," Varney said of the Mustangs.

She's confident in her Sequoit squad as well.

"We have a lot of talented players. We just have to get together better as a team," Varney said.

She believes as the team plays more games new players will become more comfortable with the experienced players and will begin to communicate with each other better.

"We just have to show ourselves that we are a good team," Varney said.

Devils' spikers end sweep of NSC

Bring on the North Suburban Conference volleyball teams.

That is the message Warren Township High School believes in following a sweep of Northwest Suburban Conference foes. Grant was the latest victim, a 15-9, 15-12 win which completed a three-match sweep of the NWSC.

Tanielle Baaske led the way for the 3-0 Devils. The senior setter-defender had 9-for-12 serving with an ace. She was a force at the net, with 9 spikes and 3 good for kills.

"That is her experience for her. She had done a lot of setting in club play," Warren Coach Felicia Moscatelli said.

The Warren mentor is obviously pleased with her team's 3-0 start before the NSC opener at Fenton Sept. 7.

"Team cohesion and overall play," Moscatelli noted.

"We work hard at communicating during a match and that has a lot to do with it," senior Amy Jensen said.

The seniors, thanks to their club level experience and desire to win, have shown leadership in opening week wins over Grayslake, Round Lake and Grant. The team has a sophomore on the squad, Vanessa Koehler, a former outstanding gymnast.

"It is tough being a sophomore on the varsity, but they make you feel right at home," Koehler said.

Friday's match against Grant looked like it would be a close one as the first eight serves produced seven sideouts and just one point.

Senior Shelly Broeder and junior Kim Laama led Warren to a 5-0 lead, including an ace from Laama. Koehler gained three more points before play was delayed when Grant's Katie Klein was injured.

Warren came to within one point of the win, but had trouble gaining the final point as Grant scored three points behind Sue Sutton's serves.

Laama conclude the game.

Grant dominated for a stretch in the second game, leading 11-8.

Kills by Jensen and Becky Kirby gained the home team a tie and Janay Hanlin finished the match off with an ace.

Round Lake was a 15-6, 15-11 victim of Warren.

Grant Coach Sue Richardson had high hopes but they were dashed by losses to McHenry, Marian Central in two games to begin NWSC play and Warren.

"We are not hitting the ball hard enough, or running the defense well enough," she said.

Bright spots include the serves of Sutton and Amanda Nieves, Richardson said.

Grant is at the Crystal Lake Central tournament Sept. 9 and 10. NWSC play resumes at Round Lake Sept. 12.

Warren is at a Highland Park tourney Sept. 10 and is at Niles North Sept. 12 before facing NSC favorite Mundelein at home Sept. 14.

Rams look to catch 'Wave'

Grayslake High football Coach Dan Dillon finds some silver linings in an 0-2 start, in which the Rams have been outscored 60-14.

"Our special teams have been the most impressive part. Most teams struggle due to special teams, but we take pride in our special teams," Dillon said.

The Rams special teams play was even evident in a 32-7 loss to Marengo Friday.

"Jeff Nuetzmann did a great job in kickoff returns with four for an average of 19.5 yards and Luke Bolton did a great job on punt returns. We put our best players on special teams - the Cris Perhams, Steve Swansons and Ed Pak," Dillon said.

The Rams hope to build around other areas in preparation for a Sept. 9 home 7:30 p.m. game with St. Edward.

"They scored the winning touchdown with 1:53 left last year, and our kids remember that," Dillon said.

Jerel Tompkins put the Rams ahead when he caught a 20-yard TD pass from Lance Pallo for a 6-0 first quarter lead. He finished with 9 catches for 46 yards. The Brian Witt extra point gave the home team a 7-0 lead.

Marengo's Matt Bauzer owned the show after that, throwing for three touchdown passes as the Indians gained a 26-7 halftime lead.

"We challenged the kids to force them to pass. But we did not know they were going to be that good of a passing team," Dillon said.

"We need to develop confidence, but the only way to get confidence is with a win," Dillon said.

A win over the Green Wave, also 0-2, would get the 22-game monkey of a losing streak off the Rams backs.

And that would make for a very special night indeed in Grayslake.

Grant Bulldogs aim to cut mistakes

Grant left the window of opportunity for Cary-Grove's football team and the Trojans more than took advantage of it in a 20-6 win.

"We had two critical mistakes - a fumble recovered in the red zone and an interception in the red zone and they capitalized on them both," Grant Coach Mark Barczak said.

The result was another tough non-conference loss for Grant, which is preparing for a 7:30 p.m. game Sept. 9 at home against Montini.

The chief culprit for the home Trojans (2-0) was Ryan Nikolich, who rushed for 167 yards and a touchdown. He recovered a loose ball to set up the second score, a 15-yard pass from Pat Wire to Brian Sims. Wire scored on a run from 3-yards out.

Dave Stone continued to be Mr. Everything for Grant. He led the rushing attack for 59 yards in 12 carries, with a 17-yard TD run his longest. Tony Conigilo was Grant's top receiver with his longest catch of 37 yards.

Defensively, Barczak said Joe Smith had a nice game with 12 tackles and Dan Morgel played well at defensive tackle. Stone contributed too much from his strong safety position. "When your safety makes a lot of tackles, that is not a good sign," Barczak said.

Although disheartened by two tough losses to being the season, Barczak knows the Northwest Suburban conference opener is two weeks away. "We are a good group. Our eyes are still on the top prizes of winning the conference, but we will take it one game at a time," he said.

The next challenge is Montini, 38-14 winners over Ridge-wood.

"I saw them play Saturday and they have a nice quarterback who runs the option well. He puts on a show," Barczak said.

Woodstock tennis teams drop Grant

Playing teams from Woodstock proved to be a tough challenge for Grant's girls tennis team, as the Bulldogs dropped matches to Woodstock and Marian Central last week.

The Hurricanes of Marian Central downed Grant 4-1 in the Northwest Suburban Conference opener. Woodstock downed Grant (0-3) 6-2.

Trisah Saha gained wins in both matches at No. 1 singles. She downed Glan Bianchi of Marian Central 6-4, 6-2 and Amanda Benjstaz of Woodstock 6-1, 6-0.

In other matches against Marian Central:

Amy Busch of MC downed Kelly Gratz 6-1, 4-6, 7-6 at No. 2 singles. Kim Villager lost to Christi Morka of MC 6-0, 6-2.

In doubles, Renee Eckstrom-Kathryn Marhoeter of Marian downed Carolyn Short-Amber Tripp 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 and Christi Caldwell-Stephanie Brade downed Jessica Jergatis-Rachel Schultz 6-3, 6-1.

Against Woodstock, third singles player Drews challenged Emily Denison before losing 2-6, 7-5, 6-7 (6-8). Also a three-set battle, Gratz lost to Meredith Sather, 1-6, 6-4, 3-6. Villager lost 5-7, 6-3 at fourth singles.

In doubles, Grant posted a win at No. 1 as Short-Tripp won 6-4, 6-3; Lennae Johnson and Schultz fell 2-6, 1-6; Theresa Erksen-Danielle Erickson lost 0-6, 1-6.

Grant is at Antioch Sept. 9 and at rival Round Lake Sept. 12.

Lindenhurst Blitz, Stars fall shy for tourney finals

Over Labor Day weekend, the Lindenhurst Blitz and Lindenhurst Stars girls' traveling teams participated in the first annual Barrington Gatorade Classic Tournament.

BLITZ (U-16)

The Blitz fell just short of making it into the championship game by going 2-1 in their division at the Barrington Gatorade Classic.

Game one found the Blitz at the top of their game in defeating the Hoffman Estates Flames by a score of 6-1.

Stacey Alberts, Tami Wright, Elly Elfering, Nicki Kral and goalkeeper Melissa Helbig held off the Hoffman attack while the Blitz offense shredded the Hoffman defense.

Precise passing, making use of the entire field led to the six goals. Becca Bleyer found the net for four of the goals, while Susan Woodruff and Robin Levy each had one.

Blitz dominance continued in the second game of the tournament. This time, the Cary Defenders found themselves on the 3-0 losing end.

The defense from game one once again took control with help from midfielders Jill Denoma, Allison Earl, Erin Sparkman and Sondra Lorang.

All the Blitz scoring was done by Carrie Gofron with two unassisted goals and one goal assisted by Becca Bleyer.

The Blitz needed nothing less than a victory in game three to reach the championship game, and fell 2-0 to Sparta, a select team from the western suburbs.

The loss eliminated the Blitz from the tournament. Standout players in game three were Sondra Lorang and Elly Elfering.

STARS (U-14)

The Hoffman Estates Hornets struggled against the Stars in game one, losing 2-1. A strong defense led by keeper Megan Rinkenberger kept the Hornets off balance.

Meanwhile, Mandy Fasano had no trouble ripping the net twice with assists awarded to Samie Korbal and Megs Kotlarz.

consisted of Cheri Case, Amie Smit, Angela Tournis, Sarah Rimkus and Susan Goscinak.

It was a defensive battle against the Hoffman Estates Wildcats.

Megan Rinkenberger held the Wildcats to only one score with the help from the same defensive players from game one, but the Stars just couldn't generate any offense. The score ended Wildcats-1 and the Stars-0.

Standouts in game two were Maureen Moran, Katie Gofron, Amie Carlberg, Emily Ayre, Amanda Calvert and Natalie Richter.

Game three saw the Stars regain their winning form. They beat the Buffalo Grove Comets 2-1 in a come-from-behind victory.

Losing 1-0 at the half, the Stars defense kept the Comets pinned in their own end while the Stars offense went to work.

Mandy Fasano scored the first goal off a shot sent in by Samie Korbal to tie the game.

Late in the game, Fasano sent in another shot that bounced off the goalkeeper, with Amanda Calvert punching the ball into the net.

Also assisting on the goals were Amie Carlberg and Maureen Moran. Even with the win in game three, the Stars were also eliminated from the tournament.

The Lindenhurst Girls' Traveling Teams (U-19 Enigma U-16 Blitz, U-14 Power, U-14 Stars, U-12 Lightning, and U-10 Rockets) begin the regular IWSL outdoor season on Sept. 11.

Grant soccer falls in first match

Grant High's soccer team made its debut on the field, but came up shy.

The Bulldogs fell to Marian Central 3-2 last week. Grant is at Round Lake Sept. 13 for a 4:30 p.m. match. Grant is competing as a junior varsity team this fall.

"For the first game, it was a pretty good effort. We need to work out a few bugs but we will have a lot more opportunities," Coach Jim Multra said.

Grant gained ties at 1-1 and 2-2 before Marian Central scored the winning goal midway through the second half.

Scott Lanners and Toby Merrill are captains.

"We are looking for a building year. We have high hopes with some talented players. Some of our most talented players are the younger players," Multra said.

Upcoming matches pit Grant at Johnsburg Sept. 16 and at Wauconda Sept. 20.

Multra's soccer background includes coaching stints as an assistant at Rolling Meadows and coaching youth in Indiana.

Damron opts to complete at WIU

Kelly Damron will be heading west to finish her collegiate career.

Damron has signed a national letter of intent to play softball at Western Illinois University next spring.

Damron, a 1991 graduate of Antioch Community High School, started her career at the Macomb school but later returned to the College of Lake County.

"We were playing in a summer tournament in Milwaukee and I asked her about playing at CLC," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

Damron was rewarded with her efforts when she was named all-America. This is a first for a CLC player in the eight years Garcia has been a coach.

Garcia saw Damron play the outfield while a Sequoit and immediately was impressed with her talent.

"I think she has improved most with her hitting. Last year, she hit .286 and this past year she hit .408," Garcia said.

CLC finished fourth in the state both years, 18-18 in 1992-93 and 33-17 last year.

Damron had 68 RBIs, 5 home runs and 5 triples and 18 doubles. She scored 81 runs and had 97 hits last year. She was 35-for-36 in stolen bases, had 19 assists from left field and only 5 errors.

Damron set the following CLC career offensive records: at bats, 157; hits, 64; doubles, 14; home runs, 5; RBI, 51 and sacrifices, 19.

Her accolades include 1993 all-Skyway Conference and Region IV all-tourney team.

This year, she was all-state first-team, all offensive player of the year at CLC; all-conference and played in the Region IV all-star game.

"She should fit right in at WIU," Garcia said.

Eagles top Hornets in opener

The Lindenhurst Royal Eagles U11 soccer team came out on top 3 to 1 over the Elk Grove Hornets in the season opener.

The Eagles were down by 1 when Adam Placko scored a header assisted by David Calvert to open the second half. Adam Jordan followed with a blistering penalty kick. Brian Halvey scored assisted by Adam Placko to close the game.

Youth football ready for season

After weeks of practicing at Warren Township Center, Warren Packers youth football starts another season this weekend.

The Packers compete in the Junior Football League of Northern Illinois and will field Pee Wee white, blue and Featherweight white blue as well as Lightweight and Varsity teams.

Home games, unless noted, are at Warren Township Center. The Packers will also host games at Carmel and Warren Township High School.

The 1994 schedule:

Sept. 11: Pee Wee white hosts Round Lake at 10 a.m.; Pee Wee blue at Mundelein Stallions, 11 a.m.; Featherweight white is at Round Lake, 11 a.m.; blue is at Mundelein Pintos, noon; Lightweight hosts Round Lake, 12:45 p.m.; Varsity hosts Round Lake at 2:15 p.m.

Sept. 18: Pee Wee white at Mundelein Wranglers, 10 a.m.; Pee Wee blue hosts McHenry, 10 a.m.; Featherweight white at Mundelein Broncos, 11 a.m.; Featherweight blue, home vs. McHenry, 11 a.m.; Lightweight, home, vs. McHenry, 12:45 p.m.; Varsity, home, 2:15 p.m.

Sept. 21: Lightweight vs. Fox Lake at Warren Township High School, 6:15 p.m.; Varsity, Fox Lake at WTHS, 7:45 p.m.

Sept. 25: Pee Wee white at Antioch white, 10 a.m.; Pee Wee blue, home vs. Mundelein Wranglers, 10 a.m.; Featherweight white at Antioch 10 a.m.; Featherweight blue home vs. Mundelein Broncos, 11 a.m.; Lightweight, at Antioch, 12:45 p.m.; heavyweight at Antioch, 2:15 p.m.

Warhawks' big plays upset Warren's fast start plans

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The play may go down as the most costly first down for the 1994 Warren Township High School football team.

Running back Zach Florio had scored two touchdowns and ran for more than 90 yards on better than 20 carries, but he fumbled after a first down with 4 minutes left against North Chicago. Junior DeShawn Mitchell raced with the football down the sideline and North Chicago had stunned Warren 34-30 in a thrilling North Suburban Conference game.

"It was not that he was holding it wrong, but he was hit hard. All I saw was red jerseys," Mitchell said.

"They are a big play team and I told our kids we could not afford to give up big plays like that. The fumble hurt us. Zach is our money back, but you have to hold onto the ball," a dejected Warren Coach Reggie Hughes said.

Warren slipped to 1-1 on the season with the loss, 0-1 NSC. North Chicago found itself tied for first place with Libertyville and Zion-Benton with a surprising 2-0 mark. North Chicago is at Mundelein Sept. 9 while Warren is at archrival Antioch Sept. 10 for a 1 p.m. game.

"North Chicago has always been known for its big plays. The question is whether or not the other team can prevent them," North Chicago Coach Rodney Hampton said.

While the fumble led to the game-winning touchdown, another reason Warren lost was due to nagging injuries to key personnel. Brian Kuhar caught touchdown passes from QB Ryan Kelter of 18 and 45 yards in the first half as Warren built a 21-6 lead.

But he was injured in the second period. "He injured an AC joint," Hughes said.

North Chicago's Rashani Landry gave the visitors a taste of what was to come in the opening series. North Chicago lined up with strong left, and he took the pitch from QB Javon Johnson. Some 57 yards later he was in Warren's end zone for a 6-0 lead.

Warren countered with the two touchdown passes to Kuhar for a 12-6 margin.

The second started a wild second quarter which featured many more points, 34, to minutes played, 12.

When Florio scored from 11 yards out it looked like Warren would be in control for the first of two times.

But Shaun Glass raced the kickoff down the sidelines and after a Warren punt, Johnson connected with Yatov McCoy for an 80-yard strike and a 22-21 lead.

Warren survived the first half when Ryan Boyle booted a field goal.

There may be a good reason why Warren's offense moved the ball as well as it did early.

"About half of the defense was out after the 10 p.m. curfew. I have rules and regulations and if you miss a curfew, then you do not play for a half," Hampton said.

Instead of moping, the Warhawks came out hitting as the regulars took the field after a 30-minute Navy Day half-time show.

Neither team did much in the third period, but Warren was driving at the end. It looked like the Devils could breathe easier when a 23-yard drive resulted in a Florio scored from 3-yards out with 11:30 left.

But the first of two costly mistakes occurred when Doug Harris recovered a Kelter fumble after a heavy rush for a 16-yard TD, for a 30-28 deficit with 5:46 left.

Then came the first down which sent the Warhawks thinking about the days of another Johnson at QB- Johnny, now at Illinois and a possible 3-0 start.

"Mundelein is a tough team. They showed me a lot against Libertyville," Hampton said.

Mundelein gave Zion a scare in a 24-20 loss.

Challenger Al Hofeld attacks record of Jim Ryan

ALEC JUNGE
SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporters

Democratic Illinois Attorney General Candidate Al Hofeld stopped says he will push for stricter child support laws as if elected as the state's top legal advisor.

Hofeld said the current focus of the office is 5 percent crime and 95 percent consumer protection, liability and environmental protection. He said it's time to get a practicing attorney in the office to make laws work for the benefit of people. His biggest push is for stricter laws for collecting child support payments.

He cites a national study which indicates Illinois is 48th in actual dollars collected. He said the state needs to turn that around like it did with drunk driving 10 years ago. One feature he is proposing is a wanted posters distributed of the worst abusers.

"In Maine and Iowa the embarrassment factor contributed to a $10 million increase in payment," Hofeld said. "We don't want to embarrass anybody. We just want to get the worst offenders."

Hofeld, 57, was raised by his mother and grandmother without child support, and he says he has been lucky to live the American Dream, becoming a self-made success, and wants to help others.

Another creative approach is having prison systems become more like a business working for the state, making products such as wire hangers and paper goods. The state would have materials for low income families and prisoners would acquire a trade.

Hofeld, a practicing attorney for over 30 years, feels the office ought to be more efficient and professional.

"I think the office ought to be run like a law office. It is the people's law room," Hofeld said.

He said the state needs a practicing attorney for Attorney General. He is still trying cases, having been in court last week and before the Illinois State Supreme Court. He cites his 90 percent success rate in cases, to what he perceives as his opponent's limited success in the courtroom.

He believes his opponent, Jim Ryan, Du Page County States Attorney, has a poor record of trying criminals.

Hofeld cites statistics from the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority which indicate Ryan's office is successful in only 50 percent of their cases. Only 13 of 100 charged served time in jail and 84 percent of the convictions are plea bargained.

Illinois Bar Association pushes for merit selection

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Illinois State Bar Association (ISBA) is making some waves regarding the way Illinois residents select judges. According to ISBA President Dave Decker, the group intends to introduce a legislative resolution next year to have judges selected by merit.

ISBA hopes that the legislature will in turn place the question on the ballot as an Illinois Constitutional question in 1996.

As of 1993, Illinois is one of the last 20 states to elect the judiciary.

Voters are often confronted with an array of unknown names on the ballots while local and state bar associations attempt to rate the selections and get the word out to residents.

Still, many voters approach the voter box with absolutely no knowledge of the candidates and choose the judges by ethnic surname, place on the ballot, party affiliation, or even by gender. As a result, sometimes the most qualified candidate fails to win.

Nevertheless, merit selection proposals, which have been presented to the legislature since 1960 have been rejected. The most recent effort, mounted by the ISBA in 1988, failed to clear the Senate executive committee.

Opponents of the merit system often fall back on the argument that the election process is more "democratic." And, in theory, they are correct. It is the responsibility of voters to investigate judicial candidates as thoroughly as a presidential candidate.

However, with the large number of judges on the ballot, many voters find this nearly impossible. Furthermore, in a predominately one-party county such as Lake County, there often aren't any Democratic candidates on the ticket.

To highlight the problem, in the last election in March, there were three seats contested by the Republican party for the second district appellate court. While the candidates came from Lake, McHenry, Winnebago, Kane, and DuPage Counties, there were no Democratic candidates. Those voters who wanted to vote a straight Democratic ticket had no one to vote for and no say in the election.

Peterson sees finances as main issue in election

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

State Sen. William E. Peterson (R-Prairie View) sees the finances of the state as being the top issue in the November election, as he seeks to retain his seat representing the 26th District in Springfield.

Peterson said both Dawn Clark Netsch's plan of increasing the state income tax by 42 percent and the League of Women voters wanting a graduated income tax system imposed are going about raising funds in the wrong manner.

"In my own personal opinion at this point, with the economy improving, I do not see the need to increase the state income tax," said Peterson, the freshman senator running for a second term.

More money is going towards public education, child family services and prisons this year thanks to the state budget approved this summer, he said. This year's budget also shows further increases in funding for all state agencies.

If the economy continues to gain as it has, he said it will continue increasing funds to pay the bills. Both family services and education would receive money from natural growth in taxes, and not an imposed increase, he said.

The amount of revenue to be returned to school districts next year will increase from one-twelfth to one-tenth, which should also improve the funding situation.

Peterson said he has not heard many municipalities complaining about the imposed tax cap on the collar counties.

"I really have not had a group of municipal officers come to me and say they were in dire financial straits," he said.

A home rule community, such as Buffalo Grove and Waukegan, is not affected by the cap. But those that are not home rule have other methods of increasing revenues besides property taxes, he said.

Challenger wants to offer voters a voice in Springfield

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

Nancy Scottillo wants to give back to her community by becoming a voice for residents of State Senate District 26.

"I think it is time for a change," the Democratic candidate from Hoffman Estates said. She said she wants to represent those individuals who believe in instilling the same values they had as children to their own in her challenge against GOP incumbent William E. Peterson in the November election.

A practicing attorney for 19 years, 14 as a Cook County Assistant States Attorney, Scottillo said she can better represent district residents as she is one of them, driving on the tollway and having a daughter in school.

"I am more like people in the community," she said, compared to Peterson, who has spent the past 14 years in Springfield, first as a representative and for the past four years as state senator.

"I think it is time for someone who can be accountable and sympathize with voters on a day-to-day basis," she said.

Scottillo was elected first Democratic state committeemen of the 12th District and was a delegate to the 1992 Democratic National Convention. She is the first vice president of the Northwest Suburban Board Association, having been a board member since 1989, and is editor of its monthly publication, "Newsbriefs."

Scottillo is also active in her community, serving as a board of director member of the Buehler YMCA in Palatine, a past officer of the Northwest Suburban Quilters Guild and as a Daisy Girl Scout assistant leader, as well as getting involved in her daughter's elementary school.

She believes in giving back to the community, and becoming state senator would go a long way in doing that.

"I would like to offer the voters a choice in the election," said Scottillo.

She believes education is a concern throughout the state, and wants to make sure people's concerns are heard in Springfield.

Jablonski: make safety priority

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Book learning is good, but there are other things which should rank higher on the scale—like safety, according to one law enforcement officer.

That's the number one concern for Richard Jablonski, Democratic candidate for Lake County Sheriff.

In rebuttal to Sheriff Clinton Grinnell's recent push to upgrade jail inmates education, Jablonski said a few words. "He (Grinnell) brags about spending $50,000 a year giving prisoners GED's. What are his priorities?" asked Jablonski.

The candidate explained he's all in favor of education enhancement, but not as the number one priority.

"I think he's got his priorities screwed up," Jablonski said. "I think the money could be used to fix up the radio network?"

Jablonski, a former Chicago cop, trained by the FBI, is not pleased with reported problems with the sheriff's department radio system.

"It's been over a year since the study (by a law endorsement consulting firm), yet nothing has been done," about the radio problems, said Jablonski.

With the claimed dispatching system difficulties, the candidates said the possibility of an accident could occur.

"What is it going to take to get Clinton Grinnell to correct this serious problem? Does it take a tragedy to occur—a deputy killed or seriously injured, or a child or other innocent person to be hurt?" asked Jablonski.

The radio is the deputy's "life-line," as described by Jablonski.

"Fix the problem now before a tragedy occurs."

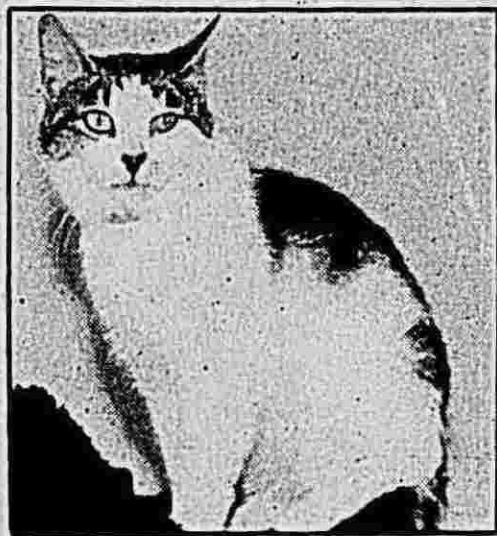

Jablonski officially kicked-off his campaign after Labor Day.

Such avenues including sale taxes, building permits, vehicle stickers, title transfer taxes and others can be effectively used to offset reductions in funding due to the cap, according to Peterson.

School districts, on the other hand, are limited in the ways open to villages and cities, as the main revenue is property tax, he said.

"Those districts that have rapidly increasing enrollments do have problems, and I think in some cases, small minor changes can be made to help them generate additional revenues," Peterson said.

He said the state legislature was working on making a change in the school aid formula so schools can start getting increased state funds.

Peterson sides with the communities against the proposed extension of Route 53, saying there are a lot of wetlands in the way and "very serious environmental concerns" that need to be dealt with.

A great many people along the route depend on wells for water, and the extension could increase flooding.

"I do not support 53 either as a program under the tollway or constructed by IDOT (Illinois Department of Transportation)," he said.

He said he is not against all road construction, and does support getting more funds to improve state roads in the area, noting the millions of dollars being spent for current projects on Routes 83, 45 and 22, for example.

With the Federal Government mandating the Clean Air Act, Peterson thinks increased public transportation along with Wisconsin Central Railway is one way to ease traffic off roads.

Large companies will also have to come up with ways to reduce the number of cars on roads to comply with the act, by either making shifts, car pools or allowing more people to work at home.

These factors need to be included when talking about roads, and may reduce the numbers and help alleviate congestion and pollution as well.

Peterson has served as Vernon Township supervisor for the past 16 years, and was a state representative for 10 years prior to his senate election four years ago.

districts are to pay for projects and how they will be able to raise funds.

She also said all the information concerning the proposed extension of Route 53 has to be considered before she can offer an opinion.

"As a member of the legislature, I would be a voice of the constituents and represent their views," she said.

to have an impact cost analysis made before approving any unfunded mandates, such as imposing a tax cap on school districts and leaving them in a bind to fund services and programs.

County Auction offers bargains

Looking for that rare bargain from a unit of local government? Perhaps your own squad car (slightly used) or a non-polluting bicycle to get to work. The annual Lake County Auction provides just the opportunity to buy these items and many more.

This year's auction will be held Sept. 10 at 10 a.m. at the Lake County Fairgrounds, Rtes. 45 and 120 in Grayslake. Inspection and registration begins at 9 a.m. day of sale.

Besides the county, agencies participating in the sale include Fremont Twp. the villages of Buffalo Grove, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Lindenhurst, Round Lake and Vernon Hills, the cities of Highland Park, North Chicago and Waukegan, the Central Lake County Water Agency, McHenry County and the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

In addition to excess government owned property, unclaimed and confiscated items from several local law enforcement agencies will also be auctioned.

Slated to be sold to the highest bidder are automobiles and trucks. Other items to be sold include office furniture and equipment, computers, bicycles, construction equipment, tools, radios and jewelry.

Crane to hold town meeting

Eighth Dist. Congressman Philip M. Crane will hold a town meeting on Saturday, Sept. 10. All residents of the 8th Congressional District are invited to attend.

The town meeting will be conducted at the College of Lake County in Grayslake from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Doors will open at 9:30 a.m.

Congressman Crane will open the meeting with a discussion of developments in Washington which he believes will be of interest to those attending, including the subjects of the Crime Bill and health care legislation. Following the remarks of the congressman, constituents will have an opportunity to question him about any issues they may wish to discuss.

Caseworkers from Congressman Crane's offices will be at the meeting to assist with individual problems.

Pilot makes emergency landing

ANTIOCH—A very lucky pilot escaped, without injury, after an emergency landing of his homemade airplane in Chain O' Lakes State Park last week. James S. Hull, age 47, was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry by Spring Grove Emergency Services. Hull, of McHenry, took off in his homemade single engine airplane from Westosha Airport in Wilmet. According to Department of Conservation Officer Rick Riedel, the plane's engine lost power when it reached 1,600 feet. During the emergency landing, the plane flipped over. The FAA is investigating.

Officials don't want traffic

ROUND LAKE HEIGHTS—The zoning board has asked the developer of the proposed Fairfield Heights Subdivision to consider having construction traffic enter from Black Cherry Lane. The possibility of construction traffic on Black Cherry Lane was criticized by Lake Villa Township Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling and County Board member Suzi Schmidt. Semmerling said he will not allow construction traffic on Black Cherry Lane.

Oldest resident turns 104

native has lived in Wauconda since 1980 and will actually celebrate her birthday on Sept. 22, a day Mayor James L. Eschenbach proclaimed Lillian Vlach Day at a party held in her honor at Wauconda Township Hall last week. An American Red Cross veteran of World War I, Vlach was a champion bowler, drove her car until five years ago and is an avid Chicago Cubs fan, having once been hit by a foul ball.

Development criticized

ROUND LAKE HEIGHTS—County Board member Suzi Schmidt is concerned with a proposed housing development near the Fairfield Marsh, a federally designated aided wetland. Schmidt fears the development will provoke the failure of 11 endangered bird species to nest in the marsh. She is also worried about possible damage to the wetlands and increase flooding. The proposed site will include 185 units and is located off Lotus Drive in Round Lake Heights.

'Mr. McHenry' remembered

CHAIN O' LAKES—A lifelong McHenry resident and longtime township employee died suddenly, leaving behind many remembrances. Charles "Chuck" Miller, 73, was the owner and founder of the Dobyn's House Restaurant on the corner of Boone Creek and the Fox River. Most recently he was involved with the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Agency, and was road commissioner for the Township of McHenry for 22 years. He was known to many as "Mr. McHenry," according to his friend of 40-years George Thompson. Miller was heavily involved in the township republican club and was also G.O.P. chairman for around a decade, said Thompson.

Pleads guilty

LIBERTYVILLE—Two prominent Libertyville residents pleaded guilty in separate cases involving a plot to kill a spouse and a series of real estate scams. Donald Coulson, a former Libertyville trustee, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted aggravated battery with a firearm. Coulson was videotaped in a meeting with an undercover officer in a deal to kill his wife. He faces a four to five-year prison sentence. Linda Frykholm pleaded guilty to three counts of theft and three counts of forgery in a series of real estate deals that allegedly shortchanged victims of more than $1 million. She could be sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Mundelein Pride Week set

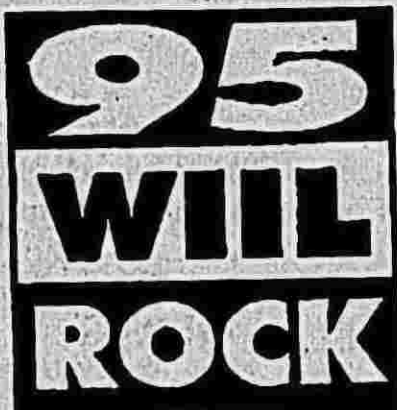

MUNDELEIN—The spotlight will be on the village Sept. 11-17 as the downtown revitalization group celebrates Mundelein Pride Week. Activities will include a parish picnic at Santa Maria at 1 p.m. Sunday and a Family Block Party from 2 to 5 p.m. Sept. 17 at the Mundelein Shopping Center. Saturday evening will feature a performance by Danny Bonaduce at Emil's Sports Bar. The Fort Hill Museum will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. each day Monday through Saturday during that week.

High school memories

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Area High School students, staff, and faculty members for the years 1946-50, in particular, are invited to attend the Grayslake Historical Society's meeting Sept. 14 at the State Banks of the Lakes building in Grayslake. Lawrence Rouse, former superintendent of the high school, will be making a presentation regarding the history of the high school from 1903 to 1950. The historical society is extending the special invitation because it is hoped people from the 1946-50 school years may be able to share some of their first-hand experiences from the early years of the high school. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m.

Village works to acquire park

LAKE ZURICH—Village officials have two options left acquiring Breezewald Park as a second lakefront public beach. Either negotiate with new owner Jack Rackow or condemn the land. Rackow has said he has no intention of selling it after just purchasing it, leaving the village with only one way to fulfill a request made by residents. Almost 5,000 people voted for the Nov. 1992 $1 referendum, which was approved by a 2-to-1 margin. The village has attempted to buy the 5.5 acres of land at Old Rand Road and Main Street since the referendum was approved, but have met several roadblocks, among them a debate on who actually owned the land.

College celebration party time for all

September this year is a time for collective self congratulation for residents of Lake County.

There will be a month-long celebration as the College of Lake County observes its 25th anniversary. Citizens from all corners of the county make CLC a reality through their taxes, support and involvement in college educational and cultural offerings. Happy CLC anniversary to one and all.

A citizens committee has been working since last fall to arrange a schedule of significant and entertaining events. The celebrating kicks off with a black tie, gourmet gala Saturday night. But there's a whole lot more.

Planners are excited about the CLC Family Reunion Sunday, Sept. 25, that will bring together for the first time all alumni. If you graduated from CLC, you are invited to bring your family. On the actual founding date, Wednesday, Sept. 28, there will be birthday cake served to students, staff and the public at both the central Grayslake campus and the Lakeshore campus in downtown Waukegan.

College officials are to be commended for stepping up their normal schedule of cultural events to focus on the anniversary year. This is where everyone can cash in how CLC serves. In some cases, CLC is taking cultural programs on the road, like the theater department's presentation of Hansel and Gretel Sunday, Oct. 16, at Lake Zurich High. A traveling display is being offered at libraries, community centers and village halls.

Since CLC opened for business 25 years ago in makeshift classes at St. Therese Hospital and later at metal buildings off Washington St., more than 300,000 persons have taken classes at our community college.

It's no accident that the 25th anniversary of CLC will be both fitting and fun. Since assuming the CLC presidency, Dr. Daniel J. LaVista has made it a school policy to touch the lives of as many Lake County citizens as possible. We applaud that policy and wish CLC many more happy returns.

Taxpayers note: Learn to say no

Cynics could have a field day with the fact that Lake County officials have come up with a compromise plan to ease overcrowding at Hulse Juvenile Detention Center for less than $800,000 after voters rejected an $8.8 million bond referendum last March to do much the same thing.

In fairness to the point men for the tax increase—Chief Judge John Goshgarian, State's Atty. Michael Waller and County Board Chairman Bob Depke—a big part of the bond proposal included provisions for long term Hulse Center operations and substantial upgrades in the county's juvenile justice system. The compromise covers basically brick and mortar mandates from the state.

What Judge Goshgarian, Waller and Depke are talking about now is a program that will expand Hulse Center to 36 beds or a point where there will be income producing space of six to eight beds that can be rented to neighboring counties—for less than $800,000 that will be gleaned from existing funding sources. No tax increase necessary, thank you!

Hopefully, the county's Finance Committee shouldn't get skittish about voting the approximate $800,000, when basically the Dept. of Corrections is talking about toilets and running water for Hulse Center.

The outcome of the "crisis" in juvenile justice in Lake County should be an excellent learning experience for taxpayers. How do you deal with exploding taxes? Simple. Just say no, like the voters did last March.

—Viewpoint— Illini, sans victory, still entertaining

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Clearly, some things were out of sync.

On the way to a Fighting Illini home football game, you don't encounter traffic until Neal St., not the Old Orchard construction sector on Edens. Secondly, you're supposed to park near tall corn, not tall buildings. And then the beer is to be quaffed after the game, not before and during.

That was part of the backdrop for a noble experiment—a University of Illinois home football game at Soldier Field.

The first Illini football game in Chicago in 55 years was a night made for fun. Fans, what there was of them, arrived early. They were greeted by starry skies, the resplendent Marching Illini band and long-legged flag bearers in glittering outfits.

At halftime, Chief Illiniwek pranced and danced, to the obvious approval of the crowd of 39,472, less about a half dozen disgruntled protestors who still insist on regarding the chief as a mascot, not a symbol of bravery and leadership for a mighty educational institution. The band did a magnificent rendition of Stars and Stripes Forever, complete with a shower of fireworks.

What about the game? Oh, yes. The game.

Quarterback Johnny Johnson tripped over his shoelaces on the first play and everything was downhill after that except for three field goals as the Illinois kickers tried to do an impersonation of the Bears vaunted offense of recent vintage. Unfortunately, the last kicker, with a chance to give the Orange and Blue the lead and probably a 12-10 victory, was no Kevin Butler. So the home away from home guys fell by a point to Washington State, which also was playing without a recognizable offense.

Illinois' touted defense did everything asked of it except running the ball into the end zone on interceptions or kickoff returns. Alas, had the Illini defense done that there might have been a happy ending to an otherwise delightful sports experience in Chicago for our party of eight and the other 39,446 (less the Chief haters).

The final score notwithstanding, the only thing marring the evening was a loud-mouthed guy wearing a Sam's Club toupe who kept hollering for Offensive Coordinator Greg Landy's head. Or was it his scalp? He said he was from Springfield. The noisy guy should complain. He won't have to travel so far the rest of the season to berate poor Greg, who looked like he had the Urbana High varsity blocking for Johnny instead of his offensive line.

Even if the drive time to Memorial Stadium is only a little bit more than Soldier Field during rush hour, we hope the U of I doesn't give up on Chicago. After all, us upstaters can be entertained without winning the game. We've had plenty of practice at Cubs and Bears games.

TOUGH LADY—Mayor Debbie Vasels of Lake Zurich has indicated that she's up to facing the heat being generated by disgusted citizens over potential park land fell into private hands. Vasels took the interesting position that an affirmative referendum wasn't a directive from voters to "pay more than the land was worth." Taxpayers voted that they were willing to spend up to $1 million. The park rhubarb might be Lake Zurich's focus for village elections next spring. Yes, village electioneering is just around the corner.

VOLUNTEER—United Way of Lake County is seeking volunteers to assist with a mailing project Thursday and Friday, Sept. 15 and 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Call Pamela Dancu at 816-0063 if you can help.

FUN OUTING—Hastings Lake YMCA has scheduled a classy way to thank key supporters, an afternoon of racing Sept. 16 at Arlington International in the comfort of a sky box. "We just want to say thanks," exclaimed Executive Director Kent Johnson. And how!

GRAINGER FALL-OUT—A Lake Forest author and businessman may be the first victim of opposing too zealously the W.W. Grainger Co. rezoning of property in residential Mettawa for an office complex.

Lauren Januz was found guilty in a bench trial before Chief Judge John Goshgarian of a Class 3 felony making intimidation illegal. Grainger brought charges against Januz after receiving what company executives said was a threatening letter. Januz, who operates an advertising specialties business from his home and writes on time management subjects, was cited over a written threat to vandalize Grainger equipment when ground is broken for the office complex.

Januz told Judge Goshgarian that he didn't remember writing the letter, explained that he was on medication for a hip ailment which subsequently required surgery. Walking with the aid of a cane, Januz later said that George Strickland of the state's attorney office, who prosecuted the case, "has been out to get me for a long time."

Cracker Jacks on its way

In the mall — A box of Cracker Jacks is on its way for Edna Schade, the Republican candidate trying to unseat Democrat Lauren Beth Gash in the 60th district. In a previous Party Lines column, a box of Cracker Jacks was offered to anyone who spotted Schade smiling. Schade called Lakeland Newspapers to collect, saying she has caught herself smiling many times.

Remembering Bob—A serious note will be injected into the day of fun Sunday, Sept. 25, planned for members of the Lake County Bar Assn. and their families at a picnic at Old School Forest Preserve, Libertyville.

The fun will be watching Judge Charlie Scott play first base and Judge Martin pitch a softball game. Highlighting competition will be volleyball featuring assistant state's attorneys vs. the assistant public defenders.

The serious note will be time out to honor the memory of the late Congressman Robert "Bob" McClory, a longtime attorney in Waukegan, who carved a distinguished political career covering General Assembly service in Springfield to Washington where the Lake Bluff resident played a key role in the Nixon impeachment proceedings.

McClory

Space skirmish—Look for the next grapple in the ongoing open space vs. development battle in Lake County to take place in connection with an opening on the Lakes Region Sanitary Dist. board of directors.

Quietly serving sanitary needs for an unincorporated area in Ingleside for 15 years, the district is on the verge of facing two major growth projects, expansion of the big Baxter Multiplex Systems Div. on Wilson Rd. and a proposed senior citizens' housing project at Wooster Lake. The opening will be filled through appointment by County Board Chairman Bob Depke.

Endorsed—The Community Bankers Assn. of Illinois broke precedent with its first-ever endorsement of a candidate for statewide office with the backing for re-election of Sec. of State George Ryan.

Save the earth—Making a swing through Lake County, Democrat Al Hofeld, running for Illinois attorney general, professed to being a strong environmentalist. "My idol is Bill Scott," added Hofeld. Scott, a Republican, made lots of waves two decades ago fighting corporations over air pollution and contaminating Lake Michigan. That line should play here.

Hofeld

On the same side—In most cases County Board Member Suzi Schmidt and Lake Villa Township Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling vehemently disagree with each other. When it comes to the possibility of construction traffic for a subdivision in Round Lake Heights on Black Cherry Lane, both are opposed to it. Most of the road is in unincorporated Lake Villa Township and Semmerling said he will not allow construction traffic to bust up the road.

Schmidt

Opposes Yorkhouse—One Lake County Board member who will be voting against the Yorkhouse Road extension is Robert Neal (R-Wadsworth).

"It is not the place nor the time. I am waiting for more of the facts so I can convince others to vote against it," he said.

Dozens of people who agreed with Neal attended a public meeting at St. Mark's Lutheran Church. The county board vote to proceed with bid work could come at the Sept. 13 meeting, but Bertha Ogrin (D-Waukegan) said it would more likely be in October.

Ambassador Porter?—Andrew Krupp, Democrat longshot hoping to unseat Congressman John Porter for the 10th Congressional Dist., said he would be willing to talk to President Clinton to appoint Porter to a U.N. ambassadorship should Krupp replace Porter in the November elections. Porter has not announced any plans for such a position, but Party Lines wonders if the longtime incumbent would extend the same no-hard-feelings courtesy to Krupp should the young Democrat encounter a November defeat. Just a thought.

Gash vote questioned

Editor:

State Rep. Lauren Gash is claiming that she single-handedly is cleaning up the Toll Highway Authority.

Gash says that the toll authority should be reined in and reformed. If that is true, why did she vote last spring to extend the toll authority's powers by giving them permission to levy billions of dollars more?

This is Gash being Gash—she says one thing and does another. That is why those in the 60th District should vote for Edna Schade for their state representative on election day, Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Regarding the headline "Home assessments irk residents," Antioch Assessor Cliff Houghton's message is that property owners must grin and bear it.

This is typical of what the local politicians think of citizens. The public be damned.

Marks hypocritical

Editor:

Martha Marks, the Lake County Board member who voted against the forest preserve, open space, tax relief for residents, tax dollars for the schools and commercial development at transportation hubs in the Grainger affair, does not get it. Her recent tirade in the newspapers ignores the reality of the super majority mandate of Republican and Democratic board members.

That is the way the process works. The 80+ percent vote of the County Board for W.W. Grainger guarantees the Lake County Forest Preserve 256 acres at no cost. Marks would undoubtedly prefer another tax referendum with higher property taxes.

Marks prefers the financial support guaranteed to her and proclaimed by the rich and wealthy Mettawa residents, not her moral obligation and oath to Lake County. Each dollar of tribute she receives from the Mettawa millionaires attests to hypocrisy of Mark's convictions, character and ethics.

Turning preserves into profit

Editor:

By now, we're all aware that the Lake Co. Forest Preserve Dist. has plans to let basketball superstar Michael Jordan build a golf course business on a forest preserve.

What this means is that the pro-development forces that sit on both the county board and forest preserve board have now found a way to develop a forest preserve.

Doesn't this bother anyone that these people are going to bulldoze a forest preserve?

It's only a matter of time before this happens to other Lake County preserves. The temptation of all the profits seems to out-weigh everything else.

COMMENTARY

Reunion fan 'makes do' with fetching $19.99 frock

NANCY L. BROWN MAEDEL
Guest columnist

I must be "Still Crazy After All These Years" to do this, but I think Donna Abear's perspective on her husband's 20-year high school reunion needs an attitude adjustment.

My, my, Donna—you sound so school-girlish; and so threatened by an event that comes along once in a lifetime.

I couldn't figure out WHO you were talking about when referring to Brandy's "old flame" but if most of us didn't pick up on it, it couldn't have been such an awful display of tactlessness. But you're good, Donna. Instead of quietly informing her that she was annoying you, you wrote an article in a public newspaper for the whole world to see. Shame on you!

I HAVE to comment on your perspective of how the women prepare for this event, in your mind, over the course of their adult life. Let me use myself as an example. I did wear a black dress. It wasn't sequined; it wasn't fancy, but it was nice. And—hang onto your hat now—I bought it that day, at Marshalls, for $19.99! Now there's preparation for you! As far as my make-up goes, I wore what I usually wear every day. Can you imagine that? A woman who looks nice every day? A woman who looks like the same woman every day?

To be perfectly honest, I did not see the major overhauls that you did. And frankly, I was quite impressed that so many of the women looked not much different than 20 years ago; just a little more beautiful (ouch).

As far as the men go, I thought they were wonderful. I also thought that some of them were actually more attractive in all their shiny glory than in that ugly decade of hair all over the place. In any event, a friend of mine did win that contest to which you were referring, and as far as I can tell, neither he nor the others were taking any offense to our applause. You know why, Donna? Because it was fun.

Now, as far as your comment about the voodoo dolls and pinch-to-the-inch contest is concerned, you're walking the line of anal behavior here. Frankly, I'd probably be a runner-up in that "inch" contest, but most came to this reunion to see what the others have done with their lives.

I traveled 1,100 miles to attend the festivities and I wouldn't have missed it for the world. I talked with doctors, lawyers, scientists, photographers, pilots, entrepreneurs and moms and dads. All great people that at one time were lowly high school kids together looking for a direction in life. That's what the reunion was all about.

I think I'm pretty safe in saying that most of the spouses were somewhat neglected on that Saturday night. For those of you that can't stand to have your alumni talk with other alumni once every 10 to 20 years, I suggest you stay home the next time.

When I first read your article, I was somewhat amused, but it ate at me in a real negative way. I hated how you took such a wonderful weekend for me and told the world how sophomoric it seemed to you. And, of course, it was only your perspective that the work got to read.

Donna, do you plan on attending your next reunion in curlers and a bathrobe? Lighten up!

Editor's note: Lakeland Newspaper columnist Donna Abear's recent humorous account of a 20-year high school reunion found an interested reader—and vociferous critic—in far off Andover, Ma. Nancy L. Brown Maedel was given rebuttal time for an equally humorous response.

Potter to show craft at Festival of the Arts

Paula Pederson, a locally acclaimed potter, is the featured artist at this year's Festival of the Arts. In addition to exhibiting and selling her work, Pederson will be demonstrating her craft along with some of her Adler Center students, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 10 and 11, on the grounds of the David Adler Cultural Center.

A traditional studio potter, Pederson achieved significant acclaim from her participation in art festivals and exhibitions in Illinois and Wisconsin. Her most recent honors include: 1994 Merit Award, Audubon Art Fair, Milwaukee Wisconsin; 1993 Award of Excellence, Midwest Salute to the Masters, Fairfield Heights, Ill.; and Best of Show, Itasca Junior Women's Art Fair, to name a few.

Pederson studied ceramics at the College of Lake County,

Grayslake, from 1981-1984 and has worked and studied independently in her home-based studio in Waukegan for over 10 years. She sees little difference between her current occupation as a studio potter and her former position as an executive at Abbott Laboratories. "Art is similar to business," Pederson claims, "in that you are attempting to solve a problem."

Her work utilizes colored clays and surface textures to produce vessels and other forms with an unusual lively quality. It is a complicated process that begins with making her own clay bodies in various colors. Each piece is created on the potter's wheel where, during the forming process, the colored clays are distributed through the vessel walls. Surface areas on many pieces are textured or chattered, a technique of gouging the surface which enables the beautiful clay colors to evolve. Some pieces are coated with a dark slip or a clear leadless glaze—most often the exterior is left unglazed, leaving a coarse stony texture, a dominant characteristic of her work.

Art collectors and pottery lovers will have an opportunity to purchase this fine stoneware during the festival, from approximately $20 for a small bowl to $100 for much larger pieces.

Pederson is also a member of the Adler Center art faculty, having taught clay classes there since 1990. "Mud Works," an entry-level course, explores handbuilding and the fundamentals of pottery; "Feats of Clay," a more advanced pottery course, is designed for students who work completely on the potter's wheel. Both are designed and taught by Pederson.

In addition to her role as a teacher at the David Adler Cultural Center, Pederson is also a committed volunteer. Pederson designs the center's newsletters, educational fliers and completes numerous other computer projects throughout the year. She also serves as a member of the programming committee, feeling her most important role is as an advocate for cultural arts organizations. She and her husband Ray also received the Waukegan Symphony "Distinguished Service Award" at the symphony's annual fundraiser.

Pederson is an excellent example of the remarkable people to be met at the David Adler Cultural Center, people dedicated to the arts as practicing artists and as educators.

Paula Pederson, artist and teacher, will be demonstrating her craft at the Adler Center September 10 and 11.

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

With her white poodle "Muffin" nestled at her side, Ruth Carruthers speaks with zeal about "Doctor," as if he were sitting next to her, but the Western "avatar"—as he was known by many of his followers—had moved onto the spiritual world in 1960.

Ruth Carruthers just finished penning the biography of Dr. Hugh Greer Carruthers—teacher, author, lecturer, world traveler and humanitarian. Dr. Carruthers was a spiritual leader who helped millions worldwide find self-fulfillment and truth through the "Occult Wisdom of the Ages." He held audiences, particularly Chicago audiences during the 1930s, spellbound during the first half of the 20th Century. For three decades his followers had been thirsting for an insight into the personal and private life of their Master Teacher, and through a spark of divine inspiration, Ruth Carruthers says, she finally authored his biography, "Dr. Hugh Greer Carruthers—His Life and His Teachings."

It only seems fitting to have his biography written by a former student, co-worker and wife of the Doctor.

"I didn't write it. I was inspired by him," said Ruth Carruthers, now 83 and a longtime Libertyville resident. After several failed attempts to write an autobiography, Doctor figured the chronicles of his life were not meant to be, nor did Ruth.

That changed when she was going to write a brief biography for the Theological Science Society, which he founded. As she was writing the brief biography, she recognized the inspiration and responded.

"I am convinced that everything we do is guided by that inner voice, and when I wrote this book, everything fell into place," Carruthers said.

And that inner voice is what Doctor tried to awaken in people during his pilgrimage on Earth. An Englishman, he had doctorates in medicine, philosophy and divinity. In addition, for 17 years he lived and studied under the Indian mystics in Tibet as he sought for the inherent roots of the almighty Truth. He then moved to America in 1920 and hit the lecture circuit, largely in Chicago during the 1930s.

"He was known as a human engineer, builder of successful men and women," Carruthers said of Doctor, whose philosophy was relatively simple: "Through prayer, one can be, do and have anything." His "Course of Training for Personal Development" continues to enrich the lives of his students who have triumphed over their business affairs and personal lives through his instruction.

According to Carruthers, Doctor's revelations about truth did not adhere to any particular religion. It encompassed them all—Christian, Jewish, Muslim and East Indian—and Doctor adapted his lectures accordingly. In America, he taught through the Christ philosophy because most members of his American audiences were Christian.

"He was trying to enlighten people to take charge of their lives," Carruthers said. "The only power man has is thought, and if you can control thought, you can control your destiny."

And controlling one's destiny through thought is something more people will begin doing in the years to come, Carruthers said, because Doctor said a new era (Aquarius) in mankind is now in transition. He was a believer in astrology as well.

Each era lasts 2,021 years, with the Pisces era beginning with the birth of Christ and ending in the year 2021. Carruthers points to the Bible and Christ saying, "When the waters recede, I will come again." She says Jesus may not appear in physical form, but he will enlighten man's intellect. The Aquarius era is also the Age of Enlightenment.

"I means the innate intelligence in man will be awakened, so the dire times can be avoided," Carruthers noted.

Much of Doctor's teachings may be compared to today's New Age Medicine, but Carruthers stresses that Doctor's prophecies of truth were scientifically and historically based, as his background would suggest. "He was 50 years ahead of his time," Carruthers said.

His teachings challenge mainstream religion by today's standards, let alone the Christian, conservative standards of the '30s, '40s and '50s. In fact, Church and medical leaders, especially in Chicago, tried to silence Doctor, even going insofar as accusing him of rape.

"He got into a lot of trouble because he was out-spoken. They wanted to shut him up," Carruthers said. He was convicted of rape, served time in prison and was eventually freed by the Illinois

Supreme Court, which said it taxed the credulity of this court to believe such a crime could have taken place.

When Doctor was released from prison is when Ruth joined the Neological Society staff in 1948. She originally heard him during one of his radio lectures and was a student of his since 1939. They were married in 1953.

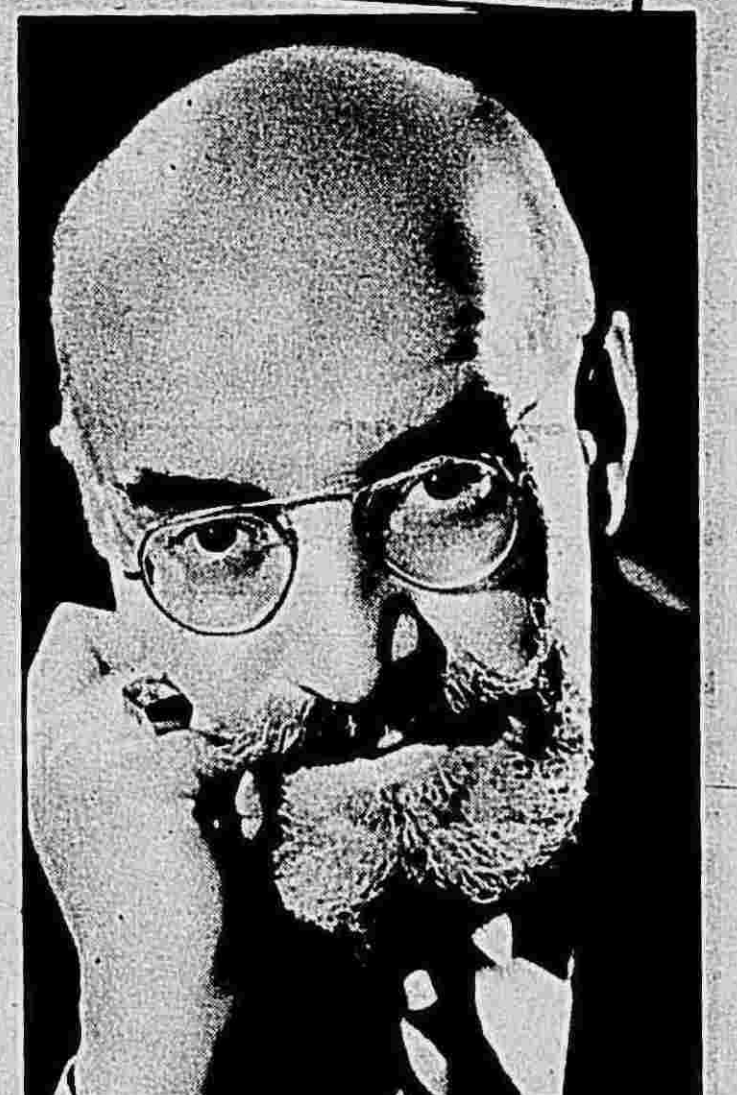

"He was so magnetic. I stood in awe of him. I never dreamed that I would be associated with him," said Carruthers, adding, "It was strictly a working relationship until 1953."

His magnetism captivated audiences for more than four hours at a time, Carruthers said. She also said house guests did not want to even break to go to the bathroom as they became deeply intrigued by his wisdom as he spoke freely for hours.

"He recognized the innate consciousness in each person," Carruthers said. "He used to say, 'The reason why I set you straight is because it (truth or self-fulfillment) was buried. You already knew it.'"

Carruthers devotes the first half of the book to his biography and memories she shared with Doctor from 1939 to 1960. The second half of the book is dedicated to his teachings, writings and radio scripts.

Puppet Show for children at CLC

Marilyn Price

Puppeteer Marilyn Price will present a "Punch and Cookies Show" featuring a variety of puppets and stories at 11 a.m., Sept. 24 at the College of Lake County. The show is part of the college's family fun series and will be held in the auditorium of the Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St.

The program is designed to entertain children as well as educate them about self-esteem, motivation and confidence. Tickets are $2. Call the student activities box office at 223-6601, ext. 2300 for tickets.

Adler expands program

The David Adler Cultural Center will present Festival of the Arts '94 Sept. 10 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sept. 11 from noon to 5 p.m. This year's expanded children's program will include "Reggae Man." A collaborative children's effort, "Reggae Man" is a life-size sculpture made of wood, chicken wire, cloth scraps, yarn and dyed fabrics.

Created by the children who attended the 3rd Annual Children's Art Fair at the Cuneo Museum and Gardens, this sculpture has captured the hearts of the children in the community. Children attending Festival of Arts '94 will have an opportunity to continue work on "Reggae Man" and create his new companion piece in the Children's Art Yard on Sept. 10 and 11.

Adler art faculty, board members and volunteers will be encouraging kids to create, explore and experiment throughout the day.

A variety of activities including portrait painting, clay play, face painting (provided by the Kohl's Children Museum) and jewelry making will be available, plus children will have the opportunity to work on the potters wheel.

The Children's Art Yard has been designed to encourage children to work with professional arts and craftsperson and enhance their experience of quality fine arts and crafts exhibited at the Festival of Arts.

Jenkins to perform

Highly acclaimed children's performer Ella Jenkins, will present a children's concert titled "Adventures in Rhythm," at the Woodstock Opera House on Saturday, Sept. 24, beginning at 2 p.m.

Smithsonian/Folkways recording artist Ella Jenkins, is perhaps the most influential children's performer in American music. Over the years, Ella Jenkins has performed for children on all seven continents (including Antarctica.)

Tickets for this children's concert are priced at $6 each and are on sale at Woodstock Opera House box office, 121 Van Buren Street, Woodstock, IL 60098. For tickets or more information, call (8715) 338-5300.

Kids Need Culture, Too

"Kids Need Culture, Too!" returns to the Northbrook Theatre with yet another year of popular performs for the younger set. This series of Saturday Spectaculars start on Sept. 17, with the Atomic Fireballs, back by popular demand. A rock band just for kids.

Theological Science Society is under the auspices of the Hugh G. Carruthers Foundation and still espouses Doctor's teachings of self-improvement. It is a non-denominational religious association with worldwide membership, embracing men and women of all religious convictions.

The new book promises to offer current students the insight into Doctor's life they have been yearning for. It will also offer the curious reader a whole new understanding in truth and how to locate and listen to that inner voice which helps man lead a fulfilling life.

Just as the Doctor used to say that if his teachings helped one person, then his vision could be considered a success, Ruth Carruthers believes, "If this book only helps one person, then it is worth it."

SPECIAL EVENTS

'Do It All' extravaganza set

The third annual "Do It All" event, sponsored by First Colonial Bank's Doers Club, will be held at the Oak Brook Marriott Hotel from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 10. "Do It All" Day will encompass a variety of entertainment, activities and exhibits aimed specifically at those for whom age is just a number, and who want to make it count by "doing it all!" Highlight the day will be a gourmet luncheon, during which guests will be entertained by the wizardry and wonder provided by magicians, Mark Anthony and Rich Bennecke. The day will offer the opportunity to stop by a number of exhibit booths, receive a complete personalized makeover from Mary Kay Cosmetics consultants, and participate in a small-grade golf competition. Following the luncheon, attendees will be treated to a variety show featuring musician Bill Curry and impressionist Frank Pisan. Cost of the event is $22.50 per person. For information on purchasing tickets, call 1(800)573-DOER.

Second City to perform at CLC

The nationally known Second City comedy troupe will bring their best bits to the College of Lake County in performances at 7 and 9 p.m. Friday, Sept. 9, in the auditorium on the Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St. The Chicago-based touring company is best known for its satirical comedy improvisations based on real-life situations and current political, cultural and social issues. Tickets are $7 general admission, $5 for CLC students and alumni. For ticket information call 223-6601, ext. 2300.

Celebrate grandparents day

The staff at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, 1055 E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst, invites all residents to recall those memories of their grandparents and create some new ones. Visit the center to "Celebrate Grandparents Day," from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 11. The family-centered carnival-style event will include games, clowns, face-painting, music, balloons and a chance to share an afternoon of fun with the older adult in your life. Call 356-5900 for further information.

Condell plans distance classic race

The 18th annual Condell Distance Classic race will take place on Sunday, Sept. 18 at Condell Medical Center, 900 Garfield Ave., Libertyville. The race includes the Condell 10K race, the MetLife 5K run/walk and the Lakeland One Mile Fun Run. Races start at 9 a.m. Entry fees are 10K race $15; MetLife Club run/walk is $9; and the Lakeland fun run is $5. Entry fees will be higher on race day. The event is a USA/TF sanctioned and certified race. Condell Class t-shirts and random prizes will be offered. For registration and information call the Department of Public Relations at 362-2905, ext. 5275.

Misericordia family fest offers fun for all

Misericordia/Heart of Mercy Center, a residential facility for 450 children and adults with mental disability, is busy planning its 14th annual Family Fest, to be held on Sunday, Sept. 11 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Located on Misericordia's campus, 6300 N. Ridge Ave. in Chicago, the Family Fest will feature entertainment, auctions, ethnic food booths, games, shopping and more. Joel Daly and the Sundowners, the Skylarks and the Heartbreakers will be on hand to entertain guests. Admission is $7 for adults, $4 for children and senior citizens. For further information call Misericordia at (312)973-6300.

REVIEW

'La Cage' one of Marriott's best

Only the best of musicals opens with a bang and continues at that pace until it reaches an even more explosive finale. So it is with the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre's newest production of the multiple Tony-Award-winning extravaganza, "La Cage Aux Folles," by Jerry Herman and Harvey Fierstein.

This recipient of six Tonys in 1984, is the poignant story of a gay Parisian nightclub owner, his partner in life who just happens to be the toast of Párcé's female impersonating genre, and the child they raise.

John Reeger is smooth and warm as the owner and emcee of the dazzling St. Tropez nightclub, best known for its notorious chorus line of "Cagelles." It seems he begets a male child during a drunken stint and he and his partner in life, played by Larry Yando, devote themselves to raising the child, who ends up being straight as an arrow. Yando is also smashing in the nightclub numbers he does as ZaZa.

Problems arise when the son, well-played by Kevin Early, wants to marry the daughter of a French dignitary, who is the leading opponent of the gay society.

Things get even more complicated since he wants to bring his girl, played by the lithe and lovely Jessica Boevers, to meet his parents - aye - here lies the rub! Will all concerned learn what really is important in life?

The acting, the singing, the dancing, the production numbers, all get a 10 in our book, especially the finale of both acts

Kevin Early and Jessica Boevers star in "La Cage Aux Folles"

We smell award nominations for Yando, Reeger, and possibly a supporting one for the hilarious maid/butler played with contagious glee by Sean Blake.

Score another 10 points for our favorite song in the show, "I Am What I Am."

This is one of those "must see" musicals. It's running through November to be followed by Marriott's holiday offering "Music Man."—by GLORIA DAVIS

Cooking by the Book Say 'Cheese—cake!'

Correspondent

"Cheesecake Extraordinaire," liberally illustrated with lush color photography, first appeared in 1990. Now, this beautiful effort by Mary Crowover is out in paperback.

The author does a fine job of demystifying what for some can be an intimidating cooking experience. She recommends equipment and offers suggestions on ingredients ("avoid overbeating eggs to prevent cracks").

Her recipes include a section on beverage-based cheesecakes, including some using small amounts of liqueurs such as amaretto or crème de menthe. Fruit, nut, mint, chocolate, coconut, custard-and-spice and vanilla cheesecakes all warrant separate chapters. She offers dozens of recipes that even a veteran cheesecake devotee might want to try. Her caramel chocolate chunk cheesecake is a case in point; it's one that disappeared very quickly from the dessert tray.

Caramel chocolate chunk cheesecake

Nutty oatmeal crust

3/4 cup quick rolled oats

3/4 cup chopped walnuts or pecans

3/4 cup light brown sugar

1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon (optional)

1/4 cup butter or margarine (melted)

In a medium bowl stir together rolled oats, chopped nuts, brown sugar and, if desired, cinnamon. Add melted butter or margarine and stir till well combined. Press crumb mixture evenly onto the bottom of a greased 9-inch springform pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 18 to 20 minutes or until light brown. Cool.

Caramel filling

24 oz. cream cheese

1/3 cup dark brown sugar

1/3 cup dark corn syrup

5 tps. cornstarch

1 egg yolk

1 1/2 tsp. vanilla extract

1 cup chocolate chunks

In a large bowl combine cream cheese, brown sugar, corn syrup and cornstarch. Beat with an electric mixer until smooth. Add eggs and egg yolk, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in vanilla extract. Pour cream cheese mixture over the crust.

Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Lower the temperature to 225 degrees and bake for 40 minutes. Sprinkle the top with chocolate chunks. Return to the oven and bake about 35 minutes more or until the center no longer looks wet or shiny. Remove the cake from the oven and run a knife around the inside edge of the pan. Turn the oven off; return the cake to the oven for an additional 1 hour. Chill, uncovered, overnight. Makes 12 to 18 slices.

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

Tales from a teenager's bedroom: The nightmare continues!

As you may or may not remember, in Part 1 of our tale, I had just run screaming from my teenage son's bedroom, which had turned into some sort of nightmare laundry farm. I ran upstairs to inform my husband of my discovery.....

"Oh, there you are, honey," said my husband. "You're missing a good movie—Invasion of the Body Snatchers. You know—the one where everyone turns into pods from outer space."

"What about laundry? They don't turn into laundry, do they?"

He assured me that they didn't. But then I saw it—the pile of clothes on the floor next to his side of the bed. I should have known.

He's one of them!

I couldn't let on that I knew. I muttered something about forgetting to turn off the lights in the kitchen, and instead I rushed down the hall to my 5 year old's room. Shivering with fear, I slowly opened the door and peeked in. I choked back a scream, as I saw more piles of laundry—little teeny underwear, little teeny socks, even Barney the dinosaur lay naked with his little purple clothes in a pile on the floor. I quickly closed the door and ran to the baby's room.

Please, I thought, not the baby, too. I opened up her bedroom door, and almost fell back in horror. Teeny weeny piles of Pampers were scattered about the room. It was too much. I pulled the door shut and ran to the kitchen to call the police.

I dialed 911.

"Antioch Police Department."

"Hello, this is Donna Abear. I want to report that my family is being taken over by alien laundry."

"Do you have to whisper? I can hardly hear you, Ma'am."

"I don't want them to hear me. They're all part of it. I'm the only one that's normal."

"If you say so. Now, what's this about alien laundry?"

"Well, first they grow on the floor as little laundry pods, and next thing you know your family turns into aliens."

"Uh, huh. I think you've got the wrong number. Maybe you should be talking to the Immigration Dept."

"No, you've got to listen.... Oh, forget it! No one will believe me!"

I hung up the phone in disgust. Suddenly, I heard someone clear their voice, and looked up to see my husband standing over me, a dirty sock hanging from each ear. I screamed and screamed until.....

Someone woke me up.

"Donna! Wake up! Geez, you must have had one hell of a nightmare," said my husband.

"Huh? Get away from me. You're one of them."

"Them? Who are 'them'?"

"The alien laundry pods."

He thought for a moment. "Yes, dear," he said, in that patronizing tone.

"What do you mean, 'yes, dear'?"

"What else can you say when your wife calls you an alien laundry pod?"

Men. They just don't understand, do they?

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

If you take advantage of the bargain prices currently being offered for three or four day cruises, you're probably going to spend a day or two in Nassau, the most popular port in the Bahamas.

If you don't get there by sea, America Trans Air (ATA) recently announced a super low airfare to Nassau, which makes this tropical vacation destination affordable to just about anyone.

So what's there to do once you get to Nassau?

Among the most popular of Nassau's newest attractions is the Dolphin Encounter on Blue Lagoon Island.

For some time now, the Calypso excursion boats have offered day trips to Blue Lagoon Island, located about three miles off the coast of Nassau. This Shangri-la is just how you may imagine, with hammocks strung between coconut palms, numerous beaches and sparkling turquoise water. Now there is even more on Blue Lagoon with the new Dolphin Encounter.

For a fee of about $30 you can play with the dolphins from a pier. For another $55, you get to actually swim with these fascinating mammals for a half hour.

Another new addition to Nassau is the famous Atlantis Submarine recently featured on the National Geographic television show.

The Atlantis is a real submarine offering you the opportunity to dive to 80 ft. in air-conditioned comfort. There, you'll gaze through your own port-hole at breathtaking coral reefs and ancient ship-wrecks. Jet-propelled divers cruise around the sub feeding colorful reef-fish and bringing them up close to you. The divers will also identify the marine life and talk to you via a high-tech underwater PA system.

And finally for those looking for a little more excitement, try the Exuma Powerboat Adventure. A 900 HP luxury powerboat will whisk you away to an island inhabited by giant Dragon Lizards. Really!

Is 'Killers' a celluloid mirror?

Woody Harrelson and Juliette Lewis are "Natural Born Killers"

It's the unspoken language of sitcoms, sound bites, Court-TV, Geraldo's latest topic ("Men who worship handguns, and the women who love them, tomorrow at 9") and the roar of the rest of the media that drives Oliver Stone's "Natural Born Killers." This is an engine of some power—like "Bonnie and Clyde" on hallucinogenic drugs.

Stone took a lot of the inner sickness of folks like mass-murderers Mickey and Mallory Knox (Woody Harrelson and Juliette Lewis) poured in America's current endless fascination—perhaps itself a sickness—with the faces and brain-workings of such killers, and came up with a captivating look at how people have become more concerned about crime and criminals than getting at the truth or seeing justice served.

"...Killers" finds all of us who gawk at fresh crime scenes, who can't resist a look at the tragic accident, and who follow wackos like Charles Whitman, Ted Bundy, Charles Manson, Richard Ramirez, etc.

The film is all over the place, visually and aurally. The cinematic sights combine black and white with color, harsh grain with perfect clarity, constantly-changing camera angles, and all types of video formats. It must have been hard to make trailers of this movie—it's all trailers. There is less actual bloodshed than you might expect, though. What we watch is the secondary take; our reaction. The video changes are interesting for about 45 minutes, but become tedious after a while. The plot line would have stood easily on its own, without the chain-saw editing of Hank Corwin and Brian Berdan. The dialogue is choppy, fast-paced, and in some cases, completely unintelligible.

Audiences will be drawn in, perhaps because of the movie's frenetic editing and the feeling it gives people who are never satiated with the violence already out in the streets. We have every personality to identify with in this movie. Robert Downey Jr. brings his tawdry tab-TV host Wayne Gale to life in a way that makes viewers want to both track his serial-killer quest, and at the same time, exorcise him. In one classic behind-the-scenes take of Gale in the production studio, he describes television as "...junk food for the brain."

Tommy Lee Jones' characterization as prison warden Dwight McClusky is vividly attractive as well. From the garish wide tie, to his description of his facility as "...not a prison, but a time bomb," Jones personified the TV/cinema warden. He definitely gets away from the images forged in "The Client," and "The Fugitive."

Viewers get everything in this movie - just like in real life. Bleating victims, love, hate, a Rodney King-style beating of Mickey, interviews with screaming fans of Mickey and Mallory, and lots of glimpses of senseless stupid reality. "Natural Born Killers" is shocking most in its portrait of reality. There are no good guys in this film, one of its more depressing aspects.

Rated "R" because of "extreme violence and graphic carnage, for shocking images, and for strong language and sexuality," this movie gets 3.5 out of five stars. The acting is solid by all players, including Tom Sizemore as Jack Scagnetti and Rodney Dangerfield's bizarre portrayal of Mallory's father. —by JEFFREY P. BROWN

'The Student Prince' brings together spirited, vocally strong cast

Light Opera Works' most recent production, a revival of Sigmund Romberg's "The Student Prince," brought together a spirited, vocally strong cast and a sweet-sounding 28-member orchestra.

Set in 1890 Germany, the simple story involves a young prince who must choose between a peasant girl and a princess to whom he is betrothed.

David Gaschen, as Prince Karl Franz, prefers to be "just one of the boys," tripping a stein or two with his fellow students. His rich, mellow voice captures the care-free spirit of youthful innocence.

Amy Cochrane is fetching as the waitress at the inn ready to ride off into the sunset with the man of her dreams, while Susan Lane Stokes is the patient and caring Princess Margaret.

"The Student Prince," which played to sold-out crowds, ran for four performances only at Centre East for the Performing Arts in Skokie, where the acoustics are good but the sightlines—not to mention the air conditioning—are awful.

Among the upcoming programs on Light Opera Works' agenda is a Las Vegas-style revue on Oct. 29 and 30 by Ann Blyth and Bill Hayes. This will be given at the Pick-Staiger Concert Hall in Evanston. The group returns to its renovated home, the Cahn Auditorium in Evanston, with "The Most Happy Fells," Dec. 26 to Jan. 1. Ticket information is available by calling 869-6300.—

Take the family to Quig's for a great start to the fall season

Believe it or not, the fall season is upon us, which makes it a good time to stop at Quig's with the family for a fall outing that includes wonderful food, a visit to the country store, and apple picking at Quig's orchard.

Apple picking season is here, so gather the family and hurry to Quig's for the best selection of Macintosh, Jonathan, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, and Rome Beauty apples. Picking hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. until mid-October. At forty-nine cents a pound (20 pound minimum), it's an inexpensive, fun way to spend the day with your family.

Fall events at Quig's include: Animal Fair on Sept. 10 & 11, with a 10 a.m. appearance by Top Kennels' "Popeye & His Amazing Dog Olive Oyl" on the 11th, and a Craft Show on Sept. 17 & 18. You won't want to miss the winter activities such as horse-drawn sleigh rides and Santa visits for the kids.

Quig's is a great place for a relaxing lunch during the weekday, especially since they offer delicious lunch specials and a salad bar that's loaded with homemade specials prepared fresh daily. Quig's visitors are also happy with the recent addition of Friday night dinners that feature an all-you-can-eat fish fry for $5.95, BBQ Ribs, pasta dishes, and more. The children will love the chicken nuggets in the shape of dinosaurs!

Family-owned and operated from the start, Quig's is overseen by Bob and Marion Quig. Their children, Alan Quig and Pam Berek, along with their spouses, all participate in the operations.

Quig's has been around since 1947, growing from an orchard and roadside fruit stand selling apples from a truck to a full-service restaurant seating more than 100.

The restaurant is a popular spot on the weekends, but for breakfast in a relaxed atmosphere during the week, there's nothing like Quig's. One popular selection is the old style biscuits and gravy with sausage. There's a large variety of breakfast and lunch choices on the menu.

The atmosphere at Quig's is unique and quaint, so you won't want to miss taking a walk into the courtyard to view the waterfall and the goldfish, or browse in the gift shop of the country store. You can even take home fresh pastries from the bakery.

Quig's Restaurant, 1/4 mile north of Midlothian Rd on Rte 83 in Mundelein, is open from 7 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Tues. through Sun., and Fri. from 4:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Hours for the Bakery and Country Store are 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information call 566-4520. The Greenhouse and Garden Gift Shop are open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and their number is 566-9130.

The Silo has the best pizza

When one comes to The Silo in Lake Bluff for a sumptuous pizza feast, it doesn't take that person long to realize they are in for quite a treat. Accolades abound for The Silo's specialty, which has been voted the best pan pizza on the North Shore by the Chicago Tribune, and is said to be "a superior version of Chicago style pan pizza" by Chicago Magazine.

Their varied assortment of pizza delights include supreme, vegetarian, seafood, taco, spinach soufflé, and lasagna. If diehards are not satisfied with these complete pizzas, they can load on extra sausage, mushrooms, pepperoni, ground beef, bacon, Canadian bacon, ham, pineapple, anchovies, black olives, onions, green peppers, jalapeno peppers, fresh garlic, sliced tomatoes, broccoli, zucchini, yellow squash, and of course, extra cheese.

Even though pizza connoisseurs will be treated like royalty, one should not assume that The Silo is merely a pizza place. They have a full menu that includes baby back ribs, 4 chicken breast dishes, 7 pasta dishes, 7 varieties of baked potatoes, 22 sandwich choices, 16 appetizers, 6 soups and salads, and some heart healthy servings.

Every Sunday evening from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., the whole family can be entertained by Tom "BOZ" The Magician. BOZ has appeared on Bozo's Circus, NBC TV, Fox TV, and at The Pump Room.

The family owned restaurant has developed a warm atmosphere for dining and the staff is highly service oriented and more importantly, very friendly. Their loft affords ample banquet space for large groups.

The Silo, located at 625 Rockland Road (Rte. 176), in Lake Bluff, is open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mon. through Thurs., 11 a.m. to 12 midnight Fri. and Sat., and 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sundays. Their phone is (708) 234-6660.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You're entering a cycle in which you become more involved with a group activity. You may become a spokesperson for a cause. A romantic introduction may come through the job. It's continued success for you regarding career endeavors this week.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A busy round of talks relating to business interests begin. Be sure to follow through on promises made to those close to you. A call from afar may be romantic. Delays and extra duties at work keep you hopping.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Do your best not to let things slide on the job this week. Be careful you don't overlook something of importance. An intellectual interest soon becomes all-consuming. Before taking an investment risk, consult with experts.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) This week is likely to bring a romantic surprise. You'll be paying extra attention to financial record-keeping and investment planning in the coming weeks. You're on the same wavelength with a loved one this week. However, watch your temper over the weekend.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You're likely to meet with an unexpected romantic flirtation this week. Avoid lavish expenditure on home entertaining. A period of important negotiations begins. You're on a roll where job interests are concerned.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You are easily distracted as the week begins. However, the coming weeks will find you very much involved in your work. A spur-of-the-moment romantic outing is romantic. You may be trying too hard to find a solution to a certain domestic problem.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A meaningful dialogue between you and a family member begins. Changes at home may involve decor. The search for good times could lead to extravagant spending. This weekend, home life is favored over socializing.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You'll be allotting more time for reading and catching up with correspondence now and in the next few weeks. Self-discipline will enable you to accomplish what you set out to do, especially duties at home. However, be aware of a loved one's hurt feelings.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Guard against an embarrassing slip of the tongue. Be diligent about money interests. The coming weeks may find you signing up for a class, lecture or seminar. You may overhear remarks that aren't to your liking.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Charm is your ally early in the week but socializing may lead to excessive spending. Finding ways to augment your income is a major focus for the rest of this month. You have some wonderful new plans and insights.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Try not to overplay your hand in business. You'll be expressing yourself to good effect in the coming weeks. It's not a time for confrontation on the home front. Loved ones feel you are being too domineering.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You may meet with a sudden romantic attraction this week. Others confide in you. A study project will be all-important in the near future. Be sensible about travel, especially over the coming weekend.

Questions about prostate cancer

Cancer of the prostate is a leading cancer threat to American men. As with breast cancer in women, early detection of prostate cancer has proven effective in increasing men's survival rate of this disease. Victory Memorial Hospital, in conjunction with board certified urologists Raza Khan, Harsh Kumar and Thomas Porter, is holding prostate cancer screenings by appointment from 6 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at the hospital, 1324 North Sheridan Road, Waukegan, and from 6 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, September 27, at the Victory Medical Building in Walden Square, 100 North Atkinson Road, Grayslake. To make an appointment, call 1-800-THE CHOICE (1-800-843-2464).

Drs. Khan, Kumar and Porter had a discussion about frequently asked questions relating to prostate cancer.

Are there measures men can take to prevent prostate cancer from occurring?

According to Dr. Khan, there is no known cause of cancer of the prostate, so there are also no known preventative measures that a man can take. However, it is known that individuals may be at a higher risk of developing the disease if they have a family history of prostate cancer or if they are African-American.

Is there an effective method of detecting prostate cancer?

A combination of a Prostate Specific Antigen (PSA) blood test and a rectal examination is the most effective method of detecting prostate cancer. In its early stages, prostate cancer usually exhibits no noticeable symptoms. However, these two tests can detect the disease during its early curable stage.

At what age should men begin having a prostate cancer screening?

Dr. Kumar states that screening should begin at 50 years of age in the majority of the population. However, if you are at high risk of the disease due to a family history of prostate cancer or an African American Heritage, you should begin screenings at age 40 or even earlier.

How long does a prostate screening take and what is involved?

A prostate screening is a simple procedure and it takes less than five minutes. The screening requires a blood draw for a PSA (Prostate Specific Antigen) test and a rectal examination. Test results are sent to you following the laboratory evaluation.

If I find out I have prostate cancer, what treatment options do I have?

This is a complex question and should be discussed with a urologist when and if a diagnosis of cancer is made, says Dr. Porter. I generally spend half an hour or more with a patient and his family just to identify and discuss possible treatments.

Tradition still popular in naming babies

While the number of babies born annually at EHS Good Shepherd Hospital continues to climb, the popularity of baby names remains traditional, with a few unusual exceptions.

A listing of all of the names of the babies born at EHS Good Shepherd since the first of the year reveals that parents in the hospital service area encompassing northwestern Cook County, southern Lake County and northeastern DuPage County follow in the steps of dear 'ole dad with many juniors, IIIs, IVs and even a VI recorded.

The most popular boy's name is John or Jonathan, closely followed by Daniel, David and Thomas. Also showing family tradition is William, Andrew, Robert and Nicholas. The girls are no exception, with the most popular girl's name being Catherine, with several variations of spellings including Kathryn, Kate, Katie and Katrina.

Anne, Anna, Annie and Annillese are also popular with both first and middle names. Elizabeth, Alexandra, Emily, Nicole, Amanda and Jessica also made the list.

K and C seems to score the highest favor with parents as starting letters for their newborns, with girls being named Karah (Cara), Kira, Kayla, Kristen, Kendall, Karli, Kelsey, Kaitlyn and Kogan. There were several Claires, Cortneys and Colleen, too. Boys with K's and C's were named Kyle, Kent, Cody, Caleb, Christopher, Casey, Corbin and Christian.

Parents that sought a more unique name for their sons chose Arlo, Landon, Dakota Rex, Hayden and Mark Anthony. Parents of girls looking for the unusual opted for Faith, Skylar, Makenna Savannah, Lila and Taryn.

The popularity of television shows showed up in names like 90210's Tori and Dylan. Brenda did not make the list, however, although Shannon did!

While there seems to be a trend toward the more traditional names, one trend that has changed, however, is that there were no Jasons or Jennifers born at EHS Good Shepherd during the first part of 1994.

Condell Distance Classic set for September 18

Only 14 runners were at the starting line when the Condell Distance Classic (CDC) 10K race was first held in 1976. Now in its 18th year and part of Condell Medical Center's continuing effort to promote good health to the general public, the CDC will see more than 1300 runners and walkers taking part in the event set for Sunday, Sept. 18.

The event will be held at the Condell Day Center for Intergenerational Care, 700 Garfield Ave., Libertyville. The Condell 10K will kick off at 9 a.m. The MetLife 5K Run/Walk begins at 8:10 a.m. and the Lakeland One Mile Fun Run is set for 8:15 a.m.

Now this year, the CDC will introduce a pre-race warm-up. From 7:30 to 8:45 a.m., physical therapists from the Department of Rehabilitation Services will lead registrants in proper exercises and stretching.

The 1994 CDC co-sponsors are The Heartland Spa, a Health and Fitness Retreat in Gilman, Illinois; MetLife Resources TM; First Colonial Bank of Lake County; Vogue Printers; Jobs Printing and Mailing; Lakeland Newspapers; and Centre Club, the medical center's fitness complex.

Other contributors are Centre Sports Shoppe; Courtesy Graphics, Inc.; Edwardo's Natural Pizza; Kwik Kopy; Marathon Sportswear; O'Tarpey's Rental Service; Pepsi-Cola General Bottlers, Inc.; Proctor's Floral; and Sparkling Spring Water Company.

Donna Turnbull, race coordinator, said that many race traditions remain even though the CDC continues to grow, including the Runner's Breakfast, compliments of Condell Medical Center and friends, which highlights post-race activities, and CDC T-shirts to the first 1000 registrants to pick up their race packets. There will also be random drawing prizes prior to the awards ceremony.

Competitors in the 10K enter by CARA (Chicago Area Runners Association) age groups ranging from 14 years and under to 70 years and over. There is also a Clydesdale (200 pounds and over) Division. The MetLife 5K Run/Walk is also based on the CARA 5-year age classes. Commemorative mugs will be awarded to the first two male and female finishers. Mugs will also be presented to the first five overall male and female finishers in the Lakeland One Mile run and ribbons will be presented to all finishers in the One Mile Run.

Individual 10K and 5K computerized result cards will be available immediately after the race. One milers will be asked to note their time on the display clock.

Packet pick-up and registration in person will be held from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Monday-Friday, Sept. 12 to 16, and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 17, in Condell's Public Relations Department located near the 303 Cleveland Ave. entrance at the back of the hospital. Race day registration will be from 7 to 8:30 a.m. at the start line. Race T-shirt availability will be determined by packet pickup.

For questions, call Condell's Department of Public Relations and Marketing at 362-2905, ext. 5275.

Schedule speakers through Victory

The 1994/95 club year is about to begin. Program chairman for local organizations who still have holes in their program calendars can arrange informative, entertaining programs with as little as four weeks advance notice by calling Victory Memorial Hospital's Speakers Bureau.

Topics range from health-related issues like "Reducing Fat in Our Diets" and "Surviving a Heart Attack" to discussions of self-help programs like "Time Management" and "Dealing with Difficult People." Speakers are available to discuss advances in medicine such as "Women and Heart Disease" and "Advances in Band-Aid (Endoscopic) Surgery." They also address a number of family related issues, including "You and Your Aging Parents," "Latch Key Children," and "Effective Family Communication."

In addition to the many topics outlined in Victory's brochure, the speaker's bureau will develop programs based on the interest of the organization. Presentations will be made at outside meeting locations or arrangements can be made to present the program at the hospital.

The hospital offers a brochure listing dozens of topics for presentations. To receive a free copy of the brochure, call 1-800-843-2464.

Procedure proves successful in treating stress incontinence

Four months ago Bettie Shinks, 50, underwent Victory Memorial Hospital's first laparoscopic Burch procedure for treatment of urinary stress incontinence. Urinary stress incontinence effects approximately 20 to 40 percent of all middle aged women and is characterized by the inability to prevent escape of urine during stress; such as laughing, coughing, sneezing, lifting or sudden movement. This new procedure was performed by board certified obstetrician/gynecologist Frank Sun, M.D. It utilized a laparoscope (a half-inch diameter tube with a telescopic lens attached to a video camera) which allowed Dr. Sun to view the procedure via a television monitor while he was performing it.

The customary method of treating urinary stress incontinence is bladder repair with or without a hysterectomy. An alternative approach is the Burch procedure. Although the traditional Burch procedure usually has better results than the bladder repair treatment, it is more complicated and requires a large abdominal incision. Now, through technological advancements, the Burch procedure can be done laparoscopically and requires only three small half-inch incisions.

"I would recommend the laparoscopic Burch procedure to anyone," said Shinks. "I experienced no pain after the procedure and returned home the next day. I had my surgery on a Thursday, and by Monday my catheter was removed by Dr. Sun."

According to Dr. Sun, with both a customary bladder repair and a traditional Burch procedure, the patient is required to wear a catheter for a minimum of two weeks after surgery and the recuperation period averages six weeks.

"The end results of a laparoscopic Burch procedure are better because the physician can see, via a monitor, exactly how high to pull the bladder neck to suspend it behind the pubic bone," says Dr. Sun. "With a traditional Burch procedure, the physician must rely on feel alone. A patient who has undergone the Burch procedure laparoscopically has less swelling and therefore recovers more quickly."

"I'm so thankful for this procedure," said Shinks. "I love to golf, and now I can enjoy playing an entire round, instead of looking for a washroom after every hole."

Today, more and more gynecological conditions can be treated laparoscopically, such as ovarian cysts, pelvic pain and ectopic pregnancies. Even appendectomies and gall bladder procedures can now be performed utilizing a laparoscope. The end results may include a shorter hospital stay and recuperation period, as well as significantly less scarring. For information regarding Victory's Endoscopic and Laser Care Center, call 360-4246.

Scholarship recipients

Victory Memorial Hospital President Tim Harrington has announced the 1994 Donald Wasson Health Careers Scholarship recipients as Lynda Ruffolo and Laticia Murphey. The award was established in 1990 in honor of the former Victory president. The scholarship is not only designed to provide funding but to also provide encouragement and direction by matching up each student with a mentor in their field of study. The two each received a $1500 scholarship to be applied to their nursing degrees. From left are Bonnie Elliott-Zahork, mentor-evening nursing director; Ruffolo; Harrington; Murphey; Vicky Wright, mentor-nursing resource director; and Wasson.

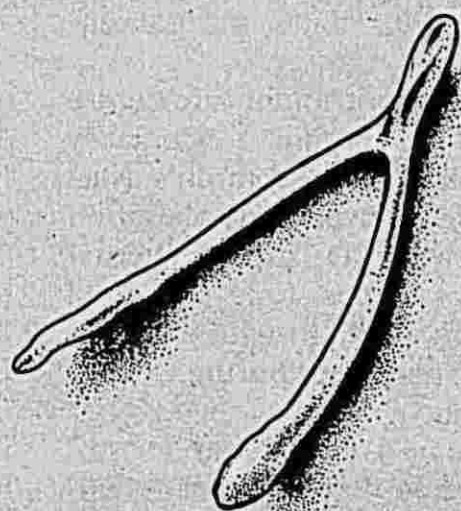

Victory Lakes' grandparents celebration

Remembering the joys of a visit to grandma's house, understanding the lessons grandpa taught and enjoying the simple times of shared conversations with your grandparents. That's what Grandparents Day is all about.

The staff at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, 1055 East Grand Avenue, Lindenhurst, invites area residents to recall those memories and create some new ones. Visit the center with your entire family for "Celebrate Grandparents Day", from 2 to 4 p.m., Sunday, September 11.

The family centered carnival-style event will include games, clowns, face-painting, music, balloons and a chance to share an afternoon of fun with the older adult in your life.

Conservation project

More than 30 EHS Good Shepherd hospital employees armed with brush-cutting tools initiated a conservation and restoration project in the Flint Creek area of the hospital's campus. Representatives from many EHS Good Shepherd departments including administration, house-keeping, emergency medicine, finance and grounds participated in the voluntary effort.

Recognize when gambling bug becomes addiction

Victory Memorial Hospital's chemical dependency treatment programs will present "Symptoms of Gambling Addiction" at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 15, in the hospital amphitheater, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan. Chris Anderson, MS, NCGC, executive director of the Ill. Council on Problem and Compulsive Gambling, Inc., will be the featured speaker. Anderson will discuss the nature of gambling addictions, their legal implications and signs that indicate gambling has become more than a pleasant occasional pastime.

Anderson will present an additional community seminar on gambling addiction, "Gambling Addiction: Implications for Treatment," on Thursday, Oct. 13, as part of the Victory Memorial Hospital community education series. This seminar will focus on effective treatment approaches and available resources.

"Symptoms of Gambling Addiction" is presented as a free community education program to increase awareness and knowledge about addiction diseases. The seminar is designed for community residents, professionals who interact with addicted individuals in the course of their jobs, and chemical dependency counselors seeking continuing education in the field. Application for 1.5 IAODAPCA credit hours has been made for attendance at this seminar. For additional information, call Deb Newman at 688-4357.

Health expert says infant walkers are dangerous

A walker can keep an infant busy and entertained. What many parents don't realize, however, is that an infant can be seriously injured in a walker. In 1991, over 22,000 children sustained fractures, concussions, dislocations and other injuries from walkers. According to pediatrician Lisa Godbold, M.D., of the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago, most injuries occur when a child tips the walker over, falls downstairs or climbs out of it. "Parents should stop using infant walkers immediately," she said. "There's no proof that walkers promote child development, and they're one of the leading causes of injury to an infant's head and neck." Dr. Godbold is also out to shatter other common myths about the infant walker.

Myth: Infant walkers promote walking.

Fact: Infant walkers develop and strengthen muscles along the backs of legs, instead of the important flex or muscles on the fronts of legs that are used in walking.

Myth: Walkers improve a baby's balance.

Fact: Infant walkers encourage infants to stand on their toes and lean forward from their hips, thereby causing their balance to be off-center when they start learning to walk.

Myth: Walkers provide safe entertainment and stimulation.

Fact: Infants are better stimulated in a playpen, where toys are easier to reach. A baby in a walker may teach for a toy on the floor and tip over, causing injury.

Becoming an Optimistic Person

Join us for the Life Skills Series of lectures on issues facing people in today's world. These educational lectures are free, and so is the parking! Refreshments provided.

Presented by:

John Jochem, Psy.D., C.A.D.C.
Program Director, Adult Psychiatry
Saint Therese Medical Center

Are you a pessimist? Is the glass which is half-full for many people half-empty for you? An increasing number of research studies indicate that pessimists and optimists differ from one another not only in terms of how they see the world: people who expect good things to occur instead of bad things often enjoy better performance at tasks and may derive more satisfaction from life. This presentation will help you determine where you lie on the pessimism/optimism continuum and will offer tips on viewing yourself and your future in more positive and constructive ways.

Dr. Jochem is Program Director of Adult Psychiatry at Saint Therese Medical Center, and is also affiliated with Lake Cook Psychologists.

Indoor plants can grow comfortably when repotted

Don't forget to provide your indoor houseplants with room to grow, says the American Association of Nurserymen (AAN). When a plant's roots begin to fill the container and grow out of the openings in the bottom of the pot, the plant should be repotted.

You'll find a wide selection of styles when you look for a new pot for your plants at your local garden center. Whether you choose clay, plastic or ceramic containers, look for a pot one size larger than the pot you are currently using.

Repotting your plants into an overly large container is as bad as keeping them in an overly small one. In a pot that is too large, there will be too much soil. The soil, in turn, will retain more water than the plant's roots can absorb and the result will be root rot.

To get your repotted plant off to the best start, AAN suggests you:

- Place a layer of gravel or other drainage material in the bottom of the pot underneath the soil.

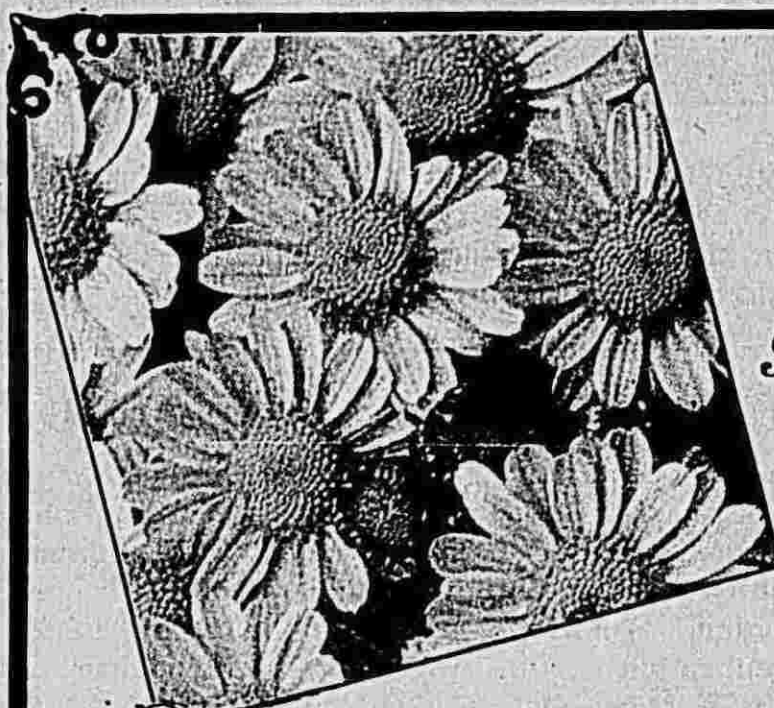

- Use one of the commercial potting soils. They provide houseplants with fertilizers, water retention properties and enhanced drainage.

- Scoop the new soil to the sides of the pot to make a place for the rootball of your plant. Place your plant in the middle of the new container. Fill in and around your plant with soil, but be sure not to add soil above the original soil line.

- Firm the soil lightly and water the plant until you see excess water draining out of the pot.

Your plant can now grow comfortably in its new setting—and you can continue to enjoy the color and living beauty it brings to your home.

White grubs may appear on area lawns in fall

White grubs are considered one of the more destructive lawn insect pests. Lake County is now into the time period when grub damage is likely to start showing on area lawns. While not all lawns will get grubs, there are some important points to consider concerning grubs in lawns.

Grubs are white in color, and have a characteristic "C" shape body when found in the soil feeding on lawn roots.

Grubs are the larva stage of beetles. The most common type of grub in the Lake County area is called the annual white grub, which has tan adults called chafers. Eggs were laid in the soil in mid-summer, primarily on well-watered lawns in full sun, often near pavement.

Since grubs feed on the roots of lawn grasses, damage will appear as browning of the lawn. This also could be due to a other problems such as drought, poor soil, diseases, etc. However, grubs are easy to find by lifting sod in damaged areas and checking the root zone for the whitish grubs.

Lawns showing damage from grubs may be treated with an insecticide. For homeowners, the insecticide diazinon is suggested. Diazinon can be found in garden centers as either a liquid or a granular. Read all the label directions, then apply to damaged areas. Water the insecticide into the soil immediately. If treating a large area, stop after a portion has been treated and water the material in, then complete the rest of the lawn area needing treatment. Only treat in and around affected areas; grubs may only be in a small part of the lawn.

Don't treat a lawn for grubs that do not exist!

Lakeland Newspapers

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

Sweetwater not sweet

I'm calling regarding an article about Sweetwater Mill and shoddy construction. I just wondered if anyone was interested. I can show how poorly they treat those who buy the homes. I bought a home with a furnace that was full of cement and they refuse to do anything about it.

Postal clarity

This is a message to the Round Lake Post Office. Could you please mark your drive-up post office boxes so the people know which one is local and which one is for out of town mail. We have no idea. I have been waiting for three months now and nothing has been posted. It would make it easier for the people mailing and I'm sure it would also make it easier on the people working in the post office.

Be proud

Has anyone in Udenhurst not heard the complaints from the Little Miss contestants? Instead of complaining about the winners and prize winners be proud of your daughters. It is supposed to be fun for the children. This pageant is run by the park district and is in no way political. The park district brings in judges to keep it unbiased. These mothers have far too much time on their hands to nit pick about the winners. Be proud of your daughters and get on with your life.

Pageant blues

This is regarding the Lipservice caller who was unhappy with the Lake County Fair emcee at the beauty pageant. He was talking about the 1993 winner. The 1993 contestants that were in the audience did feel bad about what he said. I wish the person who called in would check her sources first. I thought the pageant went very well. The committee did a nice job. The winner of the Miss and the Little Miss both deserved to win.

Curfew a must

This is to the Round Lake Police officer who two months ago told my child that, at 17 years old, they don't have a curfew. Since that time, my son has been out late every night. He has been uncontrollable. He has received several tickets. He has been in trouble with the law. The police tell him he does not have to tell me because he is 17. But until he is 18, I am legally responsible for what he does. What gives him the right to tell my children that he has no curfew when before that time I had no problem having him by 11 p.m. each night? Thank you, Round Lake Police.

New janitors

What is going on at Avon School? I don't think the janitor service cleans at all. I don't think the windows were cleaned during the summer. Carpets and things should be taken care of. These children spend a lot of time in that overcrowded school. This building is hurting all us old people out here. It does not seem that all of these new people have anything but money. The teachers have to do so much in their own rooms just to get them ready for school. It is kind of upsetting to the students and the parents. Why don't they get a good person to go in there and clean the school? Forget about these contracts for people who don't live in the district. If you get someone who works for the school, you will get a cleaner school.

Where did they go?

Avon school, where are the children? With the bus route for the school being so badly laid out, we don't know what time or where the bus lets off the a.m. kindergarten or where or when the p.m. kids get picked up. Why not continue stopping at the usual places where more than a dozen kids get picked up at once? Who are the people responsible? You can't get the answers from the school.

Viking press

Sometimes I buy a Gurnee Press Paper hoping to read about the honor rolls and other things they do. Other towns are in it but not ours. On Gurnee Days, the paper had a picture of Warren High School cheerleaders and Little Miss Gurnee. No where did I read about the Viking sixth-grade band. Come on, Warren High School is not the only school in this town.

Overweight smokers unite

This is to the smoker who did not give their name because they have been threatened. I am a smoker myself, but I think you are an ignorant and inconsiderate person talking about overweight people. What do you know? Or is it you just don't give a damn. What about insurance rates? Insurance rates go up if you are a smoker. Quit putting the blame on overweight people. You just have to deal with it if you can't smoke in public. I do. Taxes are going to go up on a lot of different things, including cigarettes.

Let my people go

This is pertaining to all the articles about Pete Jakstas. It is time we all grow up and start talking about the streets and parks that are run down. We should talk more about the waterway issues. We should leave the man alone. He has done well for Fox Lake. During his fireworks, Taco Bell had to close down two hours early because they ran out of food. White Hen could not make sandwiches fast enough. We should leave the family alone. I applaud them.

Toying around

There seems to be a contest going on in my neighborhood as to who can put the most bright-colored toys in their backyard or who can build the biggest playset. I am wondering if these people realize these are ugly and the children won't be playing with these toys for very long. You'll just have to throw them away.

Calling all cars

This is to all Antioch apartment building owners. Give these tenants a break by stopping these drug dealers that are infiltrating our dwelling at an alarming rate. Every thing springs to life around here after midnight. Some of us have children and we are tired of the foul language and drinking going on in the parking lot late at night. Where are the police? We need them, pronto.

Straight priorities

This is addressed to 'Fox Lake attitude.' The person complains about a car parked on the street and people in and out of the house late at night. Well, what about the children who run rampant on that street, and the physical and verbal abuse that takes place? Nobody does anything but mind their own business. All of this and you are worried about a junk car? Get your priorities straight.

Get your facts

This is in response to 'One little cutie.' I was one of the backstage assistants and that caller was totally inaccurate. First of all, there were two children per dresser and no one had to dress by themselves. Secondly, we dressers worked very hard for many donated hours to make this a pleasant experience for all the little girls. We kept them entertained and made sure they ate what their parents sent along to them. We fixed their hair as best we could according to the parents instruction in the time we had allotted during the show. Finally, it is a shame that the parent who made the call did not use the experience for positive learning. You should be showing your child how to be a good sport.

Losing sleep

Is anybody else in Lake Villa Township noticing how many trains come through during the night? They blow their horns from Round Lake on to Antioch, waking everybody up. Am I the only one losing a night's sleep because of the train horns? What is the point of all the freight trains coming through the town when everybody is trying to sleep? I think we are losing sleep while a company is making money and I am tired of it.

No beach house

I am really appalled by the director of Parks and recreation here in Wauconda. They are allowing three and four-year-old children to go to the beach house where it is very unsafe and unsanitary. I am also shocked that the Wauconda police department let a 'bum' sleep in the park for three years.

Deathly crossing

The intersection of Rte 173 and Hardin St in Antioch had long been known as a magnet for accidents. Now, a young 19-year-old man lost his life there. It is time for the village, the community, and local politicians to get together and do something about this dangerous intersection. We need signs of a traffic light or something. Let's do something, now before another person dies at this intersection.

Don't soil Mickey

Regarding potty training, I found success when I bought my own children character underwear. I reminded them not to go on Mickey or Barney. They are so proud of their underwear they will not want to soil them. Good luck.

Crooked planet

The world is not flat or round. It is crooked. This is true in all political parties around the world.

Hammer time

Wasn't there a report on the hammer attack across from Prime Time on Aug. 23? There were all kinds of police at the apartment complex. You didn't report it. I was just curious. The newspaper did not report it. I thought the newspaper could help us. The residents were wondering what was going on. Editorial note: A story regarding the hammer attack was in the Sept. 2 issue of the Lake Villa Record, the Underhurd News, and the Antioch News-Reporter. Sorry you missed it.

Shoestring budget

This is to the person who wonders where the money goes that Avon Township baseball makes every year. Avon Township baseball is a non-profit organization. They generate all the money back into the fund. We generally end up with a several hundred dollar balance each year. Our records are a matter of public record and anyone can come look at them at the board meeting. The financial reports are given out each month. The money is not being moved around. It is not right for people to accuse a board of wrongdoing when they probably know nothing about what goes on at the baseball complex. We are trying to give kids a good place to play baseball. I'm sorry if you think the money isn't being used properly. If you would like, go see the treasurer personally for a break down of dollars as to what is raised and where it goes. You'll be surprised to see how much it costs to run an organization like this. You are welcome at the office to see the records. Make an appointment. This organization is providing good baseball for a lot of happy baseball players. We need to continue promoting baseball as a fun activity for the kids.

Make a change

Every time you read Lipservice and all you see is people griping about public offices and library boards and it goes on and on. It is amazing that these are the people who sit on their butts at home and don't do anything about their environment instead of making a real difference. Lipservice is an opportunity to spread lies about people without having to face the people they are spreading lies about. It is very interesting to read and hear all the discontent in the world. How can these people go on in life with all these kinds of attitudes? I hope all of you out there with so much discontent realize there is more to life than just sitting around complaining all the time. If you are going to complain about everything, then stand up and make a change. Run for a position on these boards you complain about. What is the matter with all you people? It is amazing and discouraging.

Pay to play

This is for the lady who is in charge of the Warren Township cheerleading program. I read your rebuttal and let me remind you that we pay for our children to be cheerleaders. They are not tryouts. I don't believe there should be a lottery system and there should not be tryouts. There should be a lottery for sign up so the parents who do not work have an advantage over the parents who do. Those that don't work can stand in line far before sign up to get an advantage for their child. It is not fair.

Where the soccer?

Now that school has started, all you drivers watch out for the kids darting between schoolbuses. I was also reading about the new soccer team Grant High School has started. Though it is wonderful that a girl is going to be playing on a football team, I see nothing in the paper about the soccer team that was just started. I look forward to reading about the team and the league during the season.

Earn your way

I remember seeing the previous article about Mayor Beyer's daughter. I thought it too was after Ms. Beyer became mayor. Regardless of that, most children have dreams. Some of them are extremely talented. Some of them will realize their dreams and others will not. As for the cheerleader, they are acting as an extracurricular group with provisions from the school. The same can be said for soccer or track. They are raising money by working for it with car washes and such. If you want to help kids with dreams, then start a fund for all of them, not just one of them.

Gross Lake

I'm calling to complain about Grayslake's lakes. They are not only gross and weed infested, but they are terrible to swim in. Most of the fish wash up on the shore dead. The bottoms of the lakes are just plain gross. I think Third Lake, Grayslake, and Round Lake should do something about these lakes.

Tell the feds

This is to 'Stop the horns' petitioners. What is needed is a statewide hotline number for people who want to sign the Antioch petition. The railroads are federal. They answer to nobody and set their own rules. It is time that everyone get together and show them that the people still rule this country.

Bullseye

This is regarding the mother who was trying to potty train the son. I knew a mother who had a target. Her son would try to aim for the target and when he was finished he would get some kind of reward. Good praise and clapping and telling him what a good job he has done is important too.

Not toying around

We have a few young neighbors who are in competition to get the most brightly colored plastic toys in their yard. It looks like a nursery school playground. I wonder if they think that looks nice. It certainly does not appeal to me. It doesn't appeal to my sense of justice to their children by filling up the landfill when their children won't play with them in just a few years. I think they should save their money and put it in the bank for college or something.

Library be gone

What happened with Lipservice this week? It really stinks. I'm sick of hearing about that stupid library in Grayslake. None of us care. You have three gigantic calls in there about it. I thought they were supposed to write to the editor. Let's see something a little more interesting than this stupid Grayslake Library. Who cares?

Show some care

I'm responding to the call 'Still need help.' The parents of that handicapped child had written to the president of the school board and had even gone so far to write to the regional superintendent to indicate there was a problem in the district. The parents have still not received a response from any of those parties. I think it is very sad when parents care as much as they do and find their child might as well not exist as far as the district is concerned. This is a big issue and I believe everyone should be aware of it. This could be any child. Anyone could need special services if they were ill or had a car accident. That is what everyone should be aware of. That child was everyone's child. Let's make sure that every child in the school is getting a good education. We should ask why the private schools are seeing dramatic increases in enrollment. It is because there is a lot of disappointment in the public schools. Let's vote for a new community school district and get things going in the right direction.

Direct from Naperville

I was misquoted when I called for another grocery store in Mundelein. You quoted me as saying I moved from Mundelein to Mundelein. I moved from Naperville where we had two Dominicks within 15 minutes from our home.

Bump around

This is in response to 'Speeding kills.' I am not one of the marons who speeds up and down Bolles Rd in Antioch. I don't even know where it is. I would say that speed bumps won't help because people will go around them and wreck the shoulder or people's yards. Maybe you should try a community beautification program to get people to slow down and look around them. Some communities make you want to speed up. Antioch is one of them. Just in case you were wondering, I always slow down to check and see if I have hit someone.

We need sleep

This is in response to the article in LIPSERVICE called 'Stop horns.' We are in complete agreement with you. The horns are getting horrible. We cannot sleep at night anymore.

Winners not losers

I'm calling about the two boys who tried to cross Lake Michigan on a rowboat. I am one of their friends and I feel they did not get a fair cut because everybody made them look like bad guys. They are not bad guys. They are the good guys and they are real winners.

Steep fees

I would like to respond to the people who complain about the cost of Lake Villa Township baseball. They should try an Antioch youth football program. We pay over $60 to register, then get hit with a pancake breakfast at $20 for each child, then 100 raffles tickets for each child, then each child sells candy on top of that. All of this is for seven games. In comparison, baseball plays at least 15 games. You pay a $50 average entry fee and you only pay a $50 raffle fee that gives your money back when you sell the tickets. The cost comparison is obvious, especially when you compare the quality of Lake Villa baseball to other communities. It is too bad that other people don't even appreciate it.

Rich accord

If you are against the GATT Accord then I think you'll appreciate hearing this. In the Congressional Report from Congressman Phil Crane, it says they are being forced to raise taxes by more than $12 billion to make up for the tariff revenues that would theoretically be lost if the GATT Accord is ratified.

Something crooked

Ameritech installed telephone poles along Quentin Rd and Rte 22 in Lake Zurich. They are crooked. I can't believe it. This is blight on our community. Our village should do something. I would think they have better technology than that. Those lines should be buried. This is a nice community and I cannot believe that no one is concerned that the telephone poles are straight or not.

Slippery when wet

This is a complaint about a health club in the Vernon Hills area. They should call it the hazard club. They have signs around the pool saying 'Slippery when wet.' It is a shame they can't think of a way to get the floor less slippery. I have seen several people fall already. Does it take a serious accident before the health club officials are notified. Maybe their superiors should make a visit and see what kind of conditions are at this health club.

Boot them out

I think the U.S. should have a very strong policy against illegal aliens. I don't think we should help Cuba at all. They were happy to follow Castro for 40 years and threatened the U.S. constantly. Now that the Soviet Union won't bankroll them any more they want us to help them. No way. Let them stay home and get rid of Castro themselves. If they want to run out of their country by the thousands then they certainly have enough people to overthrow Castro. Haiti is even worse. Any country that chants hate about the U.S. doesn't need our help. Mexico and Central America have NAFTA and have many of our jobs. They don't deserve to come here either. Once they get into this country illegally, boot them out and so we don't have to support their entire families with our welfare money.

Crusades

The Christians are coming, the Christians are coming! Is everyone in this country asleep or have they noticed that our moral compass is being turned inside out by the new left-wing thinkers in the country? Every time the Christian right is mentioned in political circles, it is meant to evoke fear in the hearts of man. Why is this revisionism allowed by the people of this country who are generally good, god-fearing individuals? To make matters worse, anyone who is decadent has only become so because society has caused it and therefore should be championed for their condition. And because society has caused their dilemma, they are owed something by society. Many examples of human refuse are no longer responsible for their actions because they did not have a chance in life, or their freedoms have somehow been infringed upon.

Of course, if the new historians are to be believed, the Christian right would be more than gleeful to put people like this away forever because the Christian right is intolerant of other's freedoms. With that in mind, the dangerous Christian right should be stopped, or surely this country would soon make Hitler look like a spoiled neighborhood bully. The truth is, this country was founded on Christian principles as 'one nation under God.' It was also founded on religious freedom. When was the last time you read a headline about a drive-by shooting by Christian right fundamentalists? I'm not talking about some nut who took it upon himself to shoot an abortion doctor. You cannot condemn an entire movement by one of its members or the left would have to embrace Joycelyn Elders as their national spokeswoman. How evil is the Christian right when you have the likes of Paul Simon, Janet Reno, and Donna Shalala treading dangerously close to censorship based on their own narrow set of beliefs? Wake up America,

Worthless petition

This is to Mr. 'Sound horns' in LIPSERVICE. You should know your petition is not going to get very far. It is a federal regulation to sound horns within the city limits whenever they come to a public crossing. If you think you are going to change it with your petition, you are wrong. It is a federal regulation and it is there for your safety. If you do get it repealed I hope you are the next one to get hit.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

ATG celebrates 30th year

CHAMPAIGN—Attorneys' Title Guaranty Fund, Inc. (ATG), a lawyer-owned title insurance company headquartered in Champaign, has announced the celebration of its 30th anniversary year during summer and fall of 1994. Several top-producing ATG shareholders have law offices in Lake County, including Donald W. Kahn at 150 E. Cook Ave. in Libertyville. "Thanks to the devotion of our attorney members, ATG has grown in 30 years from a modest organization processing a handful of transactions per year to a leading provider of residential title services in Illinois," said Peter J. Birnbaum, ATG president and chief executive officer. "Our philosophy is that consumers deserve access to legal counsel when making the most significant investment of their lives. Lawyers and their clients believe in this concept. It has been critical to our success in the past and will serve as the foundation of our success in the years to come." Attorneys' Title Guaranty Fund, Inc.

was founded in Champaign in 1964. Through its 3,500 members, ATG strives to keep lawyers involved in real estate transactions for the benefit of the client.

Home child care providers

WAUKEGAN—The need for responsible and nurturing adults to provide quality infant and toddler care in their homes is ever increasing. The Lake County Business Partnership (LCBP) Child Care Initiative is a unique partnership between Lake County corporations, child welfare agencies and child care providers. Information and workshops include help to set up a business, to secure a DCFS license, sharpen skills on working with children and parents, curriculum ideas and CPR/first aid training. Ongoing technical assistance and referrals are provided. Some equipment assistance may also be available, in addition to an equipment lending library. LCBP is coordinated and overseen through the United Way of Lake County. For further information on becoming a provider, call Dena Thompson at ChildServ, 263-2200.

Abbott to acquire nutrition co.

ABBOTT PARK—Abbott Laboratories and Puleva Union Industrial y Agroganadera, S.A. have signed a letter of intent for Abbott to acquire Puleva's nutrition business. "This acquisition would allow Abbott to strengthen considerably its market position in Spain and in other countries in southern Europe," said J. Duncan McIntyre, senior vice president, international operations. "Puleva has excellent research and development capabilities, manufacturing facilities and marketing presence that would enhance our worldwide efforts in nutrition," McIntyre said. The letter of intent provides for a fixed payment in the range of $120 million for nutritional operating assets. A definitive agreement is expected to be reached later in 1994, pending completion of Abbott's due diligence review of Puleva's nutrition business and other terms and conditions. Completion of the acquisition is anticipated before the end of 1994. Puleva Union Industrial y Agroganadera, S.A. is a dairy and nutrition company in Spain.

Maker has sweet opening for candy lovers

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

Probably more and more Lake County residents will soon have a Jelly Belly. But this is not a health concern about a growing midsection. It is a popular candy made by the Goeltz Confectionery Company in North Chicago.

The company opened a retail store next to the factory for customers who can't get enough of the company's confectionery delights. Over 140 different candies will be available to browsers with a sweet tooth. Featured are the internationally famous Jelly Belly jelly bean in 40 flavors, Candy Corn, Chocolate Covered Macadamias and Licorice Pastels.

The 600-square foot retail store, located at 1539 Morrow Ave, will be the only place outside of California where customers can buy Belly Flops, which are jelly beans that don't live up to the manufacturer's high standard of color and appearance. Before the opening, the various candy products have been available at Jewel, Walgreen's, and specialty candy and gourmet food shops.

"Our candy is an expensive product," said Bill Kelley, president of the company, indicating that price is only a by-product of high quality standards. "We know who our customer is and that is who we manufacture our product for."

The company has done something right. Headquartered in San Rafael, Calif., the company popularized Candy Corn when it began manufacturing in 1898. In 1914, Goeltz opened its second manufacturing plant in North Chicago. The company's total manufacturing and warehouse space in Illinois and California now exceeds 350,000 square feet.

The North Chicago plant reached its maximum manufacturing capacity in 1992, and now ships in extra product from California for redistribution. The company owns land just across the Wisconsin border for future expansion.

The retail store is open to the public Monday-Friday 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The store telephone number is 689-8950.

EHS Hospital employees volunteer for restoration

EHS Good Shepherd employees have undertaken an operation that will have a healthy environmental impact on the Flint Creek area of the hospital's campus.

More than 30 hospital staff members armed with chain saws, clippers, weed whackers, rakes and cutting tools mounted an assault on buckthorn and other pesky vegetation threatening an oak tree savanna located on hospital property south of Rte. 22.

The effort is part of a larger conservation project that will include the restoration of a portion of Flint Creek that flows through 2,200 feet of hospital property.

David Anderson, vice president of patient care and clinical services at EHS Good Shepherd, pointed out, "As a property owner along Flint Creek, we are eager to cooperate with other homeowners, the Citizens for Conservation (CFC) and conservation-minded individuals and organizations in efforts to restore this waterway."

The hospital has already applied for a $39,000 grant from the Ill. Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) to participate in the areawide effort to clean up and restore Flint Creek. The balance of the $65,000 restoration project will be covered by EHS Good Shepherd if the IEPA grant is awarded.

Although the IEPA may not award the money until the end of the year, crews of hospital employees have initiated work in the creek area under the guidance of CFC.

The EHS Good Shepherd conservation committee volunteered to assist with the project and helped recruit individuals from around the hospital, including representatives from administration, housekeeping, emergency medicine, finance and psychiatric services.

Anderson noted that the hospital employees involved in the project worked hard, but also gained useful knowledge about the environment. "The participants learned about the history of oak savannas, including how the area originally looked and the positive effect our efforts will have."

Chicago retail vacancy shows decline

In the metro Chicago area retail market, the vacancy rate during the first half, 1994, declined to 8.3 percent from 9 percent, according to a CB Commercial Real Estate Group survey of 79.7-million square feet of community/ neighborhood and strip centers. The survey, which takes inventory of vacancies in centers in excess of 50,000 square feet, excludes regional malls.

Marketwide—looking just at the Chicago area's 64.8 million square feet of community/neighborhood centers, CB Commercial's survey showed a nominal decline in vacancies to 7.5 percent from 7.6 percent. Included are 4-million square feet of power centers, clusters of big box users and category killers, developed primarily since 1990 with a current vacancy rate of 1.9 percent.

Vacancies also are down to 15 percent from 16.3 percent in the metro area's 10.9-million square feet of unanchored strip/in-line centers. The decline, according to Caruso, is due in part to the redevelopment of existing centers, which are being reconfigured for larger users and reducing small shop space—which has proven more difficult to lease. In areas with the largest concentration of strip/in-line centers, vacancies dropped to 12.5 percent from 14 percent in the far west suburbs, with a base of 2.7 million square feet; and to 13 percent from 14.9 percent in the northwest suburbs, with a base of 1.9 million square feet.

The Chicago retail market continues to expand due to demand-driven development, according to Caruso, who said 2.3-million square feet of new centers—in excess of 50,000 square feet—came on-line during the first six months of the year.

CB Commercial's report shows construction in progress currently totals 4-million square feet of 50,000-square-foot-plus centers. The bulk is 3.7-million square feet of community/neighborhood centers, including 2.4-million square feet of new power centers.

More than 50 proposed new centers, currently in planning stages, top 9-million square feet. Power centers constitute some 5.5-million square feet of planned new development.

Clark to acquire State Oil of Grayslake

Clark Refining & Marketing, Inc. announced that an agreement was reached with State Oil Company of Grayslake to acquire 35 retail gasoline and convenience stores located in the northwest suburbs of Chicago.

Clark is planning to take possession of the retail stores on Oct. 1 of this year, subject to the completion of the review of environmental, real estate and other related issues to the sale.

"The acquisition of the State Oil stores is part of Clark's growth strategy," explained Brandon Barnholt, executive vice president for Clark.

"With one of our refineries located right here in the Chicago area, the State Oil acquisition offers an attractive opportunity to increase our presence in the Chicago market."

State Oil Company, an Illinois corporation since 1945, was acquired by Bill and Peter Anest in 1973. "The 35 stores being acquired by Clark are only a part of our operation," said Bill Anest.

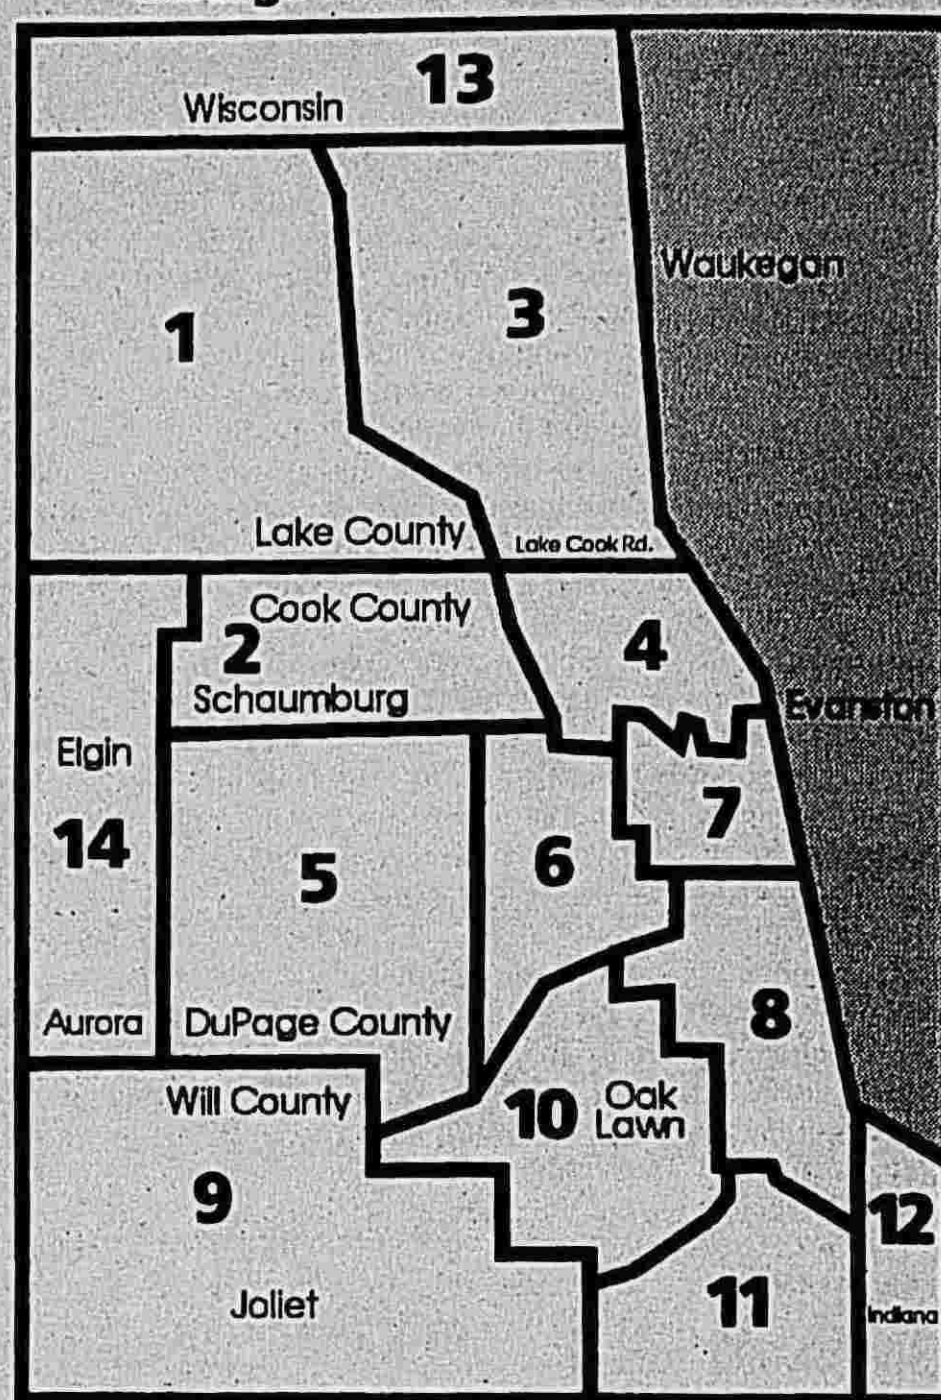

"State Oil will continue to supply other dealer owned and operated stores. Our emphasis will be on assisting our existing dealers in upgrading their stores, expansion of our dealer network, and in the acquisition of new property." State Oil Company is one of the largest wholesale distributors in the midwest.

Clark is an independent petroleum refiner-marketer with sales in excess of $2 billion per year and over 5,500 employees.

Clark owns and operates 14 product distribution terminals and over 800 retail gasoline and convenience stores in 12 states. Clark is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Horsham Corporation.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

How is your 'curb appeal'?

A prospective buyer pours over homes for sale as advertised in the newspaper and a curious thing happens, as they all begin to look the same. With the commonly seen front door, windows and a few bushes, it is easy to become bored and confused.

Unfortunately, people do not generally buy from a newspaper photo. They become emotionally involved when directly experiencing a specific home. The ad will give some enticement, but the true involvement comes from pulling up outside and deciding at that point if this qualifies for being their next home.

That is why "curb appeal" is such an important aspect of buyer involvement. You have often heard the saying, "You only have one chance to make a first impression." This applies heavily to the purchase of real estate. With the intense competition from model homes with plenty of dollars invested in sophisticated landscaping, your home needs to be in the competitive mode.

Many times the newer the home, the more scarce the landscaping. With the hundreds of items one must install on the interior, the exterior gets a few flowers and a bush and looks start and uncared for. Older homes have quite a different problem. Mature landscaping, if not regularly serviced, can take over and crowd and hide the home, causing an "abandoned" look. Often the homeowner will be reluctant to invest money in flowers and shrubs due to the life expectancy and the seasonal lifespan. If you are serious about selling, "staging" the exterior is as important to buyer involvement as an attractive interior. Getting the buyer through the front door to see the spectacular inside requires an acceptable first impression. Here are a questions to ask yourself when selling your home:

•Does the home look like it just landed on the lot? If the home has nothing to embellish the exterior, the front of the home may look monotonous and lacking dashes of color to make it interesting.

•Are the light fixtures on the front porch and the garage sparkling clean and free of old leaves and spider webs? A little glass cleaner and elbow grease can make the difference here. Don't miss the doorbell, either. Greasy, black marks and dirt are very obvious when the prospective buyer comes through the front door. Shine up brass kick-plates, clean side lights on doors and remove webs and faded decorations.

Replace door decorations with a current theme item, and replace old doormats with another that is more inviting and cheerful. Fresh paint on doors really clinch the cared for look.

•If your home has mature landscaping, this may be the time to call in a professional to cut back and manicure thick vegetation. You can't "sell" it if you can't "see" it. Overpowering trees and bushes that hide windows make the inside dark and the outside unattractive.

•The final test is simple. Cross the street and look at your home and ask yourself, "Would I buy this home?"

Homes, multi-family permits increase

Total permits for new homes and multi-family housing in the Chicago metropolitan area increased 8 percent from the level reported in 1993. Home permits rose 4 percent, and multi-family housing increased 25 percent.

The entire metropolitan area issued permits for 2,260 single family homes compared with 2,165 in 1993. The City of Chicago reported a 104 percent increase in single family home permits (28 to 57). Homes rose 5 percent in the suburbs (from 1,886 last year to 1,978), and the unincorporated areas reported a 10 percent decrease (251 last year to 225).

permits for 550 multi-family housing units against 439 units in June, 1993.

Total building permit values for all types of construction (residential, commercial, industrial, etc.) totaled $752,740,604, an increase of 26 percent from $596,736,411 in 1993. Total building values rose 2 percent in Chicago, increased 37 percent in the suburbs, and decreased 18 percent in the unincorporated areas.

The June seasonally adjusted annual housing rate declined 3 percent from May, 1994. Permits were issued at an annual housing rate equivalent to 30,792 housing units (23,952 homes and 6,840 multi-family housing units). The May rate was for 31,632 housing units (25,164 homes and 6,468 multi-family housing units).

The Rockford metropolitan area reported a 6 percent increase in total new housing activity. Permits were issued for 130 single family homes compared with 149 in 1993. Multi-family housing permits reported 68 in 1994 compared to 38 last year. All building permit values totaled $24,724,129, an increase of 21 percent from $20,467,394 in 1993. Griefnotes

Why is there such an emphasis on death and grief today?

There have been great advances in medical science which have removed death from the daily lives of most Americans. Because of this we are generally unfamiliar with death and grief. We are fortunate that our experience with death has lessened, but nevertheless it's important to learn about the things we can do to help ourselves and friends. Making wills and understanding how to help our grieving friends will help us cope better when the stress of a death comes into our lives. Avoiding death by ignoring it, by not making wills or by not going to funerals or visitations is a denial of reality!

PUBLIC NOTICE
Notice of Letting
Long Beach Drive Storm Sewer Community Development Block Grant
Grant Township
Sealed proposals will be received at the Grant Township Hall, 411 Washington Street, Ingleside, Illinois, until 3:00 P.M., local time, September 22, 1994, for the Long Beach Drive Storm Sewer. The proposals shall then be publicly opened and read.
Proposals shall be submitted on the form furnished by the owner which may be obtained from the office of Gewalt Hamilton Associates Inc., 3100 Dundee Road, Northbrook, IL 60062, Telephone (708) 272-7750, during normal working hours. Proposals shall be plainly marked "Bid Proposal Long Beach Drive Storm Sewer".
A twenty dollar ($20) non-refundable deposit payable to Gewalt Hamilton Associates Inc. is required for the plans, specifications, and bid documents. The bid documents will be available on September 4, 1994, and thereafter.

All work shall be completed in accordance with the "Standard Specifications for Road and Bridge Construction", adopted July 1, 1994. The right is reserved to reject any and all proposals and to waive technicalities. Proposal guarantee in the amount of 10% of the amount of the bid will be required. The guarantee may be in the form of a Certified or Cashiers' Check, Bid Bond, or Cash.
As this project is federally funded, all labor, standard, and equal opportunity regulations will be enforced. The contractor for this project will be required to comply to the greatest extent feasible with all Section 3 Regulations Pertaining to Provisions of Opportunities for training and employment to lower income residents of the project area and to the provisions that contracts for work in connection with the project be awarded to business concerns located in, or owned in substantial part by, persons residing in the area of the project.

Not less than the prevailing rate of wages as found by Lake County or the Department of Labor or determined by the Court of Review shall be paid to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics performing work under this contract.
Any contract or contracts awarded under this invitation for Bids are expected to be funded in part through the HUD program for Community Development Block Grants. Neither the County of Lake nor HUD will be a party to this invitation for Bids or any resulting Contract.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE NINETEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT OF LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS ESTATE OF
WALENTYNA STEFANIAK, GENERAL NO. 94 P 754
Deceased

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION AND CLAIMS
NOTICE is given of the death of WALENTYNA STEFANIAK. Letters of Office were issued on August 22, 1994 to JUDITH SWANSON, 9102 Carmel Ct., Spring Grove, IL 60081 whose attorney is JAMES LUMBER, 397 Lake Street, Antioch, IL 60002.

NOTICE is given to possible UNKNOWN HEIRS or LEGATEES who are not named in a Petition filed in the above proceedings to probate a Will, and whose names or addresses are not stated in the Petition that an Order was entered by the Court on August 22, 1994, admitting the Will to probate.

When a Will has been admitted to probate, you have the right within 42 days after the effective date of the original Order of Admission to file a Petition with the Court to require proof of the Will by testimony of the witnesses to the Will in open Court or other evidence, as provided in Section 5/6-21 (Formal Proof of Will) of the Probate Act (Estatutes) 755 ILCS 5/6-21. You also have the right under Section 5/8-1 (Contest of Admission of Will to Probate) of the Probate Act (Estatutes) 755 ILCS 5/8-1 to contest the validity of the Will by filing a Petition with the Court within six (6) months after admission of the Will to Probate.

Claims against the estate may be filed in the office of the Clerk of Circuit Court, 18 N. County Street, Waukegan, IL 60085, Room C-104, or with the representative, or both, on or before March 7, 1995, which date is not less than six (6) months from the date of the first publication of this Notice and any claim not filed within that period is barred. Copies of the claim filed with the Clerk must be mailed or delivered to the representative/attorney within ten (10) days after it has been filed.

ADOPTION- A LOVING ALTERNATIVE. Dr. Dad and creative, at home Mom thank you for considering the gift of life. We understand this is a tough time but your concern fills our hearts with love and hope. Our loving, secure home is just waiting for the laughter of children. Medical, legal, counseling, and court approved living expenses paid. Information confidential. Please call our attorney at (708)957-6446.

ADOPTION-TRUST US WITH YOUR GREATEST GIFT. Let us help you to give your precious baby everything you could wish for. If for any reason you are unable to raise your baby yourself- please trust us to fulfill your hopes and dreams. Your trust and wishes will be honored. The baby will have a lifetime of love and happiness with a full time Mom and adoring Dad. We live in a beautiful suburban home and will provide an excellent education and financial security. Confidential, medical, legal, counseling and court approved living expenses paid. Please let us help by calling our attorney at (708)957-6843.

FINANCIALLY SECURE COUPLE wants to adopt newborn. Call Debbie and Steve collect (708)295-9515.

ADOPTION- A FAMILY DREAM. One of the reasons there is a little extra sunshine, laughter and happiness in the world is because of children. Because we are childless, there haven't been too many sunny days. We know you can brighten our world with a child that will be guided with love and tenderness, and guaranteed security. Medical/Legal/Counseling/Court approved living expenses paid. Confidential. Contact our attorney at (708)957-6835.

ADOPTION: Abundant love, laughter, secure life await your newborn. Peace of mind for you. Loving father, stay-at-home mom. Expenses: Wendy and John 1-800-727-9662.

WE CAN PROVIDE A CHILDHOOD filled with warmth, security, values, and unconditional love from Mom and Dad; a spacious home in a wooded setting complete with a friendly golden retriever; and loving Grandparents nearby waiting to give pony rides. If this life is what you would want for your baby, please call us at 1-800-819-7352 or our attorney Glenna at 1-800-241-5384. Jack and Andrea.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

G: Dear...Search: I am writing this letter on behalf of my fellow co-workers in hopes that you will give us a quick response. We work for a department within a medium-size corporation where five of us work very closely together and like a well-oiled machine, depend on each other to fall back on when the work load starts to pile up. We are close in that all five of us have worked together with the most recently hired two years ago. We know all about each other's personal lives and socialize outside of work like a family. Some would say this may not be health, but we constantly receive high praise for our teamwork efforts and we're proud of that. A few weeks ago without any knowledge to any of the other four of us, one of our team came in to work on Monday morning and went in to the boss' office and told him of an offer made by another company over the weekend that could not be passed up. Our teammate was out the door within a half-hour. The next morning it was left to the other four of us in the department to clean out the desk and make room for the next individual who could walk right in to the position. While cleaning out the desk, we were shocked at some of the things we found which were obviously never meant for our eyes (or anyone else's for that matter). Working materials were missing, scores of reports that had never been completed, group projects that had been turned in with only this person's name on them, as well as personal items that made us realize we didn't know this person at all. "Sneak" is the only word that comes to mind. It is hard to remain objective about a person after finding out that you really didn't know them at all. Now comes the problem. One of our group received a call last evening from this person after three weeks of them being gone. This person said that perhaps they made a mistake in taking this new job, and had contacted the department head and asked for their position back. The boss informed us that they are taking this under consideration. Keep in mind that we never went back to our supervisor to tell him of our findings the day we cleaned out the desk. Truth is, none of us want this person back. We all agree that after knowing what we know, we would find it hard to welcome this person back. Although this individual does not know that we cleaned out their desk, if they did we can't imagine them ever facing us again. What do you suggest we do to let the boss know that we hope that they will not be rehiring this person, for fear our "well oiled machine" will have a wrench thrown in it? If at all possible please respond quickly as time is crucial. Our direct line to our department is (# withheld). Thank you in advance.

A: Ask for time to sit down as a group with your department head. Remain professional, express to him your concerns as you do here. Your past performance as a group should speak for itself. Perhaps at that point he will see that a "no deposit, no return" clause should fall in to play.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

Faces of Fall

Prep football showcases 'Faces of Fall'

The Labor Day holiday usually carries with it connotations of fall, one being the football season. Both the National Football League and college teams use the occasion to kick off their fall schedules.

Although the prep football season is entering its third week, Lakeland Newspapers is using the occasion to dedicate this special issue to those high school athletes who clash out on the gridiron week after week in the hopes of gaining playoff berths.

For senior stars, it is their last chance to prove their worth to college scouts possibly sitting in the stands. For underclassmen, it's a time to showcase their potential as prospective starters for this or next season.

As Lakeland Newspapers honors those football "Faces of Fall," it also wants to remind athletes, parents and spectators that prep sports also include golf, cross country, soccer, girls tennis, volleyball and field hockey, as well as other sports and activities, such as cheerleading.

In this issue, Lakeland photographers visited each school in its coverage area and gathered rosters of each team. Some programs field larger rosters than others, but they all signify those athletes who have sweated it out on the practice field and during the off season in an effort to be a member of the team. In addition, a list of remaining schedules will allow readers to plan ahead for future contests.

In regards to the team effort, athletes are also reminded of all the work parents do as volunteers. From manning the concession stands to cooking varsity breakfasts, parents devote their time and energy as well in making their program a success for all. They are the silent troops working behind the scenes. Lakeland would also like to extend a hearty "Job well done!" to those dedicated moms and dads.

As the season progresses, teams will be battling each other in local rivalries in their quests for conference titles and playoff action. Football is a game of winners and losers—tears of victory and defeat will be shed—but in the end, all benefit from the spirit of competition.

Lakeland Newspapers salutes those football "Faces of Fall."

HOPKINS

If you are looking for a place to put a porch swing, take a look at the Hopkins. The long, covered porch of this Country-Contemporary home sweeps across most of the front facade and along one side.

This plan is designed to please families who want room for both individual and group activities. Gathering spaces, formal and informal, are at the core, master suite to the right, living and dining area to the left. Secondary bedrooms are on the top floor.

The spacious master suite is more than just a place to sleep. A fireplace spreads its warmth throughout the suite. The huge, private bathroom features a shower, twin basins, separate toilet and bidet, roomy walk-in closet, and a recessed spa to erase the tensions of a busy day. A private entrance to the back deck lets you enjoy the sun, weather permitting.

The family room, with two-story ceiling and fireplace with built-in wood box, is a cozy place for family and friends to watch television or play the latest board games. Nestled between the family room and master suite is a handy utility room.

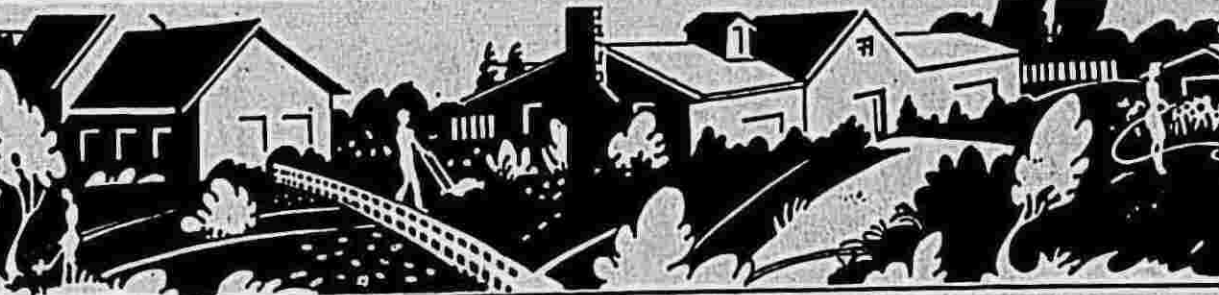

A raised dishwasher, cooktop, freezer and large walk-in pantry make the walk-through kitchen a dream for the cook in the house. This configuration allows meals to be served easily in the recessed breakfast nook or in the adjacent dining room.

A small home office, full bathroom, and living room with fireplace and windows galore, complete the first floor plan.

On the top level are two modest bedrooms. One is octagonal in shape, with coffered vault and windows all around. The other, perfect for use as a guest suite, has a private bath. In addition, there is a sewing room, which could be used as another bedroom. Topping off the home is skylit, 443 square foot unfinished attic.

The lowest level houses a two-car garage, with a roomy dark room for the photographer in the family, a half-bath and extra storage area.

For a study kit of the HOPKINS (402-24), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

NATURE'S BOUNTY

Corn bread

- 1 cup white flour
- 1 cup corn flour or fine cornmeal
- 2 Tbls. sugar
- 2 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt 2 Tbls. melted butter
- 2 eggs 1 cup milk

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Combine the white flour, corn flour or cornmeal, sugar, baking powder, and salt. In a separate bowl, beat the eggs; then stir in the milk and butter. Pour the wet ingredients into the dry ones, and stir just enough to combine, in about 15 or 16 strokes. Overmixing causes the corn bread to be tough. Pour into a buttered baking pan and bake until the corn bread is firm and a toothpick comes out clean, about 30 minutes.

Makes one 8 by 8-inch loaf.

Bears, Wildcats enjoy fast starts with two early wins

Marengo 32, Grayslake 7
The Rams only touchdown came on a 20-yard pass from Lance Palo to Jerel Tompkins. Rams, 0-2, host St. Edward Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

Wheaton N. 48, Carmel 33
Wheaton North evened the Carmel mark at 1-1. Nick Yeager quarterbacked the Corsairs, scored a touchdown, threw a TD pass and Ruben Rivera scored three touchdowns and ran for more than 200 yards, but it was not enough against the state-ranked opponent. Carmel begins East Suburban Catholic Conference play by hosting Marian Catholic at 8 p.m. Sept. 9 in Mundelein.

Lake Zurich 34, Round Lake 0
Mike Schauderk rushed for 270 yards and scored three touchdowns as the Bears blew a close game open in the second half. The 2-0 Bears host Cary-Grove for a 7:30 p.m. game to start the Fox Valley Conference season Sept. 9. Round Lake, 0-2, hosts Driscoll Sept. 9.

Cary-Grove 20, Grant 6
Ryan Nickolich was too much for Grant to stop as the Trojan runner made Grant pay for turnovers with 162 yards and a touchdown. Grant, 0-2, score came on a Dave Stone 17-yard run. Grant hosts Montini Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

Jacobs 27, Wauconda 6
Wauconda's Willie Brown returned a fourth-quarter punt 93 yards to give the Bulldogs its only points. Wauconda is home against Immaculate Conception Friday at 7:30 p.m.

North Chicago 34, Warren 30
North Chicago is a surprising 2-0 in upsetting Warren. Warren's Zach Florio and Brian Kuhar scored two touchdowns each, but it was not enough as a fumble recovery turned into North Chicago's winning touchdown. Warren, 1-1, 0-1 NSC, is at Antioch for a 1 p.m. game Sept. 10.

Zion-Benton 24, Mundelein 20
The Mustangs kept the game close against another tough opponent. Mundelein QB Mike Hodges went to the air frequently, as he completed 14 passes for 191 yards. Zion's Kiki Curry rushed for 210 yards. Mundelein hosts undefeated North Chicago Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Libertyville 28, Antioch 0 Libertyville QB Chris Fulbright threw for 179 yards, including 30-yd and 35-yd passes to receiver Erik Frykholm to complete a 65-yd scoring drive to end the first half. Running back Kevin Dickson broke loose for a 54-yd TD run. Libertyville travels to Zion Saturday, while Antioch hosts Warren.

McHenry 35, Stevenson 14
McHenry sought revenge on Stevenson who had ended McHenry's 33-game winning streak last year. Rob Liszka ran for a 3-yd. TD and QB Ryan Keller threw a 10-yd TD pass to Ryan Consdorf to account for Stevenson's scoring. The Patriots host Fenton Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Go the distance with Ron Santo

On Oct. 9, former All-star third baseman Ron Santo will once again lead the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's 16th annual Ron Santo Walk for the Cure.

Participants may walk, bike, run or rollerblade a 10K course (6.2 miles) at three sites: Lincoln Park at North Ave. along Chicago's lakefront, the Busse Woods Bicycle Trail on Golf Rd. (Rte. 58) just east of Ill. 53 in the northwest suburbs, and at the Ill. Prairie Path at Villa Park in the western suburbs.

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. with the official start at 9 a.m.

There will be lunch, entertainment and prizes to win at all locations. Every participant with pledges of $50 or more will be awarded an official T-shirt.

Santo will sign autographs and cheer on walkers at each site, along with the event's media spokesperson, Dan Roan, WGN-TV's veteran sportscaster.

"We want to make this year's walk a team event, encouraging corporate and employee groups, clubs, scouts, school groups, organizations, fraternities and sororities," Santo said. "And of course, we want to see families and individuals who have made the walk such a tradition."

Johnson gets new role, Weaver to start

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The setting was far from the midst of the 39,472 University of Illinois football fans who were making their way from Soldier Field.

But Johnny Johnson's answers were given in much the same manner as he may have if one closed one's eyes and realized the white-and-red of North Chicago instead of orange and blue.

Johnson, who whipped North Suburban Conference defenses as he led the Warhawks to the playoffs, has found Big Ten life to be one of ups and downs. He pledged a rededicated effort after a 10-9 loss to Washington State.

"I'm not going to hang my head. When we lose, we lose. I'll be reviewing the films as soon as possible," Johnson said.

Johnson started for the Illini in a game which turned out to be a heart-breaking loss. He finished with 220 yards on 20-for-38 with no interceptions. But it was the lack of a running game, four turnovers and the failure to read a quick, blitzing defense which cost Illinois this cool Thursday night.

"It was hard to tell because we were up against such a good defense. Making the right decisions is the biggest thing we will have to assess," Illinois Coach Lou Tepper said of Johnson.

"It was very frustrating," Johnson commented.

Johnson tried to lead Illinois on a last-second, 73-yard touchdown march and did complete passes of 8, 8, 19 and 11 yards. But a costly five-yard penalty meant the difference between a 57-yard field goal try by Bret Scheuplein fall short.

The Illinois scoring plays consisted of more kicking than World Cup soccer, as some scribes noted, played earlier this summer at Soldier Field. Chris Richardson provided kicks of 38 yards in the second quarter for a 3-3 tie; a 28-yarder for a 10-6 deficit and a 43-yarder which cut the lead to one.

"Richardson is so much of a team player he knew the 57-yarder was out of his range. We thought right up until the last second we were going to win," Tepper said.

The game's only TD came on a 71-yard fumble recovery, a school record, by Washington State's Mark Fields. Johnson had a shot at the fleet-footed linebacker.

"I took the wrong angle," he said.

"I was disappointed we caused ourselves so many problems. Johnson blew a time-out early and we could have had use of it at the end. I was disappointed with our offensive execution," Tepper said.

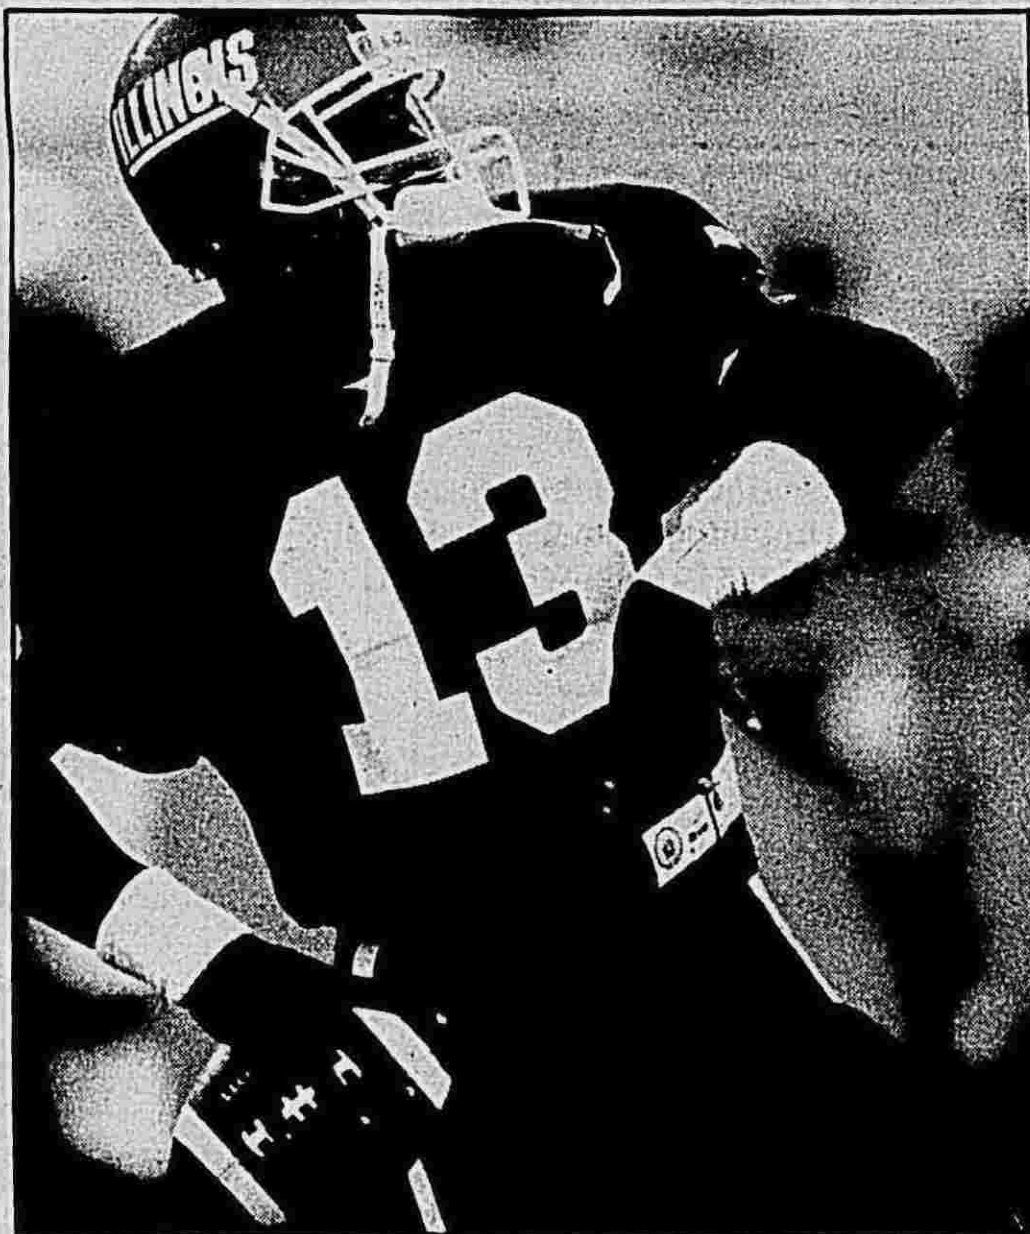

Although John Holecek, one of the "fab four" linebackers was injured with an ankle injury, Illinois still harassed the Washington State offense. Simeon Rice racked up more than 30 yards in losses, including five sacks and eight total tackles.

"It was frustrating for the whole team. We did everything possible to win the game," Rice said.

Illinois did run the ball up and down the field well, the ranked Illini was stopped when the Cougars had to. Illinois dominated the net yardage, 232-95 in passing and 237-157 overall and first downs, 17-8.

On Tuesday, Johnson received the bad news - that Weaver would start against Missouri Sept. 10.

Recalling his past, with the same resolve he showed first with the North Chicago Flames on Sunday afternoons, - a reference which brought a smile on a rough night.

Experience is enjoyable for fans of fighting Illini

STEVE PETERSON

They came early and they were ready.

University of Illinois football fans were equipped with lawn chairs, grills and plenty of food and drink before the football opener against Washington State. But the site had a view of a lake to it instead of near-by cornfields as the team opened its season at Soldier Field.

The weather was perfect - 63 degrees with a slight (for Chicago's lakefront) 10 mph win. The steak sandwiches were ready for consumption just outside the stadium as the 39,472 fans walked in. The only thing negative was the final score - a 10-9 Illinois loss and maybe some traffic headaches.

"We like it. We had two kids who graduated from University of Illinois," Marilyn O'Rourke, who made the trip from Mokena, said. "I love it," Jack Overhaul said. He had one of the longest distances See FANS page C30

Knights preparing for key CFL contest

Like most, the Lake County Knights took the Labor Day weekend off - at least from Chicagoland Football League games.

That will give some early-season aches and pains chances to heal for a big contest down the road. And give Coach Al Clark a chance to seek some offensive linemen.

Ahead is a challenging assignment: at Immaculate Conception High in Elmhurst against DuPage Eagles Sept. 11.

"Just when you think things are starting to jell, we just don't have enough offensive linemen. A line-man's job is not glamorous and I tell them that football does not come first, that religion and family and job do," Coach Clark said.

Despite these conditions, the Knights prevailed over the South Side Hitmen 13-2 to improve to 2-1.

David Ayers and Airlee Williams both caught 5-yard TD passes from Sam Toia.

"The defense continues to amaze me," Clark said.

Dennis Lane, who also fills in at offensive line, won the MVP award. Dan Halverson, John Burns, Erick Henley and even a fullback saw offensive line duty.

The only points scored by the Hitmen came when the Knights punter ran out of his end zone late in the game.

Ahead is a challenging assignment: at Immaculate Conception High in Elmhurst on Sunday, Sept. 11 against DuPage Eagles.

CLC booters prepare for home opener

College of Lake County's men's soccer team figures to have another stiff challenge on its hands when the Lancers open the home season Sept. 10. The opponent for the 2 p.m. match in Grayslake is Bethany Lutheran of Minnesota, that state's champion of 1993.

The Lancers survived a tournament in Springfield in which they dropped two matches but have much to build on. CLC fell to Springfield 3-0, then to Yavapai Junior College of Prescott, Arizona 3-1.

"The first match, we did not play very well at all. You could call it first-match jitters. We were very tight.

We played very well the second match. People came up to me and said they could not believe this was the same team they saw yesterday," CLC Coach Dave Beck said.

Kevin Phunholm, a midfielder from Libertyville, scored the season's first goal. Beck said sophomore goalie Brian Heuder played well.

"He made some spectacular saves in the second match," Beck said. CLC opened Skyway play at Oakton Sept. 8.

Assisi foundation plans walk for the animals

Put your walking shoes on and join the third annual 6K walk-a-thon to benefit the Assisi Animal Foundation's animals. Take a walk through the countryside on Saturday, Sept. 24 at Moraine Hills State Park located north of Rte. 176 on River Road at the White Tail use area. Check in time begins at 9:30 a.m. with the walk starting at 10 a.m.

Two cash prizes are being added this year. A $100 cash prize will be awarded to the group turning in the highest amount of pledges, bringing in $500 minimum. A $25 cash prize will be awarded to the individual turning in the highest amount of pledges, bringing in $100 minimum.

For a sponsor sheet or to sponsor one of the walkers, call (815)923-4615, (815)455-9411, or 382-4125.

Carmel defense set for Marian Carmel High School's defense was tested by one of the best in the team's second non-conference game.

The Wheaton North attack, led by three touchdowns from Jess Clabough, proved to be just too tough as it continually tested Carmel from start to finish in a 48-33 win. The win gained the home team some revenge as Carmel won in 1993.

"They just had a lot of different weapons with two good backs," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Clabough scored on runs of 22, 8, and 1-yard while Steve Havard added a 23-yard run and a 5-yard run and Jay Westra caught a 22-yard TD pass from quarterback Griffith Sontag. Sontag's two-point conversion run gave the Falcons 48 points.

Carmel's offense was no slouch either, fighting back from a 35-19 deficit.

Directed by junior quarterback Nick Yeager, Carmel was led by another 200-yard plus night from Ruben Rivera. Rivera scored on runs of 73, an 85-yard kickoff return and 78 yards. Yeager added a 13-yard run and a two-point conversion.

"It is a day-to-day decision,"

Fitzgibbons said of the quarterback situation. J.R. Ocampo hurt a knee in the opening win over Notre Dame. Fitzgibbons said Yeager has played well as a replacement.

Lineman Rich Bolger, a 6-foot, 1-inch, 205-pounder, and split end Mike Graham also earned coach's kudos.

The East Suburban Catholic Conference battles are next, with Marian Catholic the first league test Sept. 9 at 8 p.m. in Mundelein.

"They run the no back, one-back or two-back offense," Fitzgibbons said.

Racine a second 'home' for Vikings' Kampendahl

Lake County Vikings Coach Kurt Kampendahl will return to the site where some of his greatest moments in football took place.

Lake County downed Chicago Heights Broncos 18-13 for their third win of the season Saturday morning.

The Vikings travel to Racine to battle the Raiders in a 7 p.m. game Sept. 10. Lake County is on a roll with a 3-1 record heading into the Midwest Football League game.

For Kampendahl, the memories will be several from storied Horlick Field.

"I remember when we first won the national championship in 1983. We were 20-0 and were not expected to win and got to win it at home," Kampendahl said.

Kampendahl played 10 years for the Raiders of his 22-year football career. His No. 74 was retired last year during the Vikes-Raiders contest.

"They seem to have had a few

Fans

The idea was to eventually bring more Chicago area alums into supporting Illini athletics. The field was about two-thirds full. The good seats were filled, but there were many open end zone and outer reaches seats available.

"It is great exposure for the University of Illinois and a great opportunity," Gary Wieneke, track and field coach and Illini football fan, said.

Some 30 minutes after a missed field goal of 57 yards spelled doom for the folks from Champaign, a Rock Island resident was getting ready to test traffic.

"It is a good idea that they had the game here because they had an extra home game on their schedule," Greg Colmone said.

The remaining home contests, beginning with the 1 p.m. Sept. 10 game with Missouri, are, of course, back in Champaign.

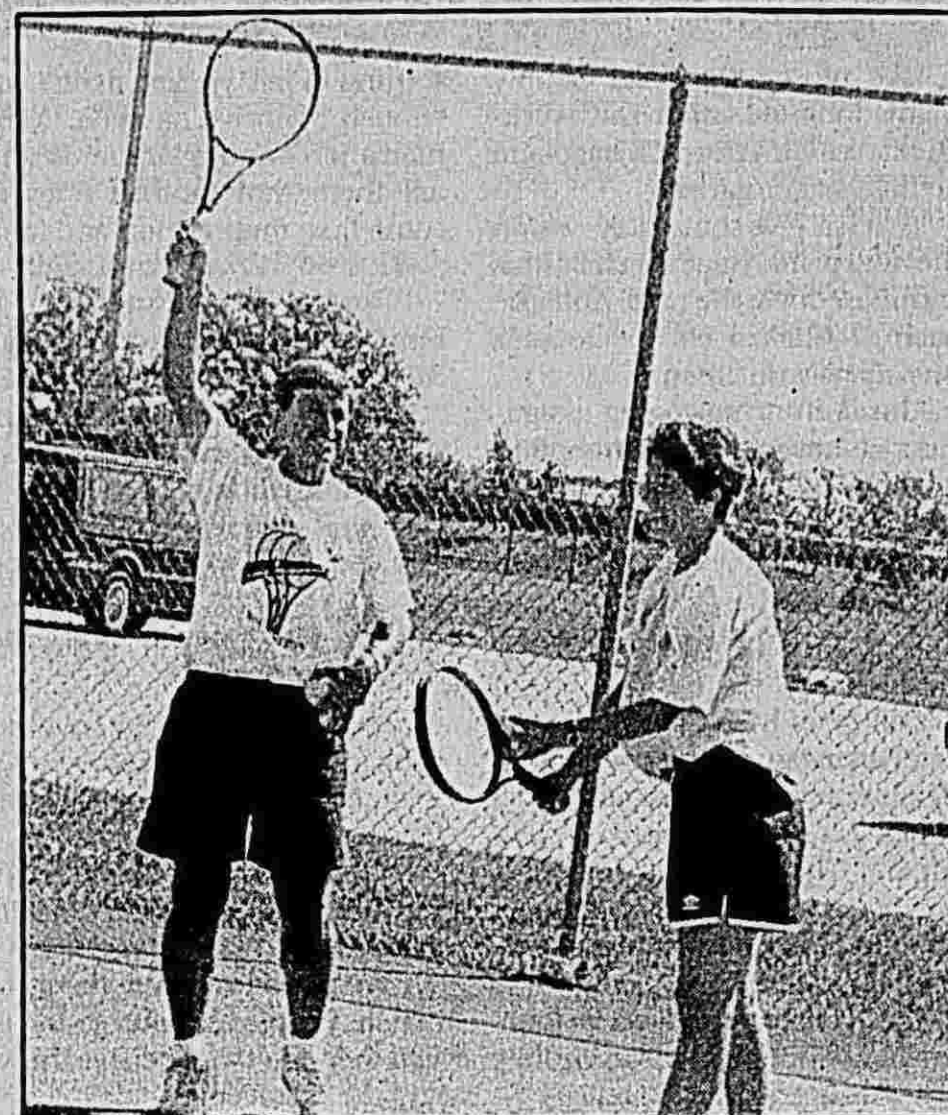

Former LHS star plays for Loyola

Former Libertyville High School volleyball standout, Arian Adams, has made the transition to college volleyball.

Adams is the starting outside hitter for the Loyola University Ramblers.

At the Loyola Invitational, she was named MVP for the Ramblers in matches against Utah State, Furman, Wisconsin-Greenbay and University of Connecticut.

In the title match with University of Connecticut, Adams had 16 kills in a match that U of C won in five games.

Dye wins battle/shares war at Wilmot Speedway

MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Correspondent

Genesee's Gary Dye won a hotly contested 20-lap Wisconsin Modified Challenge Series Round II feature at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway on Saturday, Sept. 3.

Kenosha's Dennis Spitz used two-thirds in the weekend series to earn a share of the Challenge Crown as Dye combined his win with a fourth in the winged feature Friday.

Muskego's Dick Colburn took another step toward the sprint championship by winning the 25-lap Budweiser Racing Series main. Scott Kuxhouse of Antioch won his sixth 20-lap sportsman feature. John Janssen of Spring Grove won his fourth street stock main.

Dye put his Budweiser/M&W Industrial Equipment/KB Fabricating modified into the lead from his outside front row starting berth. Following a caution on lap seven for a two-car tangle in turn one, Spitz shot to the inside.

The two battled wheel to wheel as the race stayed green with Allen Winker, substitute driving for the injured Lenny Ostrowski, Jr., making it a three-way battle.

"It was a great race," said Dye, whose glasses were fogged over in victory lane. "The competition was super. The car ran wherever I wanted. I knew Al and Dennis were right there."

"You know there's three grooves when you can run three-wide as much as we did," said Spitz. "It was a lot of fun, and I'll run three-wide with Gary and Al anytime. They're good, clean competitors."

Colburn put his G&G Trucking/Shaver Construction/Cycle Empire No. 9 in front from his pole position, never relinquishing the lead. Cautions on laps six and 11 saw Allen Winker shooting up on the outside in his "ride the rail" style.

The final 14 laps went non-stop with Winker able to pull even a couple of times, but the veteran Colburn had his car buzzing. Winker was second.

"We had the car buzzing on the outside run," said Colburn, who has a bee on his driver's suit. "The track was really fast up there. Don, my crew chief, set the car up perfectly. I knew Al was coming, and was actually glad to see the lapped traffic as I was able to use it to make sure I knew where he was."

Kuxhouse moved his Herb's Auto Parts/Seamates Charter Service/Hayes Boiler and Mechanical Chevy-powered Oldsmobile onto the outside from his fourth row starting spot and into the lead on lap five. A lone caution two laps later failed to faze Kuxhouse enroute to his 18th overall win of the season. Larry Surlita was second.

Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed resumes action on Friday, Sept. 9, with the rescheduled 13th annual Wilmot Open Sprints sanctioned by the Club/All Star Circuit of Champions and sponsored by Miller Genuine Draft.

CLC spikers gain second, start season on strong note

College of Lake County's women's volleyball team shocked some highly regarded opponents in gaining second place at a Hutchinson, Kan. tournament.

The Lancers fell to Barton County, Kansas 0-15, 9-15 in the title match. "They were No. 2 in the nation in the pre-season polls and we were tired by that match. We worked all day to get there, but they are a good team," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

CLC is at another tourney, at Madison Tech, Sept. 10.

At Hutchinson, CLC lost to Cloud County 7-15, 9-15 but then beat Sward County 15-7, 7-15, 15-9; Independence 7-15, 15-4 and 15-8 and Cowley 15-11, 9-15 and 15-13.

Following the second place in pool play, CLC downed Allen County 15-3, 15-1, Pratt 15-9, 15-4 and Western Nebraska 15-13, 15-11.

Lisa Bochenek is the 1 in the CLC 5-1 set-up this fall and the Warren Township High School grad responded well. She was a perfect 279-279 in setting with 102 assists. She was 84-for-89 in serves with 52 points and 13 aces. "She did a nice job last year, which is why we went to the 5-1," Garcia said.

Natalie Ward led the attack at the net with 123-140 with 38 kills and 27 blocks.

Karen Hartmann was 76-81 in serving with 45 points and 12 aces. She had 82-96 in hits and 26 kills.

Stacey Harrison, a Carmel grad, was 59-62 with 36 points and 7 aces.

Here's a football oddity that seems impossible—but it actually happened... A player once ran for only 5 yards — and yet scored 4 touchdowns!... It happened Nov. 4, 1973 when Bobby Douglass of the Chicago Bears carried the ball only 4 times—but one carry was a 2-yard touchdown run, and the other 3 were each 1-yard TD runs... His total yardage gained rushing was 5 yards, but he had scored 4 touchdowns!

Amazingly, there was once a football game in which both teams lost!... Two Georgia high school teams played each other in 1977 but after the game it was found that both used ineligible players... The Georgia High School Association then gave both teams a loss!

Oddly enough, one college football team plays on a BLUE football field... Boise State University of Idaho installed AstroTurf on their field and made it blue instead of green to match their school colors... It's reportedly the first blue football field ever.
